Foreword

IN PRESENTING the Messenger of 1933, we, the publication staff, invite you to board our gigantic airship and enjoy a vivid résumé of the educational endeavors, outstanding achievements, and inevitable progress of its annual flight. For, in our imagination, we have labored to portray the life at Durham High School as transformed into the modern and colorful world of aviation.

Sponsoring and controlling this flying expedition are our honorable Commissioners of Aeronautics, who represent the Durham Board of Education. It is they who send on its flight the dirigible D. H. S., which symbolizes our high school. As it encounters its hardships mingled with enjoyable pleasures, the Flight Commanders, our Faculty, capably lend their helping hand, and instruct the vast armada of student flyers. According to their scholastic standing, the students don the flying togs of the Senior Aces, the Junior Pilots, or the Sophomore Fledglings. The Coöp Contact Crew and the Post-graduate Endurance Flyers conclude the passenger list. For their entertainment and instruction, many varieties of stunt flights, our extra-curricular activities, are conducted. The air races, our athletic encounters, demonstrate an enthusiastic exhibition on the spirit of the flyers aboard. When the flyers find spare moments, they indulge in the tailspins, which are our enviable sources to wit and humor.

In such a manner, we believe we have presented a clear mirror of nine, well-spent months of hard work, enjoyment, and attainment. We sincerely hope that, through our efforts in the following pages, these events may live through the years and may ever be held in fond remembrance.

FRANK M. MARTIN

Superintendent Durham City Schools

1923-1933

AN EDUCATOR, A SINCERE TEACHER, A NOBLE LEADER, A BUILDER OF YOUTH, AND AN APOSTLE OF FAITH. HE LOVED HIS FELLOW-MEN, HE LOVED GOODNESS AND TRUTH, HE LOVED CHILDREN AND GAVE HIS LIFE FOR THE SAKE OF CHILDHOOD. A MODEST MAN BUT COURAGEOUS, WITH AN UNSHAKEABLE BELIEF THAT GOOD WOULD TRIUMPH OVER EVIL. "HE FASHIONED BY PRAYER, UNTIRING LABOR AND THOUGHT, A TRULY BEAUTIFUL CHARACTER." ABOVE ALL HE WAS A GODLY MAN AND POSSESSED THE DEEPEST RELIGIOUS CONVICTION.

He's Gone

He's gone—

*The early morning stars shone forth, a bright array
To guide him from the earthly bed on which he lay;
Angels, unseen, were softly sent to claim his soul—*

To bless, by freeing him from care, from pain, and dole.

He's gone—

*A leader calm and strong, to all a friend.
Would kind advice with wisdom always lend.
A judge of inner character, with heart of gold,
The goodly shepherd of all youth—his fold.*

He's gone—

*And yet enshrined in many hearts to-day,
His gentle spirit lies, to linger there away,
In many altruistic fields of life he roved—
A man who loved, and was most deeply loved.*

Word of Thanks

FOR three successive years the Messenger has won national recognition, at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Contest. In these past accomplishments lies the challenge which has been handed to us this year. We, the present staff, have taken up that challenge and have given to the publication much of our time, and the best of our talents and abilities. Yet, we are not indifferent to the fact that without the willing and wholehearted coöperation of every individual, we could not have accomplished our task.

For that reason, for invaluable service rendered, we take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation:

To the advertisers, those loyal Durham business men who, in spite of the serious financial situation, have given us the aid without which the first step toward an admirable year book could not have been taken.

To our principal, Mr. W. F. Warren. It was he who advised us as to our business problems, and unselfishly contributed his valuable time in taking many of our pictures. Without his advice and help our annual would have been an expensive undertaking.

To Mrs. G. B. Egerton and Mr. R. E. Freeman, our literary advisers, who gave unsparingly of their time and knowledge to any staff member requiring help.

To all members of literary societies and their advisers. These friends did all within their power to assist with the publication of the Messenger.

To all those who, though not officially connected with the staff, were always willing to assist in the work for which they received no open reward.

Finally, we, the heads of the staff, wish to thank the members of the staff who gave so freely of their time, energy, and ability.

DURHAM HIGH SCHOOL

A Brief History of the Durham City Schools

TODAY our City School System consists of seventeen buildings, three hundred teachers, and ten thousand four hundred pupils. It is hard to realize the development of this vast system from the tiny organization first set up in 1882. We are told that "great oaks from little acorns grow," and it may be interesting to examine and trace the little educational acorn planted by a few brave spirits in September 1882, in an old wooden building known as Wright's factory near the present site of the Norfolk and Western Freight depot. At that time it was given the pretentious name of Durham Graded and High School. There were three hundred eight pupils, five teachers, and the superintendent, Professor E. W. Kennedy, a native of Tennessee who prior to that time had taught in Goldsboro.

Through Professor Kennedy's influence the school board decided on the policy of a bond issue to raise the money necessary to construct an adequate building. A contest in the courts delayed this bond issue till 1888, but at last the public school won. This decision has never been reversed, for no bond election for schools has ever failed in Durham.

Dr. W. K. Boyd in his "Story of Durham" writes thus: "Loyalty to its public school system is a part of the city's unwritten creed and in the establishment of that creed one personality stands out preëminently, William T. Blackwell. He nursed the original law through the legislature; he spent nearly four thousand dollars in litigation in defense of the school, and he flung the challenge to the public in 1886 and secured the operation of the schools when the courts had declared the law of 1881 unconstitutional."

With the bond issue of $15,000 for a new building assured, General J. S. Carr gave land at the corner of Warren and Jackson streets, the present site of Morehead School. The first brick building was erected and named after Mr. Eugene Morehead, a member of the school board, and father of Mr. J. L. Morehead, a lawyer in Durham. The school was opened about 1890.

Mr. Kennedy resigned in 1894 and Mr. C. W. Toms, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, was elected superintendent. He is now President of Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company. The second school building, erected during his administration, was at the corner of Cleveland and Green, now Chapel Hill Street. This was called Fuller School after Mr. Bartholomew Fuller, a member of the first school board in Durham. Mr. Toms had unusual administrative ability and did much to set the standards cherished by us today. He inspired in teachers and pupils great respect for the schools and loyalty to them. Art and manual training were introduced during his administration.

In 1897 Mr. Toms was elected Professor of Pedagogy at the University of North Carolina. He resigned as superintendent, and Mr. W. W. Flowers, a graduate of Trinity College, now Duke University, was elected. Mr. Flowers was the youngest superintendent, being only twenty-one years old, but he proved a very able executive. Mr. Flowers resigned in 1899 to accept a position with the American Tobacco Company. At present he is connected with Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company in New York.

Mr. J. A. Matheson, a teacher in the High School, and a graduate of Davidson College was elected superintendent succeeding Mr. Flowers. Mr. Matheson's administration was marked by great expansion of school facilities. His dream was to have a separate High School building.

In 1901 the corporate limits of Durham were more than doubled in area by extension. In the same year, the people, at an election, authorized the issuance of $10,000 for school buildings. This money was used in building the Edgemont and North Durham Schools. These buildings were first used in the fall of 1901. Mr. J. Henry Highsmith, now supervisor of High Schools in the State Department of Education was first principal of North Durham School and Mr. E. J. Green now Professor of English at Columbia College, South Carolina, was first principal of Edgemont School.

Prior to 1906 the High School was conducted on the second floor of the Morehead School building. The large increase attendance made it advisable to have a separate High School building. In 1905 at a special election, bonds, amounting to $50,000 were issued for constructing a High School building. Land was purchased at the corner of Morris and Watkins Streets, and the Building was erected and formally opened as an independent High School unit in September, 1906. Mr. W. J. Brogden, now Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, was the first principal of the High School as a separate unit.

In the summer of 1906 Mr. Matheson resigned as superintendent to become Professor of Pedagogy at the State Normal College for Women at Greensboro, and was succeeded by Mr. W. D. Carmichael, then principal of the High School. Mr. Carmichael added an impetus for more efficient and liberal scholarship. Mr. Carmichael resigned to take a position with Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company and was succeeded by Mr. E. J. Green who had become principal of the High School in June 1907 upon resignation of Mr. W. J. Brogden. Mr. C. H. Jenkins succeeded Mr. Green as principal, and after a year was succeeded by Mr. M. A. Briggs, now Secretary of the City Board of Education and president of the Austin Heaton Company.

Mr. Green resigned as superintendent in 1915 and was succeeded by Mr. E. D. Pusey, at one time superintendent of Goldsboro Schools. In 1923 an election was called to issue bonds for a new City High School. Bonds were issued to the amount of $650,000 and the Central High School was constructed. Mr. Pusey resigned as superintendent in 1923 and was succeeded by Mr. F. M. Martin, the superintendent of the Petersburg Schools. We are all familiar with the splendid work done by Mr. Martin who died recently. In 1925 the Junior High School was constructed. All school buildings existing in 1901 have been enlarged from time to time, and the city has taken over the school buildings in both East and West Durham and has constructed a new one for primary grades on Holloway Street.

The schools of Durham today enjoy an enviable reputation for efficiency in training boys and girls for a greater citizenship, most of which is due to the fine men who have led Durham Schools.

The Commanders of the Dirigible D. H. S.

In consideration of their special guidance, we take this opportunity to express our appreciation for their aid in making possible the successful flights.

Principal's Aeroplane Message

EVERY part of an aeroplane must function in order to accomplish its work. The great motors must coördinate in every way and be powerful enough to lift the plane above the earth to heights in the skies. A guiding hand must steer with trueness to direct the plane on its journey and cause it to reach finally a worthy destination.

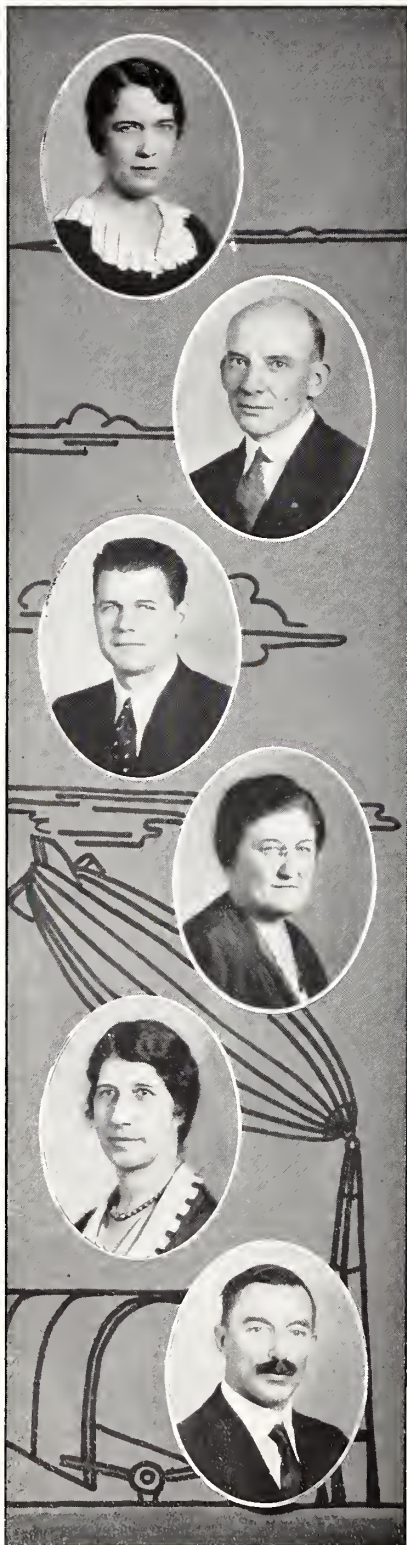

Schools today may be compared to the great planes that start childhood on life's educational journey; lifting them, as it were, to ideal heights by means of true teaching and true guidance, for the betterment of citizenship. They are guided educationally by the counsel and leadership of good teachers and at last, through good influence in home, church, and civic environments are ready, not only to live life more abundantly here on earth, but to ascend to eternity and inherit the kingdom of God.

May the flight of life be true for the youth of our community, state, and nation.

“CONTACT!”

D. H. S. Armada

CLEAR the field! The great Armada of D. H. S. is prepared to depart after another successful year of schooling. Although confronted by financial difficulties, the school forces have united to give the student flyers the greatest opportunities for explorations in the air. The commissioners of Aeronautics with skilled workmanship have managed to keep the dirigible D. H. S. running at full speed. In helpful guidance, the flight commanders have directed the courses of the student flights through clear airways to high attainments. The D. H. S. Armada has made a success of its annual flight.

The Armada is organized into five planes: the Senior Aces, the Junior Pilots, the Sophomore Fledglings, the Coöp Contact Crew, and the Post-Graduate Endurance Flyers. Capable leaders for each plane are selected by the passengers aboard. They take the lead in directing the various projects of the individual groups. As a result of this year's flight, the Senior Aces are the first to depart from the ship. To signify their work through the many flights, they receive diplomas, which are the highest distinctions offered by Durham High School. The first is the College Preparatory Diploma. In being rewarded for passing certain required subjects, these Aces are then prepared to continue their studies at any standard college. To those who have successfully met the requirements of the commercial course, the Commercial Diploma is awarded. These flyers are ready to mingle with the business leaders. They may become the executors of the big business of tomorrow. And yet, in another group, are the receivers of the General Diploma. Their training has been turned toward the business goal and toward the subjects of their preference. The Endurance Flyers are those who, having received a diploma, desire to pursue their course further in D. H. S. They carry out a well-rounded and progressive program. Then the Coöperative Class composes the Contact Crew. They form the means by which the dirigible keeps in contact with the business world. These enterprising young men not only keep their school work above par, but work industriously on outside jobs.

Despite being divided by this classification, all the flyers are wielded into one group, the student body of Durham High School. The total list includes over eight hundred loyal members. As this unit, they possess an indomitable spirit that supplies the fuel for the upward course of the dirigible. With their goal set at the heights of educational endeavors and good citizenship, the flyers enter into scholastic struggles, athletic conquests, and character development with equal valor. As the Aces go on into new realms, the pilots follow to their place of lead. Their standards have been set; the records are to be broken. So on with the show! The D. H. S. Armada passes in review!

When asked what he's going to explore, Abe waves his hand airily and murmurs, "Oh, Egypt, 'n places." With his great strength, both physical and mental, he should certainly be able to climb every pyramid from here to Cairo. Here's hoping he finds two or three King Tuts!

ELIZABETH ANDERSON
"BETSY"

Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4.

"Betsy" is dependable, friendly, happy, good-natured—a prize package sent to win prizes and to establish a scholastic record for Durham High School. She does all of these things with the ease and grace becoming a modest Priscilla of 1933.

JAMES OLIVE ANDERSON
"BUSTER"

*A day for toil, an hour for sport,
But for a friend is life too short.*

James Olive, alias Buster Anderson, is one of those quiet unassuming young fellows who is always doing something for the benefit of his fellow students. Our best wishes go with him as he pursues his study in the Wake Forest Law School.

Let us do what honor demands.

Home Room Treasurer 2, Monitor 2; Science Club 2; Monogram Club 4; Nature Study Club 4, Vice-President 4; Commercial Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager of Track Team 3, 4; Athletic Association 4.

An ardent admiration of sports and an energetic participation in activities mark John as a loyal student of Durham High. One of his chief characteristics is his ability to blush, especially when he is approached by a member of the fairer sex.

LIONEL BASDEN

Friend more divine than all divinities.

Lionel is always punctual and reliable. She can boast of an A on conduct if not on Latin. We can truly say that she is persistent in all things. This virtue alone will carry her far.

FRANCIS DEAN BEARD

"FRANKIE"

Friendship is a sheltering tree.

Tennis Team 3, 4; Tennis Club 3, 4.

Besides being a good student "Frankie" is an excellent tennis player. His love of this popular game has helped to establish it as a sport in D. H. S. Next year he moves on to Duke where he will continue his course in electrical engineering.

ELIZABETH BEASLEY

"LIB"

Beauty comes, we scarce know how, as an emanation from sources deeper than itself.

Athena Literary Society 1; Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 2; Commercial Club 3, 4, Cabinet 4; Home Room Treasurer 2, Secretary 3; Girls' Club 1, 2.

"Lib" is beautiful, quiet, modest, and friendly. She is very popular among her classmates, who expect to see her secretary to some handsome ambassador.

LOUIS BERINI

None but himself can be his parallel.

Hi-Rocket 4.

Although Louis has been here only a short time, he is no longer a "newcomer." He has gained many friends among the students and teachers because of his quiet dignified manner. The persistence which he has shown in making his "A's" will win him many cases when he is "Louis Berini—Attorney at Law."

CHARLES DURWOOD BISHOP

"CHARLIE"

An ounce of mirth is worth a pound of sorrow.

Wrestling 4; Commercial Club 2, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

"Charlie" has a genius for making things and can turn out as pretty piece of furniture as one would care to see. While wrestling is his favorite recreation, he enjoys all the sports and activities that usually appeal to a strong, healthy boy. He is loyal to his friends and is ambitious to succeed. He depends upon his own resources and never seeks to copy others.

ANNIE PAULINE BLALOCK

*My tongue within my lips I rein,
For who talks much must talk in vain.*

Southgate Literary Society 1; Glee Club 3, 4; Girls' Athletic Club 1.

Smiling, gay, full of fun—exactly describes Annie Pauline. Not much is heard from her in the class room, but quietly she works her way upward and plans to be some big business man's secretary. Lucky be the man who employs Pauline!

FAYE ISABEL BOBBITT

"IZZY"

Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3; Southgate Literary Society 4; Girls' Club 2; Commercial Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

"Izzy" personifies good nature and sincerity. Ready to work, ready to play, and always ready to do the right thing—that's Isabel. She successfully abides by the policy "A thing is not worth doing unless it is well done."

THOMAS WALKER BORLAND

"TOM"

*So much one man can do,
That does both act and know.*

Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4, Business Manager 4; Basketball 3, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 4; Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3; Commercial Club 3, 4; Home Room President 2, 3; Class Treasurer 4.

Step up, ladies and gentlemen, and view the Count d'Affaires of Durham High School. The funds of any and every organization are entrusted to his scrupulous management. A real friend, a true gentleman, is Tom.

EDWARD EARL BOWEN

"ED"

*His is complete in feature, and in mind,
With all good grace to grace a gentleman.*

Commercial Club 4.

Since leaving West Durham High, "Ed" has made a valuable addition to the D. H. S. student body. Quiet and gentlemanly, he sticks to a job and does his daily tasks. We know that with these same characteristics he will soon be a leading executive in the textile industry.

MARTHA BERYL BRITTON

"MARTHA B"

*To bliss alone my lofty soul aspires,
My lot unequal to my vast desires.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4; Athletic Association 4.

Martha "B," our Winston-Salem friend, came to us this year and began immediately to win the love of her teachers as well as that of her class-mates. Her triple traits, capability, reliability, and friendliness, have gained for her a place in D. H. S. which will be hard to fill when she has gone on to higher fields.

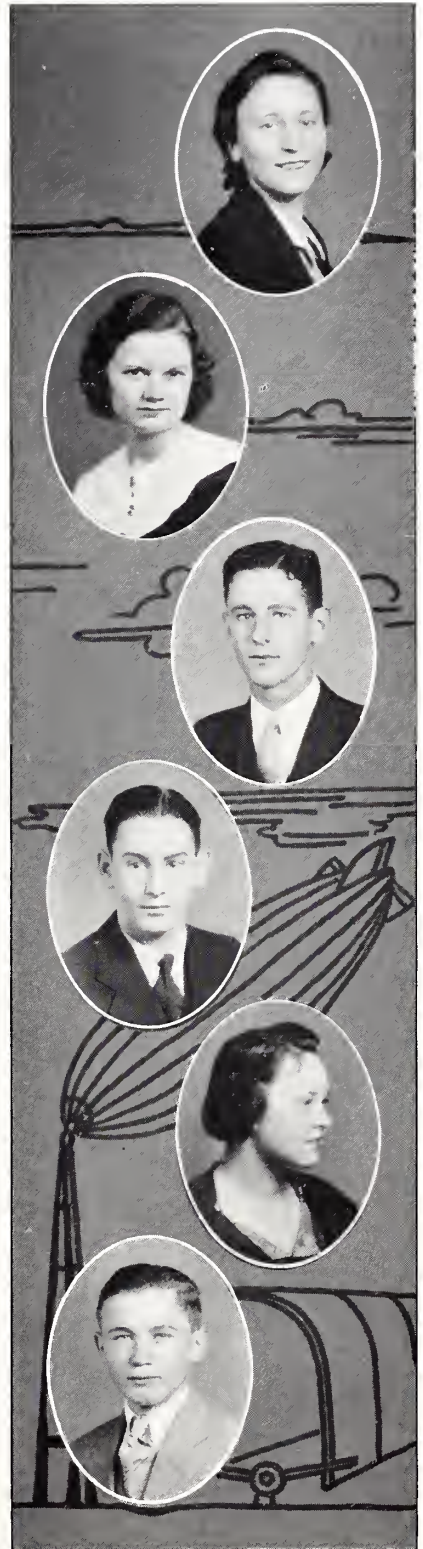

JAMES GARLAND BRONSON

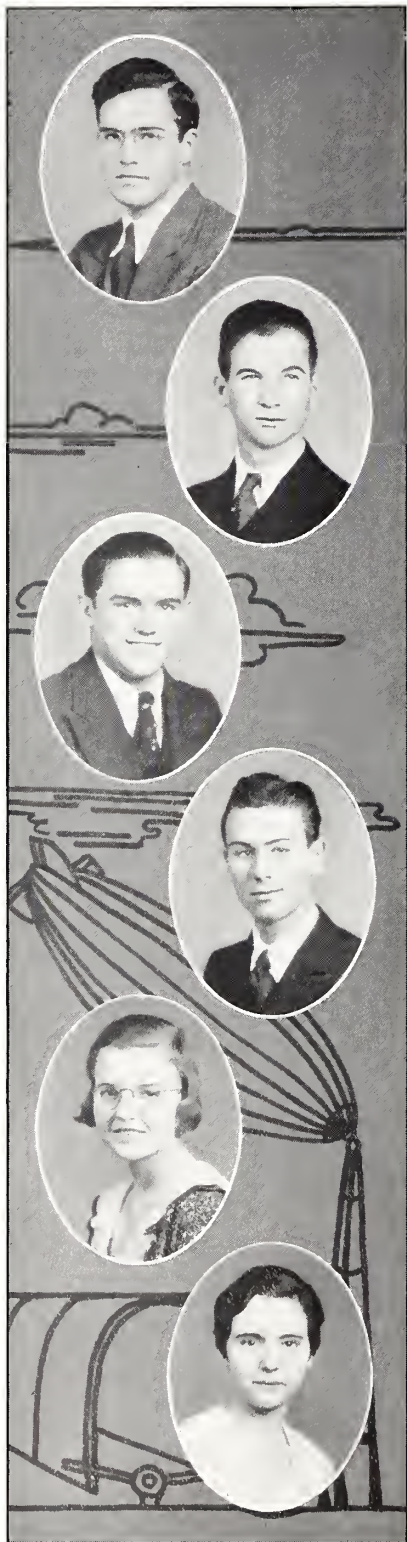

"PETE"

*And from his ashes may be made
The violet of his native land.*

Band 2, 3, 4; Phy-Chem Club 3; Hi-Rocket 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 4; Commercial Club 4.

Anyone watching "Pete" at work in his element—the Chemistry lab—realizes that here is a person who will make things happen. The student body expects to see his name listed among those of the famous technocrats.

JAMES HENRY BROWN
"BEAN"

*Note from head to foot
I am a marble-constant; now the fleeting moon
No planet is of mine.*

Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Stage Committee 2, 3, 4.
"Once a friend, always a friend." This explains James. He is as constant as the value for " π ." We have yet to find anyone who is less afraid of real work than "Bean."

LAMAR EARL BRUCE, JR.
"EARLY"

Hitch your wagon to a star.

Lamar is a far-sighted young man who has his future career carefully planned. His seriousness of purpose and accuracy of judgment will enable him to be one of the engineers who finally develop Muscle Shoals.

JOHN RUPERT GUNTER BRYAN
"RUPE"

Nature is stronger than education.

Football 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Carr Literary Society 2, 3, Treasurer 2, Secretary 3; Carmichael Literary Society 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Wrestling 3, 4; Dramatic Class 4; Stage Committee 4; Commercial Club 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2, 3, 4.

"Rupe" is a sturdy guard on our football team. Just watch him play! Even in the thickest of the fight he finds time to put on his broad smile. How that grin does cause feminine hearts to palpitate!

DEWITT FLOYD BURNS, JR.

An affable and courteous gentleman.

Science Club 2; Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3, Secretary 3, 4; Home Room President 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3.

"Personality plus" characterizes this lad, the foremost of all heartbreakers. Although he isn't the studious type, he has shown himself dependable and capable in his school work and has convinced the class that he will find himself.

WILSIE FLORENCE BUSSELL

*Devout, yet cheerful; pious, not austere;
To others lenient, to herself sincere.*

Girls' Club 1; O. Henry Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Council 3, 4, President 4; French Club 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Athletic Association 4; Commercial Club 4; Safety Driving Club 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Dependable and lovable is our Wilsie. She ranks at the top not only in scholastic attainments, but in other fields as well. Whether in translating Virgil or in playing the piano, she reveals the stuff she's made of. And Wilsie'll surely be a famous musician.

REBA ADELAIDE BYRD
"ABBIE"

And gladly would she learn, and gladly teach.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Blue Triangle 1, 3; Girls' Club 1.

Quiet, gentle, and studious is this little lass. She is a steady worker who can be depended upon to do her part in any school undertaking. She is friendly and helpful to all with whom she comes in contact. We may expect one possessing such qualities to become an ideal primary grade teacher.

1933

ROSA LEE BYRD

*The very firstlings of my heart shall be
The firstlings of my hand.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2, Needlework Guild 4.

Here are five feet of sterling quality, studiousness, and zeal in purpose. All her efforts in school are characterized by these virtues. She's just a "perfect little lady."

FANNIE FOY CARDEN

*They serve God well,
Who serve his creatures.*

Library Council 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2.

Good-natured Fannie? How we shall miss her with her laughing voice always ready to cheer someone, and her smiling countenance always peering out just at the right time. Although she received her diploma last year, she voluntarily joined the present class which is delighted to claim this good sport.

HENRY WADE THOMPSON CARLTON

So from my feet the dust of the proud would I shake.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1; Brass Quartet 3, 4; Civics Club 3, 4; Jernigan Literary Society 2; Chorus 1, 2, 3; Safety Driving Club 4; Fisher Craftsmen Guild 4; Boys' Quartet 1, 2; Football 1; Commercial Club 4.

What's in a name? Well, there seems to be right much to this one. Don't take Wade seriously for he never is—except when he talks with the ladies.

PERCY LEONARD CARLTON

"RED"

For 'tis the mind that makes the body rich.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4; President 2, Vice-President 2; Home Room President 2, 3; Vice-President 1, 3; Kiwan Club 3, 4; Commencement Marshal 3.

"Red" justly carries the name un bon ami. His pleasant countenance conceals a warm heart and a bright mind. He remains undaunted at the assault of hardships. More power to him.

EDNA LOUISE CARPENTER

Fair is too foul an epithet for thee.

O. Henry Literary Society 2; Commercial Club 3; Girls' Club 2; Southgate Literary Society 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Vice-President 4; Marshal 4; Home Room Secretary 4; Athletic Association 4; Hi-Rocket 4.

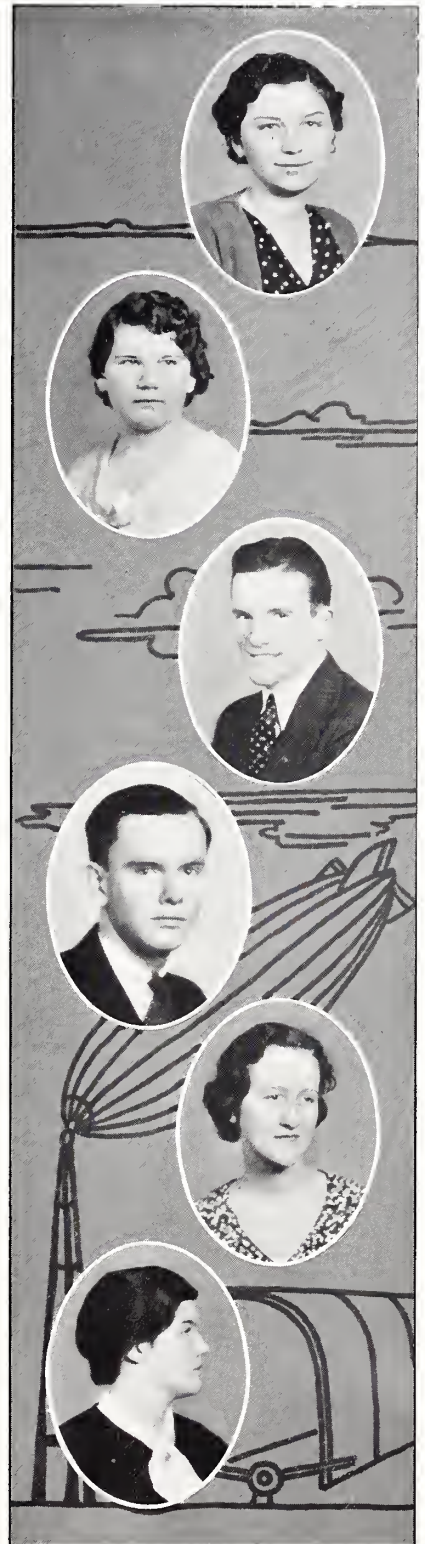

In Edna is found a rare combination of many things. She reads, she swims, she types, she studies well and hard, and she sandwiches good times throughout. Although her manner is a quiet one, her sparkling eyes reveal her mischievous, happy disposition.

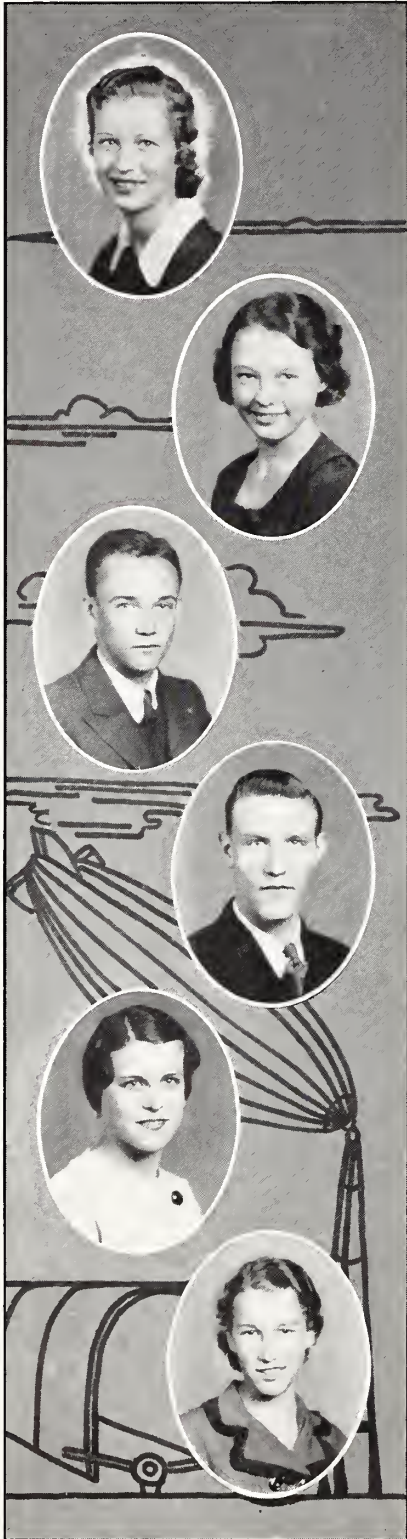

ANNIE LAURA CHALKER

What stronger breastplate than a heart untainted.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Messenger Staff 4.

Annie Laura is one of those exceptional persons who works hard and yet finds time for play. Then too, whether working or playing, she always adds an eloquence to their doings. Thus equipped she should receive all the benefits life has to give.

GERTRUDE ROCHELLE CHANDLER

A pleasing countenance is no slight advantage.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Girls' Sport Club 2; Commercial Club 4; Girls' Club 2; Home Room Secretary 2, 3.

Gertrude is an enthusiastic girl of pleasing personality. She can always be depended upon to do her task and to do it well. More than that she has a friendly smile which will continually make her popular among a wide circle of friends and classmates, and lead her to success.

MARY WESTBROOK CHAPMAN

"BROOKSIE"

To the victor belongs the spoils.

French Club 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Messenger 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Athletic Association 4.

In this case Mary's spoils are a host of friends. She is always accommodating and willing to help anyone. Nor is she lacking in talent, for she undertakes "great things" in a "great way" and somehow lands on top. Music is hers, also, and the piano sings under her hand.

HERBERT NASH CHEEK

"SUBSTIE"

If fame comes after death, I am in no hurry for it.

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; Treasurer 4; President 4; Football 4; Basketball 3, 4; Baseball 1, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Kiwan Club 2, 3; Monogram Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3; Cafeteria Helper 2, 3, 4.

Well, "Substie," you've handled the pigskin with none too gentle hands, and you've made a swell "ball-bouncer" in that noble art of basketball, thus showing us something to do with a basket besides putting fruit in it. You keep 'em smiling, even laughing at times. As a lawyer you'll make a swell "I objecta." Hold that line—we don't mean the one you give the gentle sex.

JOSEPH S. CHEEK

"TOOTIE"

To lengthen to the last a sunny mood.

Home Room Treasurer 1; Commercial Club 1, 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4.

"Live-wire Tootie" we call him, and although the size of his mouth is only excelled by that of his feet, we predict success for Joseph. One of his good habits is the making of permanent friends.

MARY FRANCES CHEEK

I bend and do not break.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3; Needlework Guild 4; Cafeteria Helper 4; Girls' Club 2.

"The best things come in small packages," and Mary Frances is certainly a prize. She possesses an individuality all her own, and wins her friends simply by being herself. She takes delight in making everyone happy and in making play out of work.

FRANCES MABEL CHILDS

"FRANKIE"

Given to hospitality.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 3, 4; President 4; Stunt Cast 3; Girls' Club 1; French Club 3, 4; Secretary 4; Athletic Association 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 4; Treasurer 4; Vice-President 3; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; News Editor 4; Class Basketball 1, 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

Frances is the all-round good sport of the class of '33. She successfully accomplishes everything she undertakes—and she undertakes many things. Whether it be basketball, literary society, French Club, Hi-Rocket, or class work, she reveals the same skill.

GWENDOLYN GREER CLARK

"GWEN"

She worked while others played.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Commercial Club 4; Home Room President 2, 3.

Not a minute wasted, not a duty left undone—that's "Gwen's" policy. And say, folks, it's not so bad. It has kept "Gwen" right up with honor roll marks, not to mention the number of friends and honors it has brought her.

THOMAS STANLEY COBLE, JR.

"TOM"

Wise to resolve, patient to perform.

Carmichael Literary Society, 3, 4; Coop Class 4; Commercial Club 2, Stage Crew 4; Athletic Association 2, 3; Football 2, 3; Wrestling 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Golf 4; Baseball 4.

The Coöperative Class is looking forward to the time when Thomas Coble will become "class doctor." As "Tom" has already been a great help to this class in more ways than one, we feel that he will be a great help in that capacity.

CLARA MAE COCKMAN

"LITTLE RUTH"

Song forbids victorious deeds to die.

Choral Class 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Girls' Sport Club 3.

Clara is one of the songbirds of the Senior class. And she enjoys talking as well as singing. Her voice will be missed in the Choral Class; her talking will be missed in study hall; and her affable disposition will be missed by all who know her.

LONA BERNICE COUCH

Some people resemble ballads which are sung for all time.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball 4.

Lona is one of our girls who is earnest in work, and earnest in play. She went out for basketball and proved herself a star performer. Her commercial studies have made her quite capable for her life's work!

M. T. COUSINS, JR.

"EMPTY"

Bright gem instinct with music, vocal spark.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Current Events Club 3.

When the tones of a trumpet sound around D. H. S., we may know it's our M. T. tuning up his musical ability. During his high school career, he has been one of Mr. Twaddell's talented musicians—both in singing and in the orchestra. M. T. and his music certainly have won their way in school and—with the ladies.

IDA VIRGINIA CRAIG

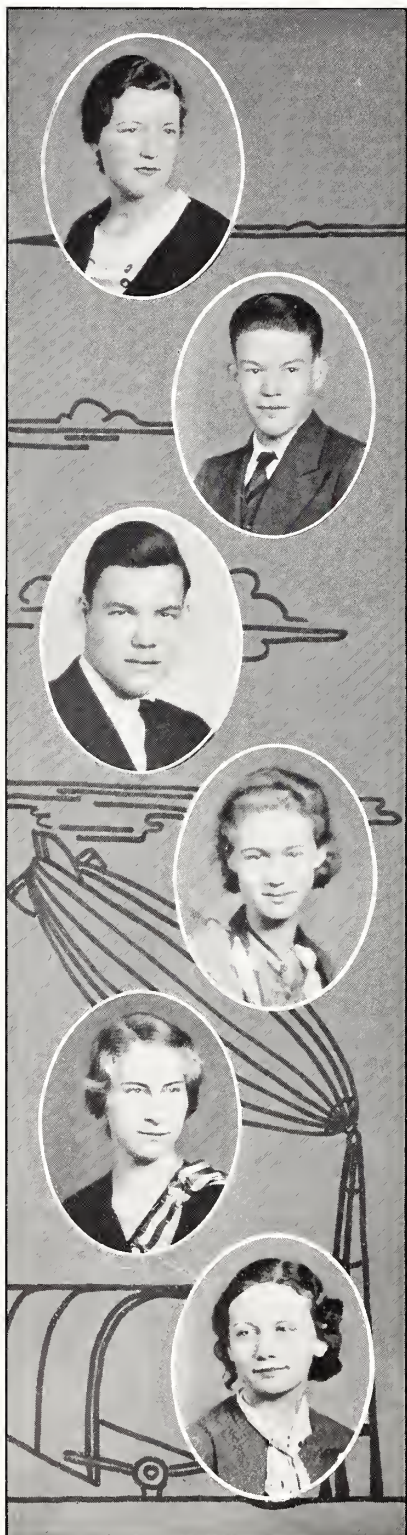

"JIN"

*True and sincere, loyal and kind,
Another just like her, you'll never find.*

Girls' Club 2; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4.

Virginia is destined to be a specialist, for she not only specializes in making friends but also in doing school work well.

RUTH WINIFRED CRAIG

Said and done. Done as soon as said.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 2.

If consideration for others were valued in terms of money, Ruth would possess untold wealth. Back of those laughing blue eyes there's plenty of fun and ability ready to spring forth just at the right moment.

JOHNSON PATRICK CRUMPACKER "PAT"

O! you shall see him laugh until his face be like a wet cloth ill laid up.

Blackwell Literary Society 2; Hi-Y Club 2; Current Events Club 3, 4, Treasurer 4.

We like to say that "Pat" is thoroughly Irish, for his happy grin and bright hair have lightened up the halls of many a dark day. Difficult assignments and hard work never worry "Pat"; he takes life as he finds it.

MARVIN TRAWICK CULBRETH "SLOW MOTION"

Wise to resolve, and patient to perform.

Nashville suffered a big loss when Marvin entered D. H. S. He has already impressed us with his ability as a mechanic. Miss Lewter can vouch for the fact that he is a "handy man" to have around when cars are out of order.

MARY ELIZABETH CUTTS "CINDERELLA"

*The joy of youth and health her eyes displayed,
And ease of heart her every look conveyed.*

Latin Club 2; Class Basketball 1, 3; Athena Literary Society 4; Varsity Basketball 4.

When Raleigh yielded up this sedate, young "Cinderella," Durham was the winner! Modest and sincere, she has proved ever steadfast in her every undertaking. So we have learned that there's lots of knowledge and ability stored under those pretty blonde locks!

RHEA ELEANOR DANA

She is herself of best things the collection.

Messenger Staff 4; Home Room Vice-President 4; Athletic Association 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4; Library Council 4.

Distinguished and regal are words just made for Rhea. Why, even her name is an index to her character. Attractive, unusual, artistic,—what more can anyone want?

VIRGINIA CREWS DEAN "GINGER"

The most completely lost of all days is that on which one has not laughed.

Although she goes in for a big time to the last degree, she always reveals her consideration for others. What a swell trained nurse "Ginger" will make with that entertaining manner of hers!

CARL DAWSON DELAMAR "DEL"

Silence conceals a wealth of fine thought.

Orchestra 1; Current Events Club 3, 4; President 4; Commercial Club 2.

In spite of "Del's" quiet nature, he is a true, interesting friend to all who are so fortunate as to be intimately acquainted with him. His studious habits, his reliability, and his steadiness, as well as his "gentleman-like" manners, have won for him a place in the hearts of many.

JAMES MANLEY DODSON "JIMMY"

A man of courage is also full of faith.

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 3; Current Events Club 4; Football 4; Commercial Club 4; Monogram Club 4.

Here's another football hero—Jimmy Dodson. He directs his experimental genius to radios at present. May he do as well with medicines, when the well-known "Dr." is added to his name.

MARION MODERVILL DOUGLAS "HILLSBORO"

A woman that hath friends must show herself friendly, and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a sister.

Current Events Club 4; President 4.

Hillsboro's loss was truly our gain when this little girl came to us. She is especially adept in the art of conversation. She has the ability to command the respect and admiration of all her listeners.

ROSA LEE DRAUGHON "LEE"

God hath sworn to lift on high who sinks himself in true humility.

Girls' Club 2; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; French Club 3; Athletic Association 2, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

The name of Rosa Lee spells scholarship to all who know her. Throughout her entire high school career she has held a permanent place on the first honor roll. We often wonder if she has a monopoly on A's. Phi Beta Kappa material!

KERMIT EDWARD DUNNAGAN "KOCKY"

Happy am I, and from care I'm free.

In one short year "Kocky" has successfully planted his feet on D. H. S. soil. We shall miss his cheerful way of meeting the daily grind. If he continues to be enthusiastic about electrical engineering, he will soon be a valuable asset to that profession.

ELINOR TREXLA DUNHAM "KAY"

For I am in a holiday mood.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Treasurer 3; President 4; Home Room Treasurer 3; Vice-President 4; Girls' Club 1; May Court 1; Messenger Staff 4.

A sincere and earnest student is "Kay." She is gentle and kind. She can lead without pulling and follow without pushing. If she teaches kindergarten with the same skill with which she has led the Brogden Literary Society, we know her little pupils will love her.

MAUDE DUNN
"MAUDIE"

*I am not of that feather to shake off
My friend when he must need me.*

Current Events Club 3; Needlework Guild 3.

"Maudie" is lots of fun to have around. Always radiating her good nature, as well as her charm and personality, she manages to set everyone laughing with her wise cracks in spite of blue Monday and blue cards. Durham High will miss her happy-go-lucky meandering down the corridors.

WALTER LEWIS EAKES
"HAW"

A gentleman is very often seen, but very seldom heard to laugh.

Commercial Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Current Events Club 4; Secretary 4; Wrestling 3.

We certainly hate to lose Walter this year. He shows that he has perseverance. How? Well, just sit in his English class for a while. His perseverance is also shown in the fact that he is continually wooing a certain blonde-haired maiden.

FLORENCE EISENBERG
"FLO"

*I have fought a good fight,
I have finished my work.*

Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Girls' Club 2; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Safety Driving Club 4.

Whether it be work or play, "Flo" does both with equal zest. The nursing profession will gain what we lose, for she has decided to devote her entertaining faculties toward cheering the sick. The profession is to be congratulated.

MARY RUTH ELLIOTT
"MYRTH"

*Yea, music is the Prophet's art
Among the gifts that God hath sent,
One of the most magnificent!*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Girls' Club 2, 3; French Club 3, 4; Messenger Staff 4; Home Room Chaplain 4.

"Myrth" almost spells mirth, doesn't it? And well it might, if it's to fit Mary Ruth. For behind those dark eyes lurk bushels of fun, as all her friends can testify.

JOHN CLEO FAUCETTE
"SPIGOT"

If you wish to reach the highest, begin at the lowest.

Glee Club 4; Carmichael Literary Society 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Spigot" is our musical man. When entertainment is in order, we can always count on him. The talent and dependability that he displays is not confined to his music—just ask any of his teachers.

EVELYN BURT FELTON
"PEGGY"

I have loved my friends as I do virtue, my soul, my God.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4.

Peggy is a newcomer to Durham High but she has quickly made many friends. It really is too bad those Juniors and Sophs aren't Seniors because they would have a better chance to know her.

JESSIE ADAMS FULLER
 "SQUEEDLUM"

*My song shall blossom at your feet
 My heart your throne shall be.*

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2.

Jessie studies her music and smiles at this old world, which, as always, smiles right back at her. No wonder "Squeedlum" is always happy. Who wouldn't be if life were all smiles and music?

HAZEL ANN GANTT

*Poems of love be sweeter far
 Than all other pleasures are.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Chaplain 2; Girls' Club 2; Hi-Rocket 4; Athletic Association 4; Commercial Club 4; Home Room Vice-President 4; Volley Ball 4; Basketball 4.

Hazel may be diminutive physically, but when it comes to dancing, or basketball, or poetry, she's anything else. Oh, yes, we almost forgot to mention "Le Seul Monsieur"—but then, we value our lives, so we'll leave off the initials.

LYMAN EDWARD GERRY

"SNOOKS"

He sits high in all people's hearts.

Athletic Association 4.

"Snooks" is a very quiet boy who has come to Durham High from West Durham. He has won the friendship and admiration of all his classmates. He will surely succeed in life because he has a great ability to concentrate on one thing at a time—an accomplishment many of us lack.

LACY ALEXANDER GIBSON

"GIB"

He held his seat; a friend to human race.

Carr Literary Society 2; Commercial Club 4; Current Events Club 4; Wrestling 2; Football 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Gib" is the sort of boy Theodore Roosevelt had in mind in his message to American boys. He "hits the line hard, he never fouls, and he never shirks." He is one of those athletes who keeps up his work and takes interest in extra activities. However, one does not really know "Gib" until he sees and hears him play a mandolin.

HAZEL LEONA GLADSTEIN

"WITCH-HAZEL"

*But far more numerous was the herd of such,
 Who think too little, and who talk too much.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 4; Messenger 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Witch-Hazel" is an ever ready remedy for all troubles. If a society program is not prepared, Hazel can tell a story; if time drags during a class, Hazel can enliven the group. Surely, she is one of our rarest treasures.

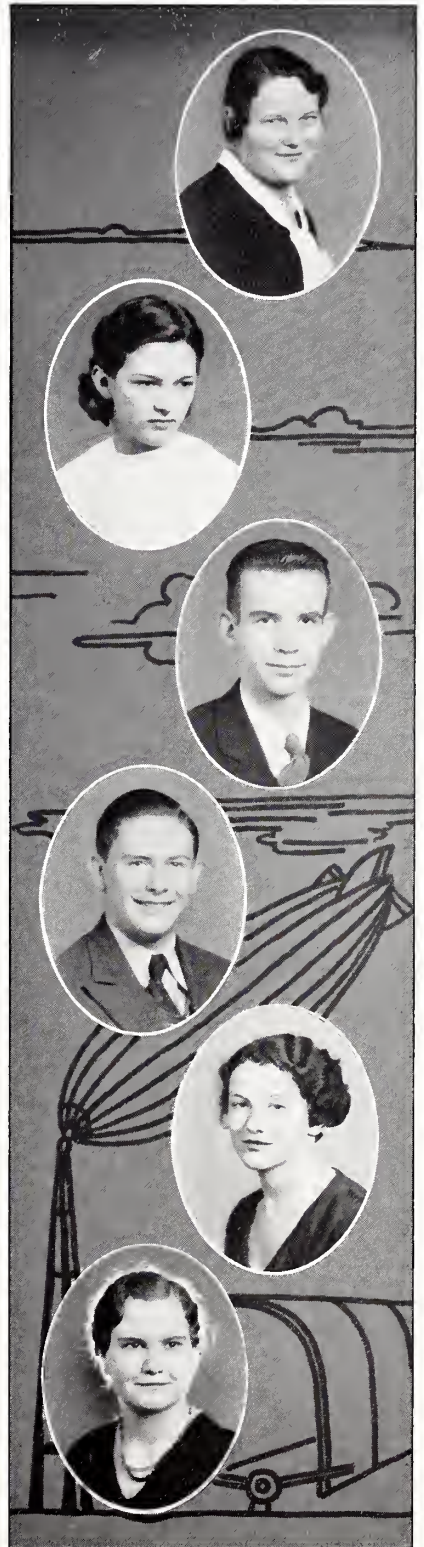

MABEL KATHLEEN GLENN

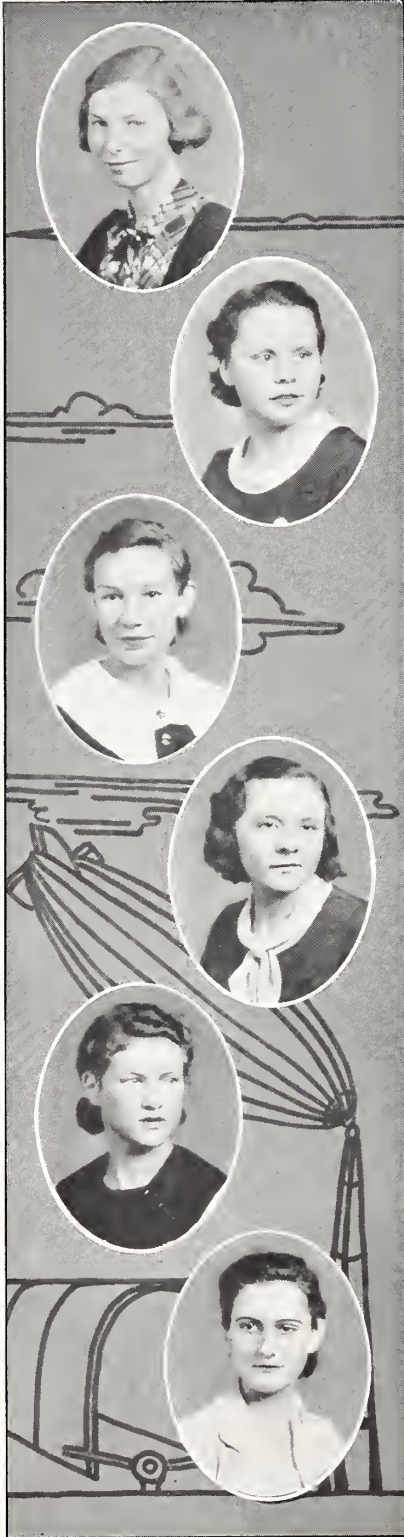

"JU"

*For she was just the quiet kind
 Whose nature never varies.*

Girls' Club 1, 2; O. Henry Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3; Commercial Club 4; Messenger 4.

After the hub-bub of an excited day, it's always a pleasure to be able to talk to a quiet, entertaining person. Perhaps that's the reason we all like "Ju." Unlike others, her steady deliberate progress is marked by a spice and flavor that so few quiet people possess.

VIRGINIA GRAY

"TINY"

*Mingle a little jolly with your wisdom,
A little nonsense now and then is pleasant.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Girls' Club 2; Home Room Secretary 3; Basketball 1, 3, 4.

"Tiny" wields a lively tongue and pounds out anything from "God Save the King" to the good old "St. Louis Blues" on that typewriter of hers. She has kept a berth on the girls' basketball team for the past three years and that's a swell record to display. Success is yours for the asking. Why not ask?

HELEN HALL

"GAL"

*A face with gladness overspread!
Soft smiles by human kindness bred!*

Athena Literary Society 4; Athletic Association 4.

Helen, with her ever-present smile, will surely make a fine nurse. However, while in this profession, she most probably will become a victim of Dan Cupid and be wounded so seriously by his arrow that she will change her profession to that of Home-making.

DOROTHY HAMILL

"DOT"

*The virtue of her lively looks,
Excels the precious stone.*

Athena Literary Society 4.

In Dorothy, Durham High has another good-natured, friendly, loyal student. Although she has been with us only a year, she has found the way into many of our hearts. A worker, a friend, a play-mate—is it a wonder we hate to see her go?

HAZEL HAMILTON

"SHORTY"

The woman that loves and laughs must sure do well.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Athena Literary Society 2; Messenger Staff 4.

There's not much of her, but there's a whole lot to her. "Shorty" is sure to make a success of anything she puts her hand to. Just witness the fine work she did on the Messenger. That staff couldn't have got along without her, and it highly recommends her to the business world.

DOROTHY PALMER HATCH

"DOT"

Happiness seems made to be shared.

Choral Class 3; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3.

There's a yellow-haired, blue-eyed bit of femininity that every one wants to know. With her vivacious manner, her sparking personality, and her lively disposition she presents a glad sight for anybody's sore eyes. Her dancing feet will carry her swiftly along the roadway to secretarial success.

JESSIE HENLEY

"JESS"

*Then on! then on! where duty leads,
My course be onward still.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3.

If Jessie is as successful in the business world (and we have every reason to believe she will be) as she has been for the past year in Miss Holland's shorthand class, she will make an ideal secretary for someone.

HAZEL LEE HOFFLER
 "SQUEAKY"

With her eyes flood with laughter.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Girls' Glee Club 4; Class Basketball 2, 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Girls' Athletic Club 2.

Famous on the gym floor, jolly even under difficult circumstances is "Squeaky." With her spunk and "stick-to-it-iveness," she will make an invaluable addition to any business office that may secure her services.

ADA HOLLOWAY "HENRI"

They laugh and win.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Girls' Sport Club 2; Commercial Club 4; Home Room Secretary 2, Vice-President 3.

"Henri's" ambition is to become a teacher, and she can teach most of us quite a few things. Some youngsters of the coming generation will be fortunate enough to have the privilege of sitting at the feet of such an apt Math teacher.

MARY LOUISE HOOPER
 "OSKIE"

Love is better than fame.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Accompanist 3, 4; Orchestra 3, 4; Home Room President 3; O. Henry Literary Society 1, 2, 3; Messenger Staff 4; Girls' Club 1, 2.

What would the Durham High orchestra do without Mary? Throughout the year her nimble fingers on the piano have produced sweet melodies of accompaniment. When we hear the richer tones of an organ excellently played by a famous organist, we shall know it is just—our own Mary!

RICHARD THOMAS HOWERTON, JR.
 "DICK"

I add also, that natural ability has raised a man to glory and virtue.

Page Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Class Vice-President 4; Commercial Club 4; Cabinet 4; French Club 3; Mixed Chorus 4; Messenger Staff 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Glee Club 4; Home Room President 3, 4.

In any company he is a perfect, dignified gentleman, equipped with steadfast, trustworthy executive qualities. The fields of his conquest will be unbounded.

FRANCES MAE HUNT

To be merry best becomes you, for out of question you were born in a merry hour.

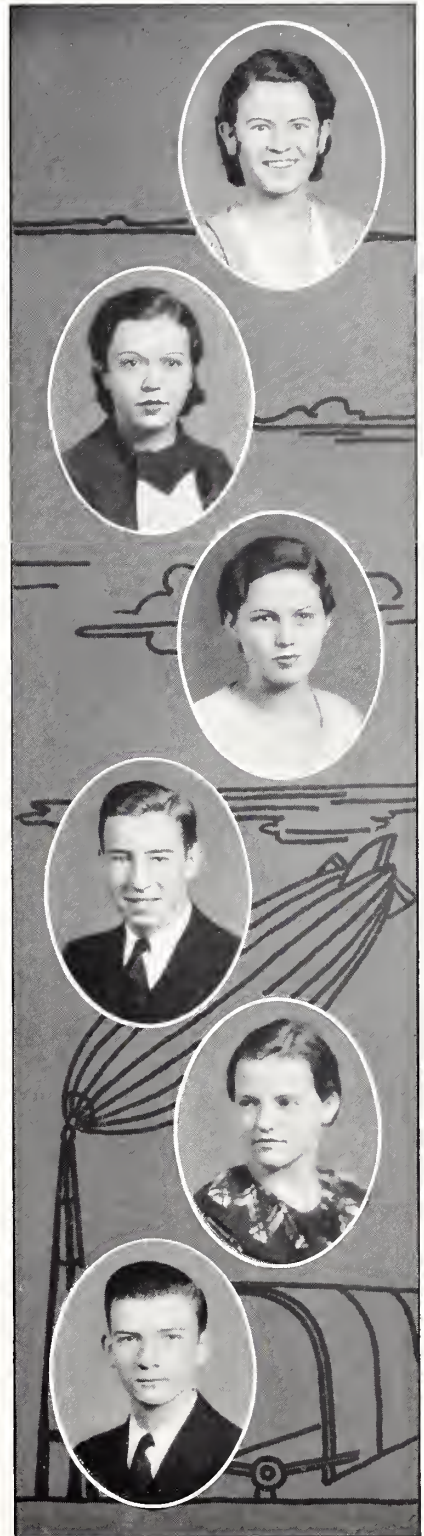

Athena Literary Society 4.

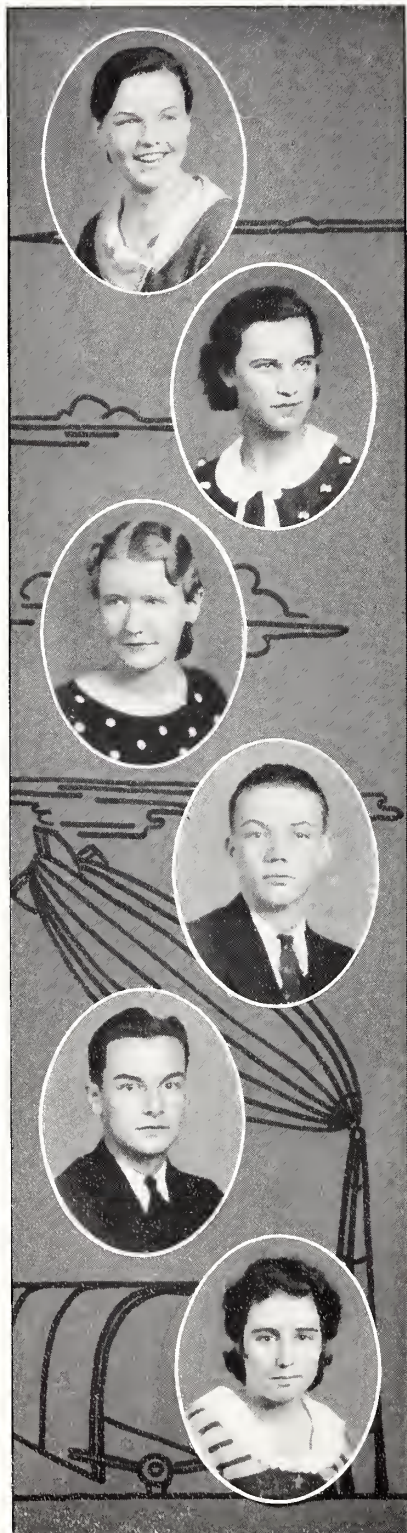

Frances Hunt, the little girl with rays of sunshine and smiles for everyone, seems to lighten and brighten our burdens in D. H. S. We hate to part with our gloom chaser, but we have the satisfaction of knowing that she'll be radiative in the sick room.

VANCE O. ISENHOUR, JR.
 "IKE"

There are very few persons who pursue science with true dignity.
 Science Club 4; Coop. Class 4.

"Ike's" intense interest in Science has made a "fanatic" of him. He has gained the admiration and good wishes of every Durham High student. The "dignity shell" which is familiar to seniority does not keep his personality from radiating good fellowship.

ANNE REBECCA IZARD

A friend is, as it were, a second self.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4, Literary Editor 4; French Club 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Library Council 3, 4; Hockey Team 2.

As refined as her name is beautiful, as smart as her grades imply, as cheerful as the day is long—that's Anne. Because she is the kind of girl who gains by helping others, has won the top-rung of the D. H. S. ladder. That's another of her traits—the knack of coming out on top.

LILLIAN DOROTHY JAFFÉ

"LAKIE"

Such joy ambition finds.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 2; Dramatic Club 4; Girls' Club 2; Athletic Association 3, 4.

"Lakie" has made herself one of our most popular and well-liked girls. With her talent in dramatics and in giving recitations she has ascended to a high point on the ladder of success. Surely that same smile that greets her friends will carry her forward and will land her on the top.

HELEN ELIZABETH JAMES

"BLONDIE"

*Still achieving, still pursuing
Learn to labor and to wait.*

Athletic Association 2; Basketball 1; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Current Events Club 1, 2; Tennis Club 3.

Helen, a most gentle-mannered lady, has made herself well loved and highly esteemed by all who have come within reach of her sunny smile. She is one of our most conscientious workers and does not lack initiative. Her readiness to serve and her true friendship have led to her popularity.

BAXTER JOHNSON

"BACK"

I feel an army in my fist.

Nature Study Club 4; Cheer Leader 4.

West Durham furnished us with this agreeable young gentleman. He is so full of enthusiasm and real spirit that he became Durham High's prize cheer leader. In appreciation, the whole school gives three whooping big cheers for Baxter.

HUBERT COLE JOHNSON

"SHORTY"

The snow, the vapor, and the strong wind fulfill his word.

Carmichael Literary Society 1, 2; Commercial Club 3, 4; Nature Study Club 4; Boys' Glee Club 1, 2; Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Home Room President 1, Secretary 2, 3.

Handsome Hubert is a regular fellow and a musician as well. He likes his music; we like his music. He likes us; we like him.

TWILA RUBY JONES

Friend more divine than all divinities.

Commercial Club 4; Athena Literary Society 2; Home Room Secretary 4; Messenger Staff 4; Girls' Club 2.

Twila is so quiet and unassuming that few have known her intimately. She is a true friend, capable of succeeding in anything she undertakes. With her diligence, it will be almost impossible for her to fail in the stenographic world.

GILBERT KATZ "GIBBY"

Good at a fight: Better at play.

Football 4; Wrestling 3, 4; Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

Good old, honest, hard-fighting "Gibby." Just watch him take to the field when some battered warrior takes the bench. The fact that he's a "second-stringer" serves to add more fire to his fighting spirit. He would do anything for his team, be it the lowliest task of all.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT KING
"BILL"

Be merry if ye are wise.

Basketball 3, 4; Football 4; Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Athletic Association 3, 4; Monogram Club 4; Home Room President 2, Vice-President 3; Baseball 4.

Here we have another great big "ball-chunker-in-the-basketer" and master of several other fine arts in this noble institution in which we study. And, biddies, always remember the old adage, "where there's a Bill King, there's plenty of excitement, and where there's a Will(iam) there's a way!"

ESTELLE AGNES KNIGHT

Silence is wisdom, when speaking is folly.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; French Club 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 3, 4.

What would the French class do without Estelle and her prompt response? In her own refined and calm manner she constantly "sticks" to her work and makes a great success of it. Dependability, consistency, and friendliness pave her way to future success as a teacher.

JOHN BUXTON KNOTT, JR.
"BUCK"

One's outlook is part of one's virtue.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 1, 4; Messenger Staff 4; Commercial Club 4; Home Room Monitor 4.

Quiet, dependable, attentive is "Buck," yet, equally fair and square to friend or foe. What would D. H. S. do without his cheerful smile and helping hand? The world certainly has need of men of this calibre.

KENNETH CLARENCE KORSTIAN
"KEN"

Genius is the power of lighting one's own fire.

Current Events Club 3, 4; Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Ken" goes his way day in and day out in a quiet, unassuming manner. He works hard; he thinks deeply. Scientific research appeals to him at present. Clear away at the top of the ladder for Dr. and Mrs. Korstian's son.

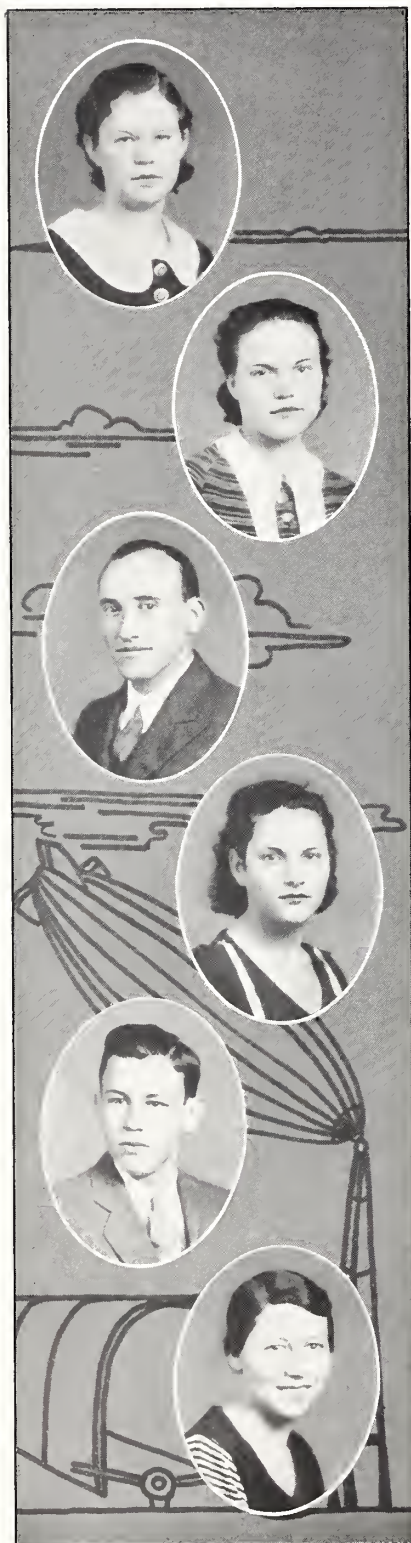

CHARLOTTE MARGARET KUEFFNER
"SCHOOLLOTTE"

The saying that beauty is but skin deep is but a skin deep saying.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Home Room Secretary 3, Vice-President 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; May Court 2; Coroso Play 4; Commercial Club 4.

Charming? Popular? Friendly? Sure, that's Charlotte! And a good actress, too, as proven by her distinguished work with the Coroso Players of '32. Lucky is the gentleman whose letter she wears.

RUTH MELBA LANGLEY

Diligence is the mother of good fortune.

Girls' Athletic Club 3; Commercial Club 4; Messenger Staff 4; Girls' Club 2.

Quiet, unassuming, week in and week out, Ruth is strengthening herself for the strenuous competition in the ranks of future stenographers. Another girl will have a hard time wresting a job from her grasp.

LOUISE SKINNER LEIGH

Love me little, love me long.

Cheer Leader 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4; Commercial Club 4.

Louise goes in for the D. H. S. cheer leading in a big way. She is characterized by her genial good nature, by a fun-loving disposition, and by her ready assistance to her friends in any difficulty.

JOE MYER LEVITT

The force of his own merit makes his way.

Carr Literary Society 4.

One of the most admirable of Joe's habits is his knack of keeping out of other people's business. By doing this he finds time to devote to his studies, and he certainly turns out commendable results—to say nothing of the friends he acquires while doing so.

SARAH RACHEL LEVITT

"ROSY"

Good-humor only teaches charms to last.

Girls' Basketball 4; Commercial Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4.

By her sunny smile and her bewitching dimples "Rosy" has won the hearts of her teachers. We don't know, but perhaps it is the same smile and dimples that enable her to be so popular with the girls, not to mention the boys.

JOHN MANNING WYATT LLEWELLYN

*Worth, courage, honor, these indeed
Your sustenance and birthright are.*

Science Club 2, President 2; Hi-Rocket 2; Boxing Team 2, 3, 4; Page Literary Society 3, 4; Library Council 4; Glee Club 1, 4; Home Room Treasurer 4; Secretary 4.

John is one of Durham High's brightest spot lights on the boxing team, and he is also able to tell one a few things about science. A scientific boxer would be a worthy addition to the ring, but a doctor is more to John's taste. He'll give his medicine a punch.

FRANCES ELIZABETH LONG

"FANNIE"

To know how to hide one's ability is a great skill.

Blue Triangle 1, 2; Girls' Sport Club 3; Girls' Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 1; Glee Club 2, 3; Girls' Club 2, 3; Home Room Secretary 3; O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; President 4; Coroso Play 4; Commercial Club 4; Dramatic Club 4.

All hail the famous "Mrs. Willard Jackson"! With the ball of hair on the back of her head equally as long as her nose and the squeaky little voice well filling its place—she stole the show! How easily with that same entertaining manner will she some day win the love of her kindergarten pupils!

HAZELINE BROUGHTON LONG
 "HEY"

*Neatness, simplicity, kindness combined
 With gentle heart, and open mind.*

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Choral Class 4; Girls' Club 1, 2; Messenger Staff 4; Athena Literary Society 4; Athletic Association 3, 4.

Hazeline's quiet and unassuming manners are just the qualities for a first-rate stenographer. Sincerity, willingness to work, and an ever-helpful attitude are in her make-up. She will surely find a worthwhile place in life.

JAMES THOMAS LOVE
 "JIM"

*His is complete in feature, and in mind,
 With all good grace to grace a gentleman.*

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Boxing 3; Glider Club 3; Football 2, 3, 4; Wrestling 4.

"Jim" has made himself one of the best liked boys in D. H. S. He has been outstanding as a "football hero," and has proved himself to have excellent ability in the wooing of the fair sex.

MARGARET MESLEY LUNSFORD
 "PETE"

*All who joy would win
 Must share it—Happiness was born a twin.*

Class Secretary 2; Home Room Secretary 2, Vice-President 3, President 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Chaplain 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

"Pete" is always full of pep and energy, a source of never-ending fun. These qualities have won her a place as one of the most popular and well-liked girls in our class. Whatever she undertakes as a life interest, we feel assured of her success.

NONI LUNSFORD
 "BOOTSIE"

*Modesty is to merit, what shade is to figure in a picture;
 it gives it strength and makes it stand out.*

Adelphian Literary Society 3; Art Club 4; Senior Play 4.

Demure, modest "Bootsie" has proven herself, in her one year at D. H. S., to be a conscientious worker, a worthy friend, a talented musician, an accomplished actress, and an excellent student.

KENNETH PIERCE MACKAY
 "MAC"

*He was too wise to err, and O,
 Too good to be unkind.*

Phy-Chem Club 3, Treasurer 3; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Home Room Vice-President 4; Senior Play 4.

Kenneth is certainly a rare specimen. His years of experience have endowed him with such erudition and profundity that we feel it a privilege to bask in the rays of such a brilliant personality. It was a lucky day for D. H. S. when he came.

MALCOLM LESTER MANN
 "MAC"

With his eyes in flood with laughter.

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3, Vice-President 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Male Quartet 2, 3, 4; Mixed Quartet 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3; Brass Quartet 1; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 2; Wrestling 1; Junior Marshal 3.

"Mac" is a well-liked, happy-go-lucky fellow who tries to pass his school subjects with at least work possible. Nevertheless, he has managed to make great achievement especially in the musical line where his rich tenor voice has been well trained. Here's hoping he finds his medical career as easy sailing as his years at D. H. S.

CHARLOTTE BOYD MARKHAM

Nature's first great title—mind.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; French Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Messenger Staff 4; Literary Editor 4; Home Room President 4; Secretary 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

Perfectly poised, friendly, and courteous, Charlotte stands on the threshold of womanhood. Her particular individuality and artistic touch guarantee her a berth in any literary field she may select.

ROBERT NOELL MARKHAM

"BABE"

Oh, do not slander him, for he is kind.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Stunt Cast 2; Boxing Manager 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 2; Treasurer 1.

Besides having a natural ability to digest French, "Babe" has the knack of making friends. His cheery smile and witty wisecracks always add merriment to any occasion. "Babe" is the kind of fellow who talks a lot but does much more. We are sure that "Babe" will attain high honors in his life work as an architect.

HILDA ROSE MARSHALL

We must laugh for we are happy.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Dramatics Club 4; Girls' Club 1; Athletic Association 4.

Hilda, we're wishing you all the luck and expecting great things from you in dramatics, for you've certainly displayed great talent in that line during your stay in D. H. S.—recall Coroso play assistant director!

LUCILLE MAYNARD

"LU"

*What is lovely never dies,
But passes into other loveliness
Star-dust, or sea-foam, flower or winged air.*

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3; Home Room President 1; Secretary 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2; Commercial Club 4; Girls' Club 1, 2; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3.

With unruffled poise and dignity, Lucille goes about her daily tasks. Mixing among her many friends, she reveals a glad heart. This lucky lady will surely find success.

NED McALLISTER

"MAC"

I cause the lasses' hearts to sing with joy.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 4; Class Vice-President 2; Home Room Vice-President 2; Treasurer 3; Football 2, 3; Track 2, 4; Hi-Rocket 2; Messenger Staff 4; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Play Cast 4.

"Mac," you're our blushing, bashful hero. We hope you spread your cheer and feet all over dear old U. N. C., as you have in the past few years at this great institution of "book-learning." He wins the fair damsels with his "how're you all" grin. Give us the low-down on football and track and we will let you go—very reluctantly!

MARTHA VIRGINIA McCOY

"MAC"

Not too serious; not too gay.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2; Treasurer 4.

"Mac" has a quality that few of us are fortunate enough to possess. She is not only a big talker, but a sympathetic listener. When it comes to Mathematics, she has a great brain which she is more than willing to share with others.

ROBERT EDWIN McCOY
 "DUCK"

*Good-humor only teaches charm to last,
 Still makes new conquest and mountain the past.*

Phy-Chem Club 3; Home Room President 2; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4; Messenger 3.

"Duck's" appearance and personality have won him many admirers among the fairer sex. Moreover, he constantly radiates a geniality and good-humor that is sure to win the confidence of his employers. The boundless fields of scientific research will welcome such a recruit.

BESSIE EUGENIA McGLOTHLIN
 "BESS"

The mirror of all courtesy.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 3, Stunt Cast 3; Basketball 3; Hockey 3; Library Council 3; Declamation Contest 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Messenger Staff 4; Senior Play 4; Volley Ball Team 4; Varsity Basketball 4.

If you are looking for the ideal friend, your quest can end with "Bess." A generous sharer of joy and happiness, a willing bearer of half your burdens—all this and more is she.

THOMAS H. McGLOTHLIN
 "SKINNER"

*Taste the joy
 That springs from labor.*

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 3; Home Room President 2; Coöp Class 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Commercial Club 4; Cabinet 4; Coroso Play 4; Athletic Association 3, 4.

This diplomatic young salesman has already accomplished many things in life. Tom knows how to sell himself to other people in a way that is rather uncanny. We hope that he doesn't become a traveling salesman because our own "friendly city" needs his unusual talent.

JEAN MARIAN MILLER
 "JEENY-WEENY"

*All that's best of dark and bright,
 Meet in her aspect and her eyes.*

Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Home Room Vice-President 2; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 2, Vice-President 4, Stunt Cast 3; Messenger Staff 4; Girls' Club 2, Treasurer 2; Needlework Guild 4; Senior Play 4.

Many charms and talents are wrapped up in this choice package of personality. Painting, dramatics, and popularity are among the arts of "Jeeny-Weeny."

HERMES CORAL MILLS, JR.
 "NIG"

Some are wise, and some are otherwise.

Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3; Science Club 2; Baseball 3, 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Track 2; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Science Club 2.

It seems strange to associate that everlasting grin of "Nig's" with the dignified profession of medicine, but surely, a little sunshine along with his excellent prescriptions can do no harm. Anyway we'll try them and see.

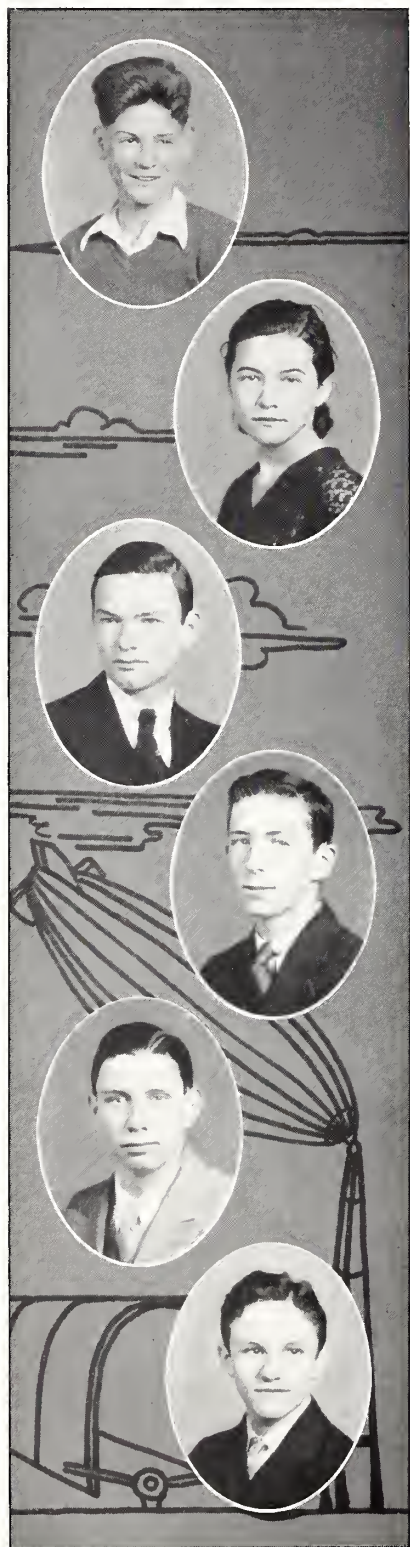

KATHRYN LOUISE MONTAGUE
 "KATRINKA"

Her Modesty concealed a thousand charms.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Athletic Association 1, 4; Commercial Club 4; Students' Safety Driving Club 4; Library Council 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4, Literary Editor 4; French Club 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Needlework Guild 4.

Mischievous, light-hearted, and gay! Yet, she can be serious, too. In her classes she stays at the very top. If you've ever heard her play the piano, you've wondered how such a dainty little lady has stored away so much talent under one red head.

PETER RICHARD MOODY
"PETE"

*To those who know thee not, no words can paint,
And those who know thee, know all words are faint.*

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 2, President 4; Hi-Rocket 3, 4, Editor-in-chief 4; Home Room President 2, 3, 4, French Club 3, 4, President 4; Aycock Debate 4; American Legion Oratorical Contest 3.

This young gallant has been president of so many organizations that we really should call him "Chairman Moody." He declaims, he debates, he writes, he plays, he studies. He is truly a versatile student.

FRANCES MOORE
Winsome, wee thing.

Athletic Association 4; Southgate Literary Society 3, 4, Treasurer 3, Marshal 4; French Club 3, 4; President Home Room 4; O. Henry Literary Society 2; Girls' Club 2.

Quaint and attractive, Frances is always busy at something. Contrary to the rule of waiting for a secretary to come along, the future employers of stenographers will be fighting for Frances—and the employer will be lucky who gets her.

JAMES CHESLEY MORGAN
"JIMMY"

Stidious of ease, and fond of humble things.

Carr Literary Society 3, 4; Tennis Club 4.

Genuine, he certainly is, dependable, enthusiastic, and determined! He is so good in French that just to hear him recite causes his teachers to fairly beam. Because his ability in tennis parallels his ability in French, he bids fair to oust Bill Tilden from his championship pinnacle.

JOHN GRECHAN MOSELY
A man of hope and forward looking mind.

Hi-Rocket 4, Circulation Manager 4; Athletic Association 2, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 2; Commercial Club 3, 4.

John is the "Cab Calloway" of our band. His clarinet will be missed in the orchestra. He will be a valuable member of some newspaper if he can continue to show the same ability and enthusiasm that has characterized his work on the Hi-Rocket.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS MULHOLLAND, JR.
"C. C."

The style is the man himself.

Hi-Rocket 1; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4, President 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4, Stunt Cast 2, 3; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Home Room Monitor 4; Aycock Debate 4.

Following the old adage "Hitch your wagon to a star," C. C. is concentrating on aeronautical engineering. It is a new field with plenty of room for the right kind of man to make the advancement the world is demanding. Stick in and fight, C. C.!

JOE H. MURNICK
"JOE"

Oh! Why should life all labor be?

Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3; Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Manager Football 3; Boxing Squad 2; Wrestling Squad 3; Monogram Club 3, 4.

Joe is an epicurean whom we all like to have around. Our teachers say that if he would concentrate as hard on his lessons as he works to elude them, he would be an ideal "stew-dunt." Joe aspires to be a surgeon. Oh! how he will "cut up."

DOROTHY ELIZABETH NEAGLE

"DOT"

*But let me silent be;
For silence is the speech of love,
The music of the spheres above.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Athletic Association 4; Needlework Guild 4.

"Dot" is another quiet, sincere, young lady, who commands many friends. She takes an active part in all school projects. With her persevering manner, she may hope for all the rewards of earnest endeavor.

WESLEY MARVIN NEWTON, JR.

"FIG"

Man is man and master of his fate.

Home Room Secretary 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2; Football 3, 4.

Perseverance, capability, and the willingness to serve—the outstanding traits of a successful business man are always being sought by the world's business leaders, who will have little trouble in discovering all of these in Marvin.

JOHN BARTLEY NICHOLS

"BART"

Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well.

Carr Literary Society 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3; Commercial Club 4; Senior Play 4.

"Bart" has the ability to analyze his actions and pick out his weak as well as his strong points. Another thing we have noticed is that he always gets what he goes after. That explains the willingness of the class to tack "M. D." after his name even before he enters college.

CHARLES EDWARDS NOELL, JR.

"CHARLIE"

Ambition has not rest.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Hi-Y Club 2; Football 3; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4; Ki-Wan Club 3; Home Room Vice-President 2, President 3; Commencement Marshal 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Messenger Staff 4; Aycock Debate 4.

"Charlie" is a tall, handsome blond who has become quite a ladies' man during his years at high school. Because of his jolly courteous manner, he has been able to make a number of friends among both sexes. If he rises as high in legal affairs as he has risen in Mr. Holton's history class, what a successful attorney-at-law we expect our "Charlie" to be.

JOHN ALLEN NORRIS

"TEDDY"

*Call you that backing of your friends?
A plague upon such backing!
Give me them that will face me.*

Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Home Room Vice-President 3; Football 2, 3, 4; Boxing 3; Baseball 3, 4.

Who can forget John's cheery smile, and his happy-go-lucky stride as he saunters through the halls? It's our guess that we'll see him step up for a high portion of success.

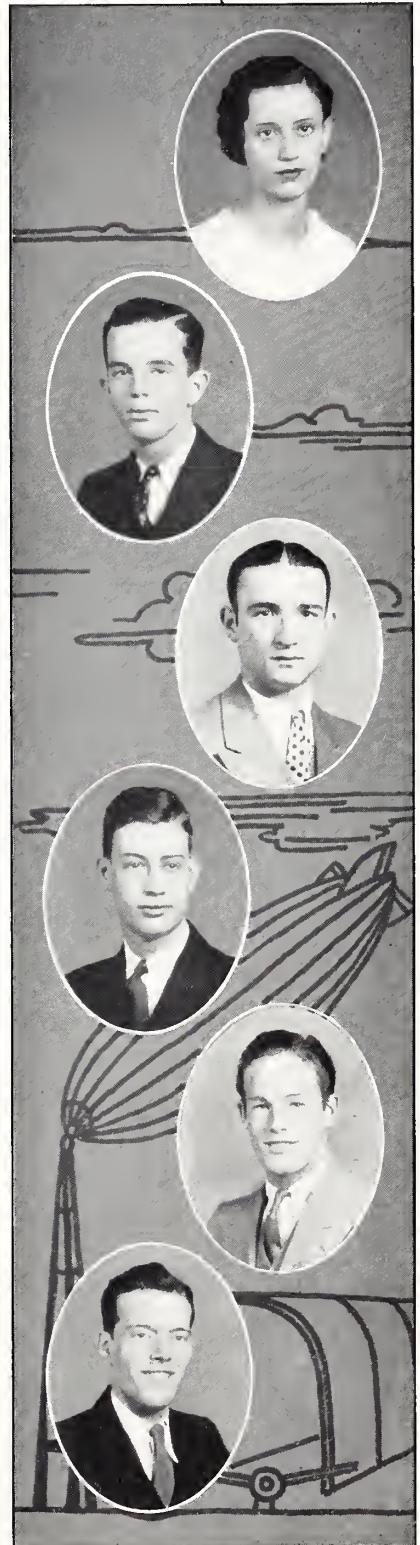

WILLIAM MELVIN OAKLEY

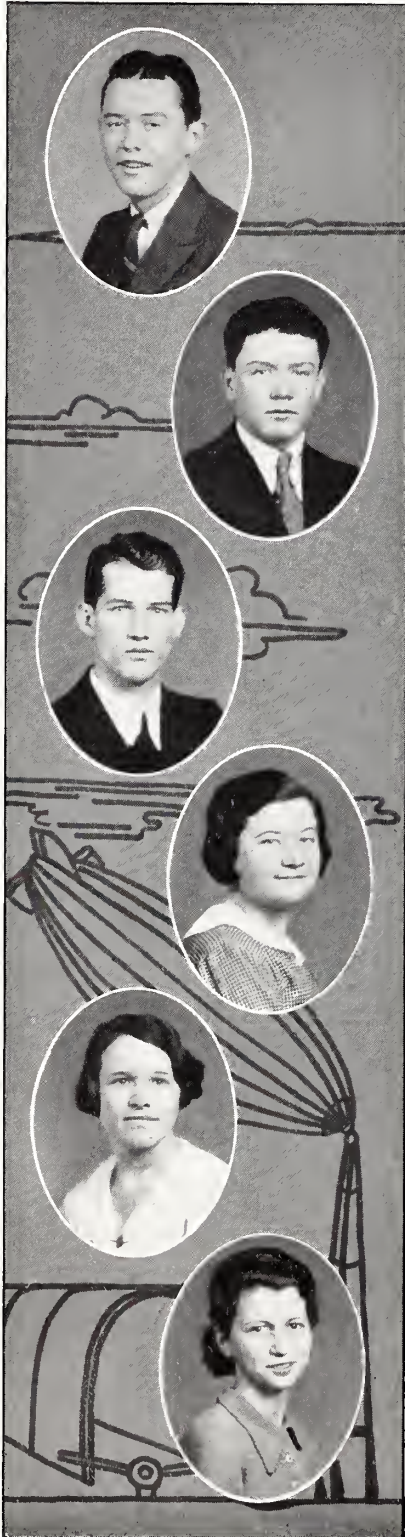

"RED"

There is a time for all things.

Carr Carmichael Literary Society 1, 2, Stunt Cast 3, Vice-President 3; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Class President 3; Home Room President 1, Treasurer 2, Monitor 4.

"Red" is fond of fair damsels, but he's not a Sir Walter Raleigh, for he intends to be an engineer so he can build bridges. Then the ladies can cross the bridge and not wet their dainty feet or—his coat.

BRUCE OLIVE

And when a lady's in the case all other things give place.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4, Cabinet 4.

Full of fun, a loyal student and a true friend—Bruce. He is one who will always do his part and do it well. Indeed his achievement in commercial studies paves the way for a bright career in his chosen profession.

ALBERT BART O'NEAL "BILLY"

Modesty becomes a young man.

Carmichael Society 4; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Billy" has become one of our best-liked and most popular students. He is very cheerful in cooperating with the school in all its undertakings. By his friendly smile and keen sense of humor he has gained a number of lasting friends who are confident of his ability to succeed in his lifework.

LEANDER PARRISH, JR. "LEE"

*The wisest man could ask no more of fate
Than to be simple, modest, manly, true.*

Football 2, 3, 4; Nature Study Club 4, Vice-President 4; Tennis 4; Commercial Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

"Lee" gave us his best in football and then turned to art. His ability has carried him far in his new field. A regular fellow, a steady worker, and a jolly, good companion, "Lee" will win his way.

MARGARET ELIZABETH PARRISH "MARGE"

Good works are performed by perseverance.

Home Room Treasurer 3, Vice-President 1; Athena Literary Society 4, President 4; Athletic Association 4; Tennis Club 4.

Characteristic of all West Durham newcomers, "Marge" settled down under the instruction of Mrs. Egerton for a good hard tussle with the intricacies of our language. If she tackles the rest of her tasks the way she has this one, we need never fear that she will get aught but her just reward.

ELEANORA LOUISE PATTERSON "PAT"

*And in their motions harmony divine
So soothes her charming tones that God's own ear listens delighted.*

Mixed Chorus 1, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room Vice-President 3, Chaplain 4; Hi-Rocket 4.

She's little, and her name's little, but she can certainly master a big organ in a big way. Leave it to Pat—she'll do the seemingly impossible every time.

AGNES ELLEN PERRY "LAZY"

One inch of joy surmounts of grief a span.

Southgate Literary Society 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Sport Club 2.

Agnes has found that the way to get the most out of life is to put the most possible into it. Although she enjoys a lot of fun, she can get down and "dig" when necessary. So we've decided Agnes is really not so "Lazy" as her nickname implies.

DORIS ROSE PERRY
"RED"

I hasten to laugh at everything, for fear of being obliged to weep.

Southgate Literary Society 1, 3; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3; Girls' Athletic Club 1; Girls' Club 1, 2; Current Events Club 3; Art Club 3.

Hear that laughter! It's none other than "Red," emitting some of the joy she finds in life. She's "crammed" full of energy that springs forth with leaps and bounds. The beauty of it, however, is that it always happens at the right time and in the right place.

IVA LEE PICKARD
"PICK"

*Merrily, Merrily shall I live now,
Under the blossom that hangs on the bough.*

Southgate Literary Society 3; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4.

"Pick-ing" bits of pep and joy from her daily paths, for such her nickname implies, Iva Lee adds new spice to life at D. H. S. Because she is a girl good to look at and entertaining to be with, she usually attracts a group of happy, delighted people.

WALLACE SLATER PICKARD
"PICK"

Good nature is the sign of large and generous soul.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Tennis Club 4; Football 2; Wrestling 4; Athletic Association 2, 3.

What is the height of ambition? "Pick" finds it to be aeronautical engineering. For this reason we can account for his eager desire to reach the highest altitude in his future flights. At present he is directing his efforts toward the engineering school at State College.

CLARENCE T. POE
"C. T."

*For art is Nature made by Man
To man the interpreter of God.*

Franklin Literary Society 3, Secretary 3, Vice-President 3; Art Club 4; Messenger 4.

Although Clarence is a new student from West Durham High, he has revealed his abilities in only a short while. He's a born artist, and his unusual talents will carry him far in the artistic world.

HENRY CLAY POE
"MUD"

Where there's a will there's a way.

Literary Society, W. D. H. S. 3, Secretary 3, Treasurer 3.

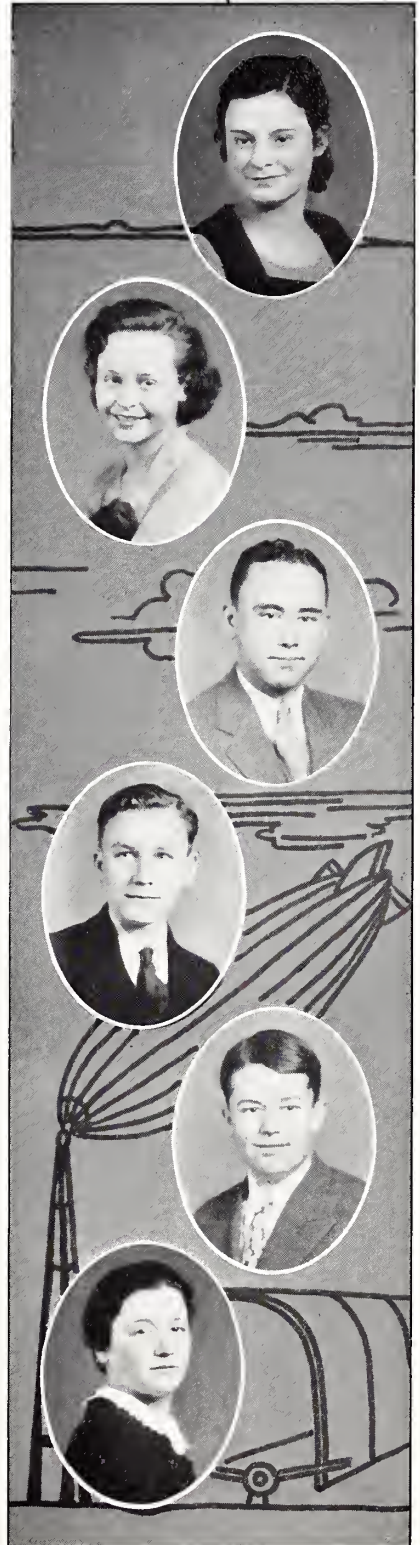

We have learned all about "Mud," in his one short year at D. H. S. It's a shame the way he adores French. Yet, he's at his best on the golf links—a champion golf player.

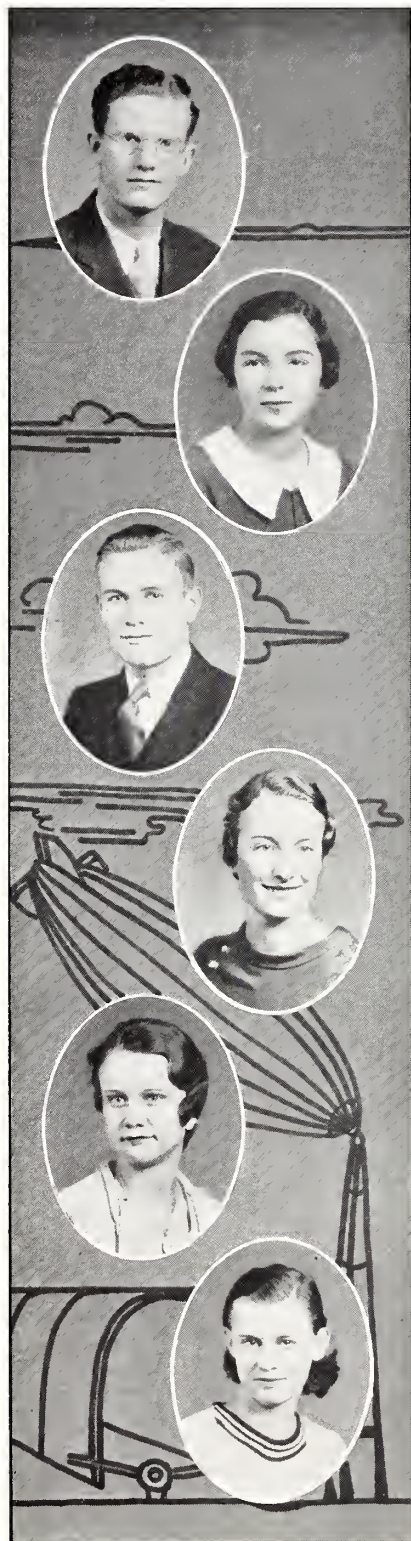

BETTY FRANCES POLLARD
"BETTY"

Coquetry is the champagne of love.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 3; Home Room Treasurer 3, President 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4, Director 4.

Who is "Petite Bettee"? Who is she, that all the swains adore? She is a slice of personality, plus a ton of energy, thoroughly seasoned with an affable disposition and an admirable character.

EARL SMITH POOLE
"COUNT"

He fills his lifetime with deeds.

Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3, President 4; Judicial Committee 3, 4; Coroso Play 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4.

Diplomatic, dramatic, and fun-loving is this triple-natured "Count." The student who endeavors to fill his shoes will have his hands full. How Earl has managed to take over the problems of the Coöperative Class presidency, keep his grades up to normal, and hold a responsible place in the business world is something well worth talking about.

CONRADE LA VERNE PORTERFIELD
"DYNAMITE"

*I profess not talking; only this
Let each man do his best.*

Home Room Secretary 3, 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4.

Coming from West Durham High School, La Verne has great strength of character, dependability, and practical common sense. These qualities create a feeling of admiration and respect which will help her as a teacher.

JOFFRE WESLEY RAY
"JOF"

Power can do by gentleness that which violence fails to accomplish.

A true gentleman is "Jof" and a really worthwhile one. In his quiet, refined way he has won for himself such a place in Durham High, that, although he has been in our school only one year, we are proud to claim him as our very own.

MARION ELIZABETH READE

*Her beauty makes
This vault a feasting presence full of light.*

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Marshal 2, President 4; Home Room President 4; Secretary 2, 3; Messenger 3, 4; Class Secretary 4; Safety Driving Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Senior Play Cast 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4, Director 3, Head Director 4.

Marion is a girl whom everyone has learned to love. With her slender, graceful figure and lovely smile, she makes friends wherever she goes. Because of her cheerful word for all, we are sure she will find some worthwhile place in life.

BEVERLY REDFORD
"BEB"

*Low gurgling laughter, as sweet
As the swallow's song in the South,
And a ripple of dimples that, dancing, meet
By the curves of a perfect mouth.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Dramatic Club 3; Home Room Vice-President 2, 3, Secretary 4.

"Beb's" sweet disposition is admired by everyone. She knows when to work, and when to play—and she does both exceptionally well.

BERTHA BLANCHE REGAN
"BERT"

Glory follows virtue as if it were a shadow.

Athena Literary Society 4.

"Bert" is another girl from West Durham High School who has caused us to love and appreciate that institution. She is quiet and unassuming, but she has succeeded in gaining the respect and admiration of all her classmates.

EUTICUS THOMAS RENN
 "TICUS"

Talent of the highest order, and such as is calculated to command admiration.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Current Events Club 2, 3.

If one were a stranger to the city of Durham and chanced to visit our school during assembly period on a day when Euticus was singing, one would positively be fascinated by the golden, mellow, richness of his voice. He can use his talent not only to add beauty and culture, but also to bring wit and humor to this world of ours.

ELIZABETH COVINGTON RILEY
 "LIB"

Oh, I am stabb'd with laughter.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3; Chaplain 4; Stunt Cast 3; Home Room Treasurer 1; Library Council 3, 4, Vice-President 4; French Club 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Athletic Association 4; May Court 3; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

A girl of rare charm and beauty, a student of high scholarship, a young lady of courteous manner and pleasing personality is "Lib." Nothing but success can await her.

CLARA CUNNINGHAM ROBERSON "PATRICIA"

And her "Yes" once said to you Shall be "Yes" for evermore.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 1, 3, 4, Vice-President 3; Stunt Cast 3; Chaplain 4; Cheerleader 3; Hi-Rocket 3; Messenger Staff 3, 4; Assistant Editor 3; Editor-in-Chief 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Director 4; Home Room Vice-President 1; Chaplain 4; Safety Driving Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Abounding in talents, full of fun, always smiling as she sees the joyful side of life—that's "Patricia." In spite of her love for pleasure, she manages to take the leading rôle in every activity and to make an enviable scholastic record.

HELEN LONGWORTH ROBERSON
Those lovely lamps, these windows of the soul.

Athletic Association 1, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Chaplain 1; Treasurer 3; Vice-President 4; Girls' Club 1; Hi-Rocket 4; Home Room President 1, 3; Chaplain 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

Helen possesses a beautiful pair of brown eyes—eyes that sparkle with fun and soften with sympathy. Beauty is not all that characterizes Helen. We find in her other admirable characteristics: good sportsmanship, friendliness, wit, and lots of pep.

VIRGINIA EDITH ROBERSON "GINYA"

With her eyes in flood with laughter.

Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4; President 4; Vice-President 3; Critic 4; Girls' Club 2; Athletic Association 4.

Dancing eyes, rosy cheeks, laughing mouth—that's what we call a beautiful combination. And what's more, that combination, which is fitted to one of the best natures in D. H. S., has won for "Ginya" friends, admiration, and respect.

HAROLD WATTS ROGERS
 "BRIGGSY"

On what strange stuff ambition feeds!

Coöp Class 3, 4; Marshal 4; Judicial Committee 4; Home Room Vice-President 2; Treasurer 1; Hi-Y Club 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1; Blackwell Literary Society 1; Stunt Cast 1; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3; Stunt Cast 2; Track 1, 3, 4; Cheerleader 1, 2; Coroso Player 4; Band 1; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2; Baseball 3, 4.

How the fairer sex of our institution will exist when "Harold W." departs, is another unsolved problem. If Harold can sell as well as he can vamp, there is no reason why he should not be a complete success.

JOHN WILLIAM ROGERS

"JOHN W."

It is good

To lengthen to the last a sunny mood.

Messenger Staff 1, 3; Hi-Rocket 4; Home Room President 1, 3; Carmichael Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Ki-Wan Club 1, 3; Dramatic Class 3; Athletic Association 1, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

Just step up and meet Mr. Perpetual Motion himself. Sunny smile never lacking, wit personified, brilliance unlimited—that's John Rogers. After all, how could such a combination fail?

WALTER BRANTLEY ROGERS, JR.

"WALT"

His heart as far from fraud as heaven from earth.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Chaplain 3; Stunt Cast 4; Commercial Club 2, 3; Home Room Treasurer 2, 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Glider Club 2.

To know Walter is to like him. His ready wit, his willingness to help others and his general good disposition make him welcome on all occasions. We are assured of a successful future for him.

JOHN TIMOTHY SALMON, JR.

"JUNNIE"

*A little nonsense now and then,
Is relished by the wisest men.*

Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 1; Carr-Carmichael 2; Carr 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Wrestling 3, 4; Football 2, 3; Monogram Club 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Home Room Treasurer 1, 3.

"Junnie" easily qualifies to the measurements of a heartbreaker: tall, dark, and handsome. But in spite of these distractions, he has found time for athletics and other activities. "Salmon" is a fish in the water when it comes to wrestling.

ANNIE MAE SAVAGE

"JACK"

The blush is beautiful, but it is sometimes inconvenient.

That "Jack" studies with great diligence is shown by the excellent marks she receives on her report card. Not only that, but she's far from being a book-worm. Her extensive knowledge received here flavored with her abundant common sense makes a rare combination.

GEORGE GRAHAM SAVAGE

"FRITZ"

Too low they build who build beneath the stars.

Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2; Stage Committee 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Carefree, happy, and full of fun is this debonair young "Savage." And yet, George is a willing coöperator when he is asked to do a favor. His work on the stage during the play productions of recent years has meant much toward furthering dramatics in Durham High.

VIRGINIA ELOISE SHARPE

"JINKS"

*True happiness ne'er entered at an eye;
True happiness resides in things unseen.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Secretary 4; Coroso Play 3; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 3; Girls' Club 2.

Fifty-nine dainty inches of fun-loving happiness—that's "Jinks"! If she performs her future tasks as well as she did in the leading rôle in "Tommy," we know what to expect—a fine secretary.

ELBERT LEE SHERMAN

"DIZZY"

My content is my best having.

Blackwell Literary Society 1, 2; Commercial Club 3, 4; Current Events Club 4; Vice-President 4.

Although we call him "Dizzy," he's anything else, when it comes to radios or soda fountains. The same steadiness and reliability which has characterized his every undertaking will certainly carry him on.

ROGER JACKSON SHERRON, JR.

"R. J."

A man should endeavor to be as pliant as a reed, yet as hard as cedar-wood.

Science Club 2; Current Events Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4.

He's quick-on-the-trigger when two bells ring, and he's smart as a whip in science. Thoughts of aviation set his ambition soaring. Quick, keen, ambitious—could you have a better combination?

EDYTHE LUCILE SLAYTON

"E"

Instruction enlarges the natural powers of the mind.

Library Council 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4.

"E" wishes to be a teacher. She is so sweet and sympathetic that she will never teach her pupils "by the tune of the hickory stick." Her services as a teacher will always be in great demand.

HELEN LAVINE SLOAN

"WIMPY"

*Happy I am; from care I'm free!
Why aren't they all contented like me?*

Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 4; Girls' Sport Club 2.

Although "Wimpy" loves to have fun, she never lets her pleasure interfere with her activities or her scholastic record. When we hear Mr. Twaddell's choral class harmonizing a little better than usual, we know that Helen is right there with her soothing soprano.

FRANCES MARIE SMITH

"TANNIE"

*Whom neither the shape of danger dismay,
Nor thought of tender happiness betray.*

Girls' Sport Club 2; O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Needlework Guild 4; Basketball 1, 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Home Room Officer 3.

A slim wisp of a girl with a crown of gold is "Tannie." Although she is usually serious, her rare smile is something worth winning. She is a friendly little body and some day hopes to nurse us through our ills. May you soar high, Frances!

RUTH POLLARD SMITH

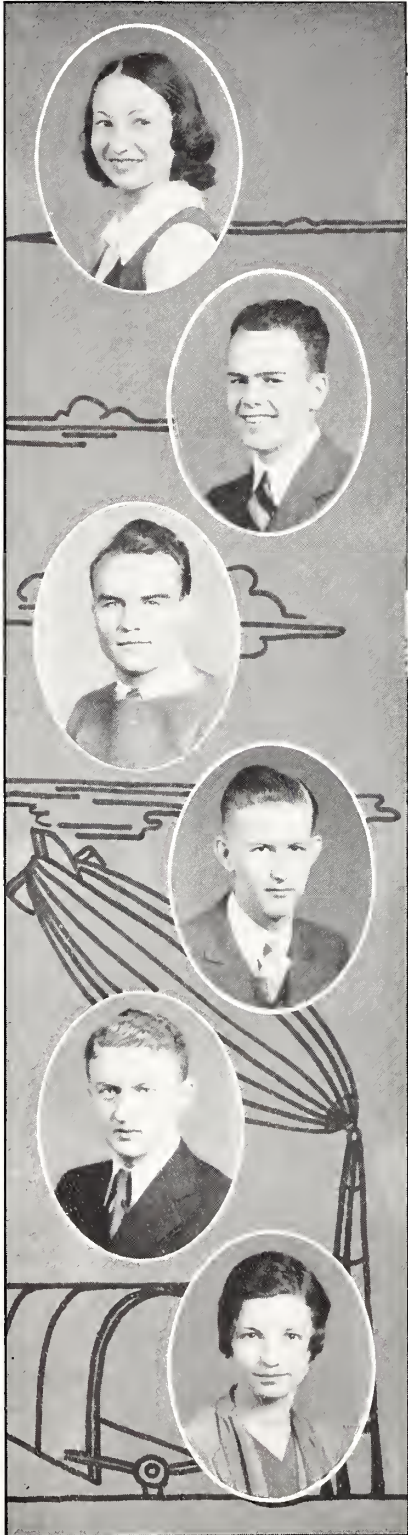

"RUFUS"

*The light of love, the purity of grace.
The mind, the music breathing from her face.*

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 1.

Needless to say the Glee Club will miss Ruth's melodious voice in all of its renditions. We shall be lost without her sunny personality around D. H. S. Comforting enough, though, is the satisfaction of knowing that a certain tall, dark young man will figure prominently in Ruth's future career.

EDITH EARLE SOUTHERLAND

"BITSY"

*They serve God well,
Who serve His creatures.*

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Current Events Club 2, 3; Choral Class 2, 3; Hope Valley Ball Team 3; Commercial Club 4.

"Bitsy" is a diminutive whirl-wind of talking and laughter. Her talent in art makes her delight in sketching. In years to come we'll call "Bitsy" with her sunny smile to nurse us through our ills.

THOMAS FULLER SOUTHGATE, JR.

"TOM"

*A combination and a form indeed
Whose every god did seem to set his seal
To give the world assurance of a man.*

Student Body President 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Hi-Rocket 3; Home Room President 1, 2, 3, Vice-President 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Messenger Staff 2, 4, Business Manager 4; Aycock Debate 4.

Versatile "Tom" presents the culmination of all the qualities that go to make a man—leadership, personality, ability. Having won the admiration of the entire student body, he is a president who has the confidence of the crowd.

HOWARD MANNING SPAIN

"TOAD"

Action is eloquence.

Carmichael Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4, Captain 4; Track 2, 3, 4, Captain 2; Class Vice-President 3; Student Body Treasurer 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y Club 1, 2; Commercial Club 4.

"Toad" is one of Durham High's best athletes, and one who takes a part in many other activities of the school. If he does as well in the financial world as he has done on the football field, he'll surely cross the goal line of success.

JOHN ALBERT SPENCER

"REVEREND"

There is no true orator who is not a hero.

Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3; Boxing 2, 3; Band 2, 3; Orchestra 2, 3; Home Room Vice-President 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, Vice-President 3.

"Reverend" is a born orator, a hard worker, and a first rate pugilist. He's a chap who likes to take over big things and make a success of them. Always immaculately dressed and courteous, he could easily be mistaken for a "man about town." John's a good sport and one whom we have enjoyed.

JACOB STADIEM

"JAKIE"

A wise man never loses anything if he has himself.

Commercial Club 4.

"How do ya like it?" should have been Jakie's quotation. The habit of perseverance is an invaluable asset in the tussle with this world. Training along this line in French class will help Jake, even if he doesn't learn any French.

MARY RUTH STALLINGS

"RUTH"

A friend is worth all hazards you can run.

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Girls' Sport Club 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Varsity Basketball 3, 4; Varsity Hockey 3.

Few girls have the ability to play basketball like Mary Ruth, who has won her place on the varsity. Since she doesn't limit her interests, she sings, she dances, and she studies—when necessary.

ZEB JUDD STONE

"KID"

*A rare boy, noble and true,
With plenty of wit and sincerity, too.*

Class President 2, 3; Franklin Literary Society 1, 3, Chaplain 3.

In "Kid" Stone we see another of those well-poised, efficient young gentleman who has recently come to us from another school. He has demonstrated his quality by the manner in which he found his place and slipped into it, causing not the slightest disturbance to anyone. After all, is that not the truest test of character?

VIRGINIA STONER

"GINGER"

*In her experience all her friends relied,
Heaven was her help, nature was her guide.*

Adelphian Literary Society 1, 2, 3, Chaplain 2, 3; Athena Literary Society 4; Glee Club 2, 3, President 3; Home Room Treasurer 3.

Virginia is a big girl with a big heart, who does big things in a great big way. She is jolly, companionable, nonchalant—a pleasant addition to any group. It's a good thing there's a lot of her, for her many friends all want to share her.

MARY JANE STRAYHORN

Beauty draws more than oxen.

O. Henry Literary Society 1, 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3; Basketball 1; Athletic Association 1, 2, 4; Girls' Club 1.

Sweetness and beauty enrobed in smiles—that's Mary Jane. She has a way with the boys that is both delightful and entertaining. When she succeeds in her chosen field of nursing and dons the white uniform—well, just wait!

EDITH ANGELINE STROTHER

Charm strikes the sight but merit wins the soul.

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4, Stunt Cast 3, Library Council 3, 4, Vice-President 3, Secretary 4; French Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 4; Commercial Club 4; Girls' Club 2; Home Room Vice-President 2, 4; Basketball 2; Messenger Staff 4.

Bright, happy, winsome, and lovable is Edith! She has acquired many friends by her kindness and attractiveness. She acquires not only numerous friends but also a place on the "A" honor roll. Such a combination—popularity and brains will bring success.

WILLIE LEE SUGG

"BILL"

A mighty spirit fills that little frame.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4; Girl Reserves 2, 3; Adelphian Literary Society 2, 3; Glee Club 2.

Although "Bill" has had the opportunity to brighten our school for only a short while we are proud to claim her as one of our ablest and best friends. Her attractive manner is certain to make her a popular instructor of physical education.

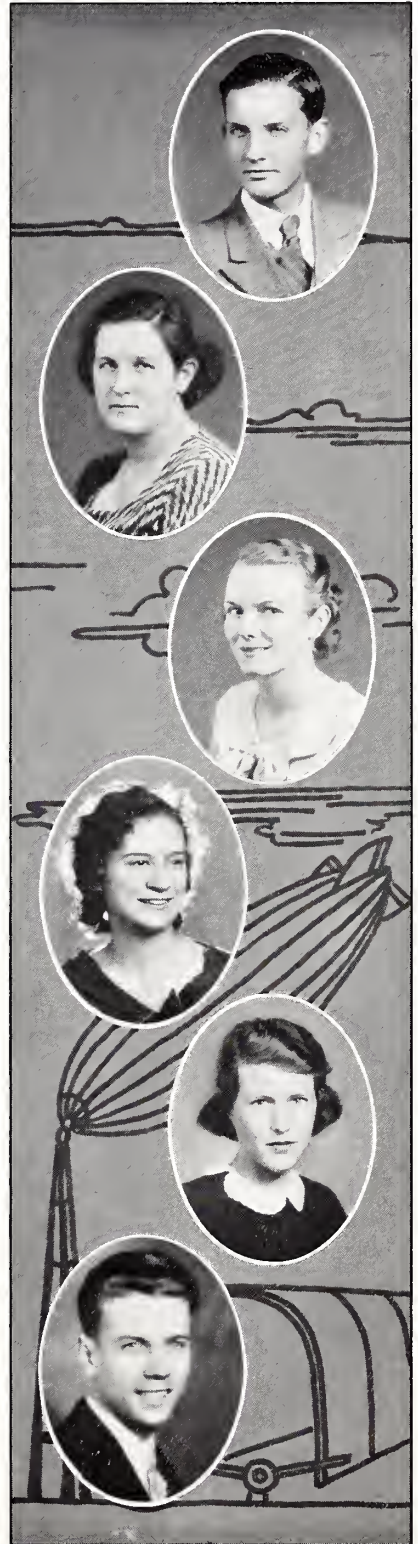

PERRY MELOAN TAYLOR, JR.

"JUNE"

He undertakes to prove by force of argument, a man's no horse.

Walter Hines Page Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Boys' Chorus 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Band 2.

"June" is a person of many words. To add a few points to his English grade he waxes eloquent on all occasions. No doubt his ability to debate will enable him to further his cause in the engineering world.

BERTHA MYRTLE TEELE

Silent dignity is her great charm.

Myrtle came to us from East Durham. Whether she developed her dignity and charm there or at D. H. S. we don't know. Her ambition is to be a stenographer. Maybe some day she'll have the President as her boss.

MARY ELIZABETH TEER

"MARY LIB"

*A cheerful life is what the Muses love
A soaring spirit is their prime delight.*

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

The class of '33 was indeed fortunate in having "Mary Lib" return after a two-year sojourn at Castle School. We wanted her, we've enjoyed her, we hate to see her go, and we're glad we had a chance to know her.

HENRY WINFREY THOMAS

"WIN"

A just fortune awaits the deserving.

Home Room President 1, Vice-President 3, Monitor 2, 3; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 1, 2; Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4; President 4; Glider Club 2; Manager of Boxing 3; Manager of Baseball 3; Monogram Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Commercial Club 1, 4.

"Win" is surely an appropriate nickname for Mr. Winfrey. For whether it be battles, respect, grades, or girls, he always wins.

LYDAE MAE THOMPSON

"PINKHAM"

Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Glee Club 2.

Lydae Mae, efficient at the typewriter, skillful at the piano, at home in the water, and at ease on the dance floor, is a living example of what one can be if one both plays and works with equal enthusiasm.

RUTH CAROLYN THOMPSON

"BABY"

Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit.

Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Cabinet 4.

Ruth is quiet, modest, and agreeable. Her modesty hides a vast amount of ability which is shown only when it is necessary to display it. When this little girl leaves us, the profession of nursing will receive a very capable candidate.

DOROTHY ORENA TRIECE

"DOT"

*Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are.*

Girls' Club 1, 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 4; Commercial Club 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 4.

Although "Dot" is a hard-worker, she finds time to enjoy basketball and dramatics. She is a conscientious student who generally succeeds in her undertakings. With these qualities she will soar high in her future profession and land at the summit of her ambitions.

DOUGLAS RANDOLPH UMSTEAD

"DOUG"

The noblest mind the best contentment has.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; President 4; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Boxing 3, 4; Home Room President 4; Secretary 2; Vice-President 3; Treasurer 3; Commercial Club 3.

Frankness and sincerity combined with a charming personality could not fail to turn out a great favorite. Perhaps that explains "Doug's" popularity. More than that, his tact and friendliness will help him as a business man.

KATHERINE MANNING UPCHURCH

"KAT"

Sincerity and truth are the basis of every virtue.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 1, 3, 4; Vice-President 1; Treasurer 3; French Club 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Girls' Club 1; Athletic Association 1, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 3, 4; Class Vice-President 1; President 4; Hi-Rocket 1, 3, 4; News-Editor 4; Home Room Vice-President 1, 4; President 3; Varsity Basketball 4.

Katherine is an "A" student, a leader in activities, and a good athlete. She's just an "All-American girl."

MARY JOSEPHINE VEASEY

"JOE"

Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.

Home Room Secretary 3, 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4.

Steady and dependable as well, is "Joe." There are few so reliable that we may compare them with her. She is full of pep and enthusiasm. This same pep and efficiency will surely bring her success as a stenographer.

CLAUDE WALLACE VICKERS

"WA"

Deeds, not words.

Commercial Club 4; Nature Study Club 4; Secretary 4; Home Room Vice-President 1; Treasurer 2.

For four years Wallace has been silently but surely making his mark here. He has done his own work and done it well. Because of his neatness and good taste in dress, he is considered one of the "fashion plates" of our class. There is a place in the community waiting for him.

ELLA ELIZABETH VICKERS

"LIB"

I would be friends with you and have your love.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Hi-Rocket 4; Library Council 4; Needlework Guild 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

"Lib" is dainty, graceful, and charming, a person with no little ability. One needs only to know her slightly to realize her true worth and value, but one wants to know her fully after knowing her in the least degree.

VIVIAN VICKERS

*Good-natured, generous, jolly, and clever,
Her tongue, like a Ford, goes on forever.*

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Dramatic Class 3; Athletic Association 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 3; May Court 3; Needlework Guild 4.

Vivian would make a superb actress, but she prefers being a secretary instead. However, everyone will miss her cheerful words and happy smiles as well as her good class work. Her charm, poise, and faultless taste give her a personality we all admire.

MARY CATHREN WALTERS
"KITTY"

Such joy ambition finds.

Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; French Club 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4; Girls' Club 2; Needlework Guild 4.

"Kitty" is an artistic soul, loves music, literature, and art. With a charming manner, she acquires A's on all of her subjects. In her chosen profession—the teaching of music—she will impart to the young North Carolinians her love of the beautiful.

RALPH H. WARD, JR.
"HIRAM"

For he was studious—of his ease.

Current Events Club 2, 3, 4; Track 4.

Although "Hiram" spends the greater part of his time studying, he is never too busy to take part in any constructive movement. His pleasant disposition has won him many friends, who wish him well as he continues his studies in Mechanical Engineering at N. C. State.

HASSIE LEE WARREN

*The maid who modestly conceals
Her beauties, while she hides reveals.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 3, Chaplain 3, Treasurer 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; May Court 2; Home Room Secretary 3, Treasurer 4; Girls' Club 2.

She's lovely—but, what is better yet, she's not conscious of her loveliness. Then, too, here's another case where brains and beauty walk hand in hand, and that's something to talk about.

ANNIE LOUISE WEAVER
"LOU"

*Men may come and men may go,
But my tongue goes on forever.*

Adelphian Society 1, 2, 3, Treasurer, Secretary, Marshal; Girls' Council 1, 2, 3, Secretary 2, 3; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4.

"Lou" has won many friends by her ability to brighten the dark side of life. Probably her reason for liking history is that she likes to listen to persons such as Mr. Holton, who can talk continuously. Keep up that smile, "Lou"! It's bound to get you through to your future profession—whatever it be.

ROBERT CALVIN WEAVER
"BOB"

'Tis good-will makes intelligence.

Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Coroso Play 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Page Literary Society 2, 3.

Good-natured? Yes. Bob is a regular fellow, and a real coöp. Without his help as a printer, the work of the Coroso players would be sadly crippled. Go to it, Bob, we're with you in all your endeavors.

FRANCES GERTRUDE WEBB
"CHANSIE WANSE"

*So much her courage and her mercy strive,
She wounds to cure, and conquers to forgive.*

Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Commercial Club 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association.

How that typewriter rings when her hand gives it a touch! Surely her studious habits and her capability in anything she undertakes will lead her safely to her goal.

DORIS CROXTON WELLS

*Heart on her lips, and soul within her eyes,
Soft as her clime and sunny as her skies.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

Demure, quaint, lovable Doris is one of our proudest possessions. With her whole heart's welcome in her smile, and her dainty manner all wrapped up in more than her share of feminine pulchritude, she captivates everyone. Hence, the host of friends, as well as the successes, that are rightly hers.

EUGENE WARREN WHITAKER, JR.

"GENE"

They love, they hate, but cannot do without him.

Baseball 3; Home Room Treasurer 2, Secretary 3; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4; Secretary 4; Dramatic Class 3, 4; Marshal 4; Boys' Chorus 2, 3, 4; Tennis Club 3, 4; Science Club 2; Library Council 4; Kiwan Club 3; Mixed Chorus 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4.

Who is it that sings away all our cares and troubles? It's none other than little "Gene" Whitaker, Durham High's own crooner. Although he aspires to be a doctor, we will surely see his name in the headlines—another Rudy Vallee!

VIRGINIA KATHERINE WHITE

"JENNIE"

True Charity, a plant divinely nurs'd.

Girls' Club 1, 2; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Mixed Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Council 3, 4; Dramatic Club 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Virginia, small and mischievous, continually imitating and playing jokes on her acquaintances, has, in some remarkable manner, found time for other things, too. With the excellent combination of dramatic and musical ability, that she possesses, we certainly expect her to make her place among the Broadway Stars.

ADA WARD WHITMORE

All the world's a stage.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 1, 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 3; Secretary 4; Athletic Association 1, 4; Messenger Staff 4; Needlework Guild 4; Dramatic Class 3, 4; President 4; Treasurer of Home Room 1.

Ada has the dramatic powers of Greta Garbo, the winsomeness of Zazu Pitts, and the sparkle of Nancy Carroll all wrapped in one. When she saunters across the stage and gives us a "little Marlene," she just carries us away. Some day she'll sweep the world off its feet.

WILLIAM T. WHITLEY

"BILL"

There are very few persons who pursue science with true dignity.

Phy-Chem Club 2; Tennis Club 4; Science Club 1; Messenger Staff 4.

William has unusual ability in the field of science. Though quiet and reserved, he has proved himself outstanding in his school work. If he's not working some hard physics problem, he's playing on the piano.

JOSEPH S. WIGGINS

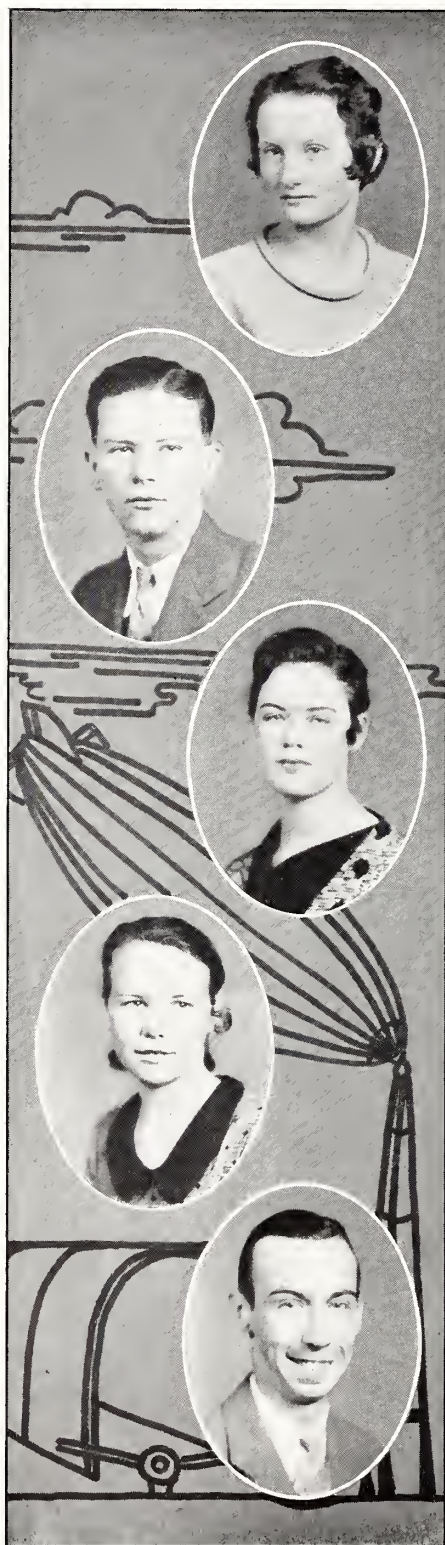

"JOE"

One's outlook is a part of his virtue.

Athletic Association 4; Franklin Literary Society 3; Baseball 3.

"Joe" is one of those handsome boys who came from West Durham High School to join our class. He is a jolly good fellow, something of a ladies' man, and an all-round good scout. If anyone ever deserves a big slice of success, it's Joe.

HELEN GENEVIEVE WILLIAMS

"GEE WHIZZ"

She has a daily beauty in her life.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Girls' Club 1, 2; Mixed Chorus 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 1, 2, 3; Stunt Cast 1; Southgate Literary Society 4.

Lucky will be the employer who secures Helen for a secretary. Although a girl full of pep and fun, she can "link down" to work at the right time. By her valuable work on the Hi-Rocket she has proved her ability in typing. Speed and accuracy mark this capable aspirant to the business world.

JAMES THOMAS WILLIAMS

"JIM"

Loathing pretence, he did with cheerful will

What others talked of while their hands were still.

Commercial Club 1; Civics Club 4

Jim is well-known as one of our most industrious and dependable students. In his quiet and efficient way he has accomplished much during his high-school days. Always willing and eager to take his part in any activity, "Jim" has acquired many lasting friendships during his school career.

NOLA MAE WOODALL

"DEE"

A workman is known by his works.

Varsity Basketball 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Sports Club 2; Glee Club 1.

"Dee" is going to make an ideal private secretary. Seldom is it that one finds looks and intelligence combined. Her thorough mastery of shorthand and typewriting plus a year's training on the Hi-Rocket staff spell a successful career for "Dee."

LYDIA ANNE WOODS

"PETE"

A tender heart, a will inflexible.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4; Athletic Association 4.

Behind her quiet reserved manner "Pete" has lots of good humor. She doesn't talk just anytime, but when she does it's bound to be something worth while. During her one year in D. H. S. she has given her whole-hearted cooperation in all undertakings.

HYDER STONE WORKMAN

"JIMMIE"

I would live to study, and not study to live.

Commercial Club 1, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 1, 3; Coöp Class 1, 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Coöp Minstrel.

Although only six feet one, "Little Jimmie" seems to get as much out of life as anyone. Despite the fact that he seems to be far from serious, we believe that he will do justice to the training he has received in Durham High when he enters his chosen occupation.

Records and Crack-Ups

AS the dirigible D. H. S. soars higher through the clouds toward success, the Aces enjoy their last flight on the ship and recall their happy experiences of the past three years.

In September 1930 we entered the School of Aeronautics as Fledglings and on our first flight with Ben Brogden as leader, participated in many of the stunt flights and races. The following spring, just before the plane landed for repairs, we enjoyed a large party which concluded the program of our Freshman Crew.

During the next flight in which the Fledglings became Pilots, the same general spirit of coöperation prevailed, especially in making the athletic campaign a great success. Later, our spirit and enthusiasm was revealed again by our liberal support of the Senior play of that year, namely: "What Happened to Jones." At the end of this session, we, the Juniors gave, in honor of our Senior Classmates who were departing, a semi-formal reception. This well-received entertainment concluded the work for 1931-32.

As a reward for incessant labor and worthwhile accomplishments in the paths of progress, we, at the beginning of the last flight, assumed the name of Aces and succeeded to the place of honor. This time we chose Katherine Upchurch, who had been a very faithful and worthy Pilot, to succeed William Oakley as our leader. She was assisted by three other capable officers, Dick Howerton, vice-president; Marion Reade, secretary; and Thomas Borland, treasurer.

Because of the success of the dirigible's first undertaking, the annual athletic campaign, a series of stunt flights and races was planned, all of which proved to be very profitable and interesting forms of recreation. Many of the awards and high places were won by the Seniors. The first group of races, sponsored by the football team under the name of "Bulldogs," was held between the members of the D. H. S. crew and those of other neighboring dirigibles. In these contests, skill was shown by Rupert Bryan, Beverly Ferrell, Elmo Hackney, William King, and Captain Howard Spain. As soon as the weather and season permitted, a series of basketball, baseball, track, boxing, and wrestling matches were held. Those Aces who participated on the basketball court and won distinction were: Tom Borland, Herbert Cheek, Beverly Ferrell, and William King. Although the Aces did not take much part in wrestling and boxing, John Llewellyn won for himself a name in the latter field, and Henry Miller and James Love, both Pilots, gave promises of a bright future, perhaps for the higher squad next year. In track we looked again to "Toad" Spain, our old star, and in baseball our eyes fell upon Lamar Bruce, Herbert Cheek, and Beverly Ferrell.

Among the outstanding girl athletes of the Ace Division were: Louise Billings, Lona Couch, Hazel Gantt, Ada Holloway, Bess McGlothlin, and Katherine Upchurch. These received letters for their noteworthy achievements on the athletic field.

Another project of interest was the publication of the annual guide book or book of records with Clara Roberson as Editor-in-Chief, Charlotte Markham and Kathryn Montague, Co-Literary Editors, Murray Jones, Art Editor, and Tom Fuller Southgate, Jr., Business Manager.

Later in the spring came another large undertaking, the Triangular Aycock Debate. Although our debaters at Fayetteville did not win, they put up a fine argument and together with the success made at Raleigh gave the other teams a struggle. Our famed orators of the affirmative side were Peter Moody and Tom Southgate, while those on the negative were C. C. Mulholland, Jr. and George Young (a Pilot).

A number of the Seniors held places on the honor list for having upheld their scholastic records and having made considerable progress while on the ship. These were Wilsie Bussell, Frances Childs, Rosa L. Draughon, Charlotte Markham, Kathryn Montague, Elizabeth Riley, Edith Strother, Mary C. Walters, Bess McGlothlin, and Clara Roberson.

While the various recreations were being sponsored, the music clubs were producing several very accomplished musicians from the class of Aces, namely: Grace Carrington, Malcolm Mann, Erwin Peed, and Euticus Renn, who won recognition in voice in several programs presented during the flights, and M. T. Cousins, who revealed his talent with the trumpet.

As the small planes, floating from their hangars, circled about the sky affording beautiful scenery, Rhea Dana, Murray Jones, Jean Miller, and Eleanor Reuben were painting their paths to glory and fame in the art field.

As a means of communication between the various passengers of the dirigible, Peter Moody, as Editor-in-Chief, assisted by Frances Childs and Katherine Upchurch, Co-News Editors, Anne Izard, Literary Editor, and Thomas Borland, Business Manager, edited the "Hi-Rocket," the bi-weekly school publication.

As the end of the flight drew near, the Seniors planned and presented in the presence of the rest of the crew a delightful play—a thrilling mystery, "The Thirteenth Chair." The cast was composed of James Brown, Rupert Bryan, Tom Coble, Frances Childs, Wilson Hopkins, Gilbert Katz, Noni Lunsford, Kenneth MacKay, Hilda Marshall, Ned McAllister, Bess McGlothlin, Jean Miller, John Nichols, Marion Reade, John Spencer, Gene Whitaker, and Ada Whitmore. This play was one of the greatest of the achievements and events of the year.

In June 1933, having completed our required years of training and having enjoyed our three major flights, we, the Senior Aces, bade our friends on board farewell, and, leaving the dirigible D. H. S. to soar into the heavens, we sought the ship of life, which should bear us to higher fields.

Class Poem

Behind us stretch the blue we love,
 The skies of pleasant memory;
Before us lie worlds yet unknown
 Adventure open, wide, and free,
We would forever stay behind
 Could we but choose the easier way;
But life has work for us to do,
 So we are flying on today.

Though eager hearts now spur us on,
 Reluctant still we linger yet,
To bid adieu to our school-home,
 To loyal friends we'll ne'er forget.
However great the tasks may be
 That wait to test our strength and skill,
We know our Alma Mater's love
 Will keep us fighting, conqu'ring still.

With adoration for Her care
 Our hearts now swell in lofty praise,
Too full of gratitude and love
 To form a fit and worthy phrase.
She sends us forth with three great gifts
 To battle life's complexity;
Today we fly on, unafraid,
 With courage, faith, and loyalty.

Round the World in a Day (Prophecy)

THE plane was a perfect beauty; the weather was excellent; the passengers were most attractive; and my spirits were high. Because it was Labor Day there was an unusually large crowd at the airport, which is situated on top of the Oakley Building in New York. Of course, as you remember, William Oakley, the renowned architect and engineer, built this magnificent edifice a year ago, in the fall of 1950. Mr. Oakley was aided and assisted in this work by Eugene Whitaker, his apprentice.

The clock was just chiming ten when the warning sounded to stand by to board the excursion plane. I, along with about one hundred other happy people, mounted the sliding gangplank and, after locating my state-room, proceeded to the smoking lounge. I seated myself by a window on that side of the room which faces the ticket offices. Suddenly just as the plane was about to take-off, there was an excited movement near section R, and who should come hurrying toward me but my old friend, Marion Reade—late, as usual.

I immediately called a steward and asked him to bring Miss Reade to me as soon as she was settled. (I must pause in my narrative to inform you that Miss Reade is the present day Walter Winchell and holds an important position on the Herald-Sun, now edited by that great lecturer Edward Joseph McAllister.) In a few moments Marion came sauntering into the room looking most attractive in a stunning sport frock. I could see that she'd just visited Mlle. Pollards' modiste shoppe, one of the leading style shoppes of the world. Nearly bursting with curiosity to hear the latest news, I arose to meet Marion as she reached me.

"How do you do my deah?" said she in her best Virginia drawl. "You are looking most stunning this morning. And I must say that this last face lifting Mlle. Maude Dunn gave you is a decided improvement." (My face almost slipped back to where it had been five days ago.)

Conquering my embarrassment, I motioned her to a chair, and, after calling to the waiter to bring my lunch, settled back to enjoy myself. It wasn't long before my companion got started on her favorite subject.

"Well, Clara, I'll bet you'd never guess whom I ran into yesterday. No, don't try, I know you can't. It was your old flame, Tom Borland. My deah, you'd better thank your lucky stars that he never got really serious about you. Although he's simply rolling in money, he is quite bald, fat, and dreadfully uninteresting. You know, ever since he wrote his famous theory of alitution, he's just floating around in space. But he seems contented.

"By the way, what are you doing day after tomorrow? Gertrude Eakes is giving a bridge luncheon for Mrs. John Rogers. What? You didn't know? Why Rhea Dana just married him two days ago. She gave up her job to do it, because John said he didn't want any wife of his to work. Quite a nice job she had, too. She was secretary to Ambassador Southgate. It's really marvelous the way Tom has handled those Africans. Why he's got them down to the place that they only get cannibalistic on public holidays.

"I saw him just the other day when I was in Bagdad for a tea. Lady Geoffrey Cranton gave it. I know you remember her. Hilda Marshall. Her marriage was quite romantic. Why Patrick Crumpacker and the Lord almost came to harsh words over her. Exceedingly scandalous, don't you think, especially since Mr. Crumpacker and Mr. James Dodson had just presented their new peace compact to the conference at Geneva. My Lord finally won out when he threatened to expose Pat's hobby of collecting bottle tops.

And that reminds me. Bill King, the rich soft drink manufacturer, became critically ill last week. A doctor was called; when he came, he found that Bill had been living on soft drinks for the sake of economy. His wife, the former Frances Childs, was awfully upset. She told me Bill even put coca-cola in the baby's milk bottle. You know, I think that's shockingly cruel! Don't you?

Oh look! My deah, we're in Paris. Suppose we run over to see Mary Andrews. Her Law office is just down forty flights, and we have a half-hour stop."

Our visit to Mary was interesting though unexciting, but our return was most eventful. We stopped on the three hundredth floor to get a bite to eat and here we saw James Morgan jerking soda! He was also the lunch counter's official French-English interpreter! He made us excellent vanilla dopes; and, although he burned two sandwiches doing it, he at last turned over to us delicious hamburgers.

After eating, we proceeded on our way to the top of the building. As she stepped from the elevator, Marion stumbled over an old beggar who was drawing cartoons in chalk on the floor. The woman scrambled to her feet muttering protests, but when she saw us, she stopped still. The tears came to my eyes when I recognized my old school chum, Jean Miller. We talked with her until time for the ship to depart; and when we left, she was still muttering and wringing her hands.

After this sad meeting you can imagine how we welcomed the floor show which followed our supper. The show, which is the present sensation, is headed and owned by Mlle. Virginia Stoner, the famous toe dancer. Her entertainment was most delightful; especially so was the adagio act in which we saw three of our old friends, Nola Mae Woodall, Nick Ashby, and Peter Moody. Immediately after the show, the floor was cleared for dancing; the music was furnished by Clara Cockman and her Southern Chicks.

Marion and I retired around one-thirty while the plane sped across Asia. The stewardess woke me at eight o'clock. We were just passing over Colorado where the beauty of the scenery is absolutely breath-taking.

Having dressed, I sauntered into the lounge where Marion was already eating. (How she got ahead of me, I don't know). The eggs and bacon were perfectly delicious and the jam scones reduced my reducing will power to null and void. My companion and I inquired as to the identity of our chêf. Imagine our surprise when he turned out to be none other than our mutual friend, Duck Baldwin. Duck came in to speak to us. He looked resplendent in his high white cap, and pink and blue checkered apron. However, he was so thin that I called over the waiter and asked why. The waiter confided in a husky whisper that Duck was hen-pecked by his wife, the former Louise Wannamaker. Wonders never cease!

As we finished our un-hurried breakfast, we noticed that the plane was over the out-skirts of New York. The motors died and the plane landed on the Oakley Building Field at precisely ten o'clock. Marion and I said our farewells and parted. She, to go to her office, I to go to mine. I knew my patients would be waiting for a few more poundings. A chiropractor is so busy.

Old Goggles and Helmets

(Last Will and Testament)

NOW that this mighty monarch of the air glides majestically through the enveloping clouds and directs its course calmly downward to a timely landing, we, the Senior Aces aboard, realize that the grand finale to our successful flights of four well-spent, enterprising years has been attained. When we put down our old goggles, and helmets and go forth to higher conquests, other enthusiastic Pilots will assume the leadership of this worthy ship. In order that these valiant successors might fly smoothly on their journey and soar to even greater altitudes, we deem it fitting to bequeath to them our many commendable talents, properties, qualities, and vital intricacies gained through our progressive experiences in the air. Therefore: Being of sound mind, and believing ourselves fully capable and efficient to dispose of our estates, we, the graduating class of 1933, do hereby submit this, our last will and testament:

Article I. In sincere kindness and unselfishness, the class of '33 wills all senior privileges—whatever they may be—to the rising senior class, that this noble body may look down on all lower classmates with the same degree of boundless pleasure that their predecessors have enjoyed.

Article II. Peter Moody leaves his marked ability as editor of the "Hi-Rocket" to any aspiring junior who professes to be able to manage his fifty eager news-seekers and—Miss Herr.

Article III. To her worthy competitor, Nancy Seeman, Betty Pollard bequeaths her bewitching charms and hopes that the young beneficiary will know how to use them. If not, Betty will be glad to give instructions.

Article IV. John Rogers, bequeaths his two ever-present possessions—chewing gum and talk—to Claude Widgery with the hope that he may exercise his vocal organs to due advantage.

Article V. Virginia Stoner wills her exceptionally perfect figure to Mary Frances Council, feeling that the added poundage would be a valuable asset in the entertaining conquests of this young lady.

Article VI. Realizing that Romeo Germino will benefit by a touch of tenderness, Herbert Cheek leaves his whimsical baby face to that stalwart warrior of the football field.

Article VII. To Gertrude Webb, Katherine Upchurch wills her quiet modesty, stately carriage, and calm, thoughtful manner. Undoubtedly, these qualities will be instrumental in aiding Miss Webb to live down the popular superstitions allied to her red locks.

Article VIII. The fourth year Latin Class bequeaths the advantages of the small hall to the left of the library to anyone energetically pursuing the temporarily lost art of translating "Virgil." They have found that "two heads are better than one" in such a delicate task.

Article IX. Louise Leigh leaves her enviable coquettishness to Loula Southgate, whom she believes already to be an adept executrix of this art.

Article X. Thomas W. Borland wills to anyone to whom it may concern his supreme ability to juggle the books. He leaves also his suave courteousness to George Matthis, who is quite capable of its management.

Article XI. Aware of the fact that he may find dire need of such in Miss Herr's English Class next year, Anne Izard leaves her exceptional literary skill and unique originality to Ted Collins.

Article XII. Murray Jones endorses our good friend, Hugh White, with all of his gifted art in wielding the paint brush. Perhaps Hugh will be able to carry on where Murray has left off.

Article XIII. Clara Roberson leaves to Mary Toms Newsom her helpful dieting list. She hopes that Tom will use them to more advantage than did the unfortunate Clara.

Article XIV. To Lewis Jennings, Gene Whitaker bequeaths his lofty outlook on the world, with the earnest plea that the small recipient grow up to see the heights.

Article XV. Marion Reade leaves her willowy grace to Elizabeth Lee. Lib will surely put this to a good use.

Article XVI. The "convict stripes," otherwise known as the artful sweater possessed by Charlie Noell, are affectionately bequeathed to that sporty gentleman, Mr. Robert Clement. Perhaps "Bob" can use this attraction to add spice to his already perfect attire.

Article XVII. Wilsie Bussell wills her studious habits and well-earned "A's" to Mildred Goodrich, with the expressed desire that she settle down and accomplish things in the near future.

Article XVIII. The senior girls promoting the "Bring your own lunch" campaign during the past year leave their varied and attractive lunch boxes to all juniors who are provided with an empty pantry shelf for said objects as soon as the depression is over.

Article XIX. After due thought and deliberation, "Pete" Lunsford wills her continuous flow of witty conversation to that charming little Miss Annie Whitty Daniels.

Article XX. To Frances Bond go the superb talents in the arts of bluffing and excuse-making heretofore possessed by Mr. William King. Bill sincerely hopes that this young aspirant may thus be enabled to graduate with all the honor that attended the former possessor.

Nearer and nearer, we descend into sight of the airport and make ready for the landing. Although we feel that we have accomplished the highest altitudes in our flights and contemplate future successful endeavors on land, there is still an inward feeling of regret upon leaving these familiar, protecting surroundings. We have cherished these four years aboard; we hate to leave. Nevertheless, as we go, we will ever hold the flights of Durham High dear to our hearts. We will not be gone; only yielding our place to others, we shall watch from below with eager gaze. Carrying on her good work, opening up new airways, breaking all past records, striving skyward, may D. H. S. fly on and on and on!

As executor and administrator of this most valued and revered document we, the Senior Class do hereby appoint the officers of the Class of 1934 to execute this, our last will and testament, according to the full meaning of the same, hereby declaring all other wills formerly made by us void.

Class Song

Like a flock of carefree birds,
The Class of Thirty-Three
Now leaves the nest, dear Durham High,
To try its wings for thee.

Ahead, rose-tinted by the dawn,
A new, exciting life,
Behind, warm friendship yet untried
For strength in time of strife.

We're flying ever upward
To worlds new and afar;
We'll reach the goal we're winging to
By what we've done and are.

Although our ranks dissemble,
And each goes on alone,
Our years with Alma Mater
Will for that loss atone.

No matter where we wing our way,
No matter what we try,
We'll always cherish in our hearts
Dear days at Durham High.

—ELIZABETH ANDERSON, '33.

We're Off

Our dual training is ended,
And we're placed on the board,
Each for a solo.
Young, eager, trained;
Keen we are, with steady hand,
Sharp eyes and strong minds
Find instructions and then
"Contact"—"Contact,"
"Take her away and "Happy Landings."

We're off, soaring to the heights above,
And finally to landings, happy, sad,
Who knows?
But—We're off!

—KENNETH MCKAY, '33.

Senior Play

The dramatic talents of the Senior Aces united to entertain the Student Armada and their friends with the most thrilling stunt performance of the year, the Senior Play. For the sake of variety, the cast turned their best efforts to an exciting murder mystery, "The Thirteenth Chair," and recorded a marked triumph. From the lively medium Rosalie La Grange, enacted by Noni Lunsford, to the first-class butler, presented by Eugene Whitaker, all the characters were excellently portrayed.

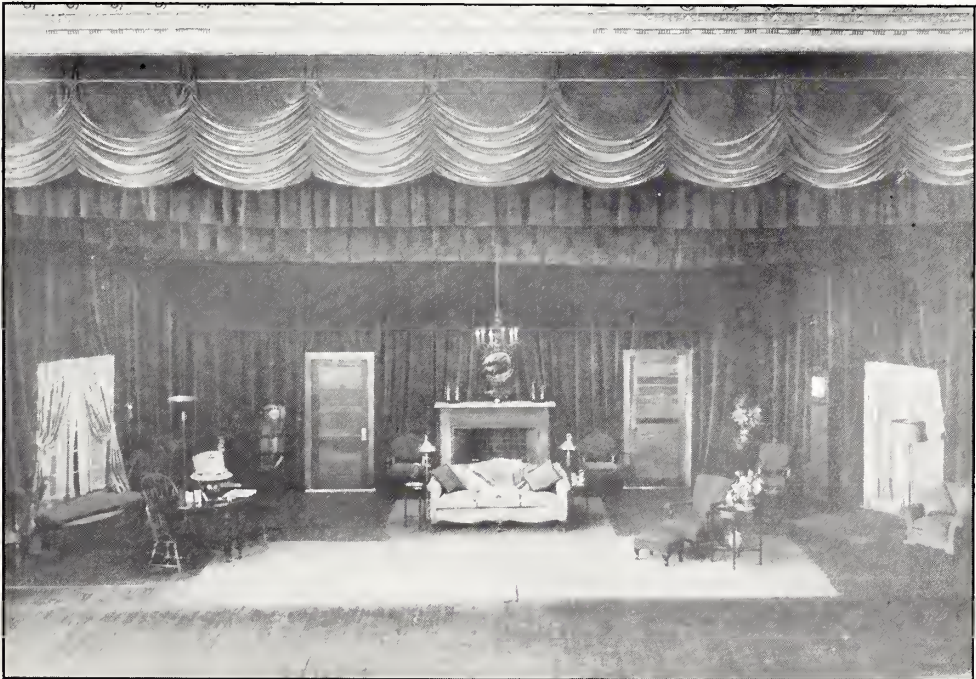

The story of "The Thirteenth Chair" centered around the attempt of Edward Wales, played by James Brown, to discover the murderer of his friend, Spencer Lee. He hired the medium to give a seance after a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Crosby, Tom Coble and Hilda Marshall. During the seance Wales was killed and the knife used by the murderer disappeared. Inspector Tim Donahue, Sergeant Mike Dunn, and Officer Doolan, played by Wilson Hopkins, Ned McAllister, and Gilbert Katz respectively, were called in to solve the crime. Suspicion was directed to various members of the dinner party, but finally centered on Helen O'Neill, Mrs. Crosby's secretary, the fiancee of Will Crosby. These two parts were taken by Ada Whitmore and John Nichols respectively. Madame La Grange, knowing that her daughter was innocent, played upon the superstitious fears of the true criminal. By this method, she forced Philip Mason portrayed by Kenneth McKay, to confess the two death crimes. The others attending the dinner party, and naturally under suspicion were Howard Standish, John Spencer, and his sister Grace, Marion Reade; Mary Eastwood, Jean Miller; Elizabeth Erskine, Frances Childs; and Braddish Trent, Rupert Bryan.

For the success of the production, great credit is due to the director, Mrs. Lucille S. Strudwick, and the stage committees of the Dramatic Class.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

SCENE FROM THE SENIOR PLAY

Three-Point Landing

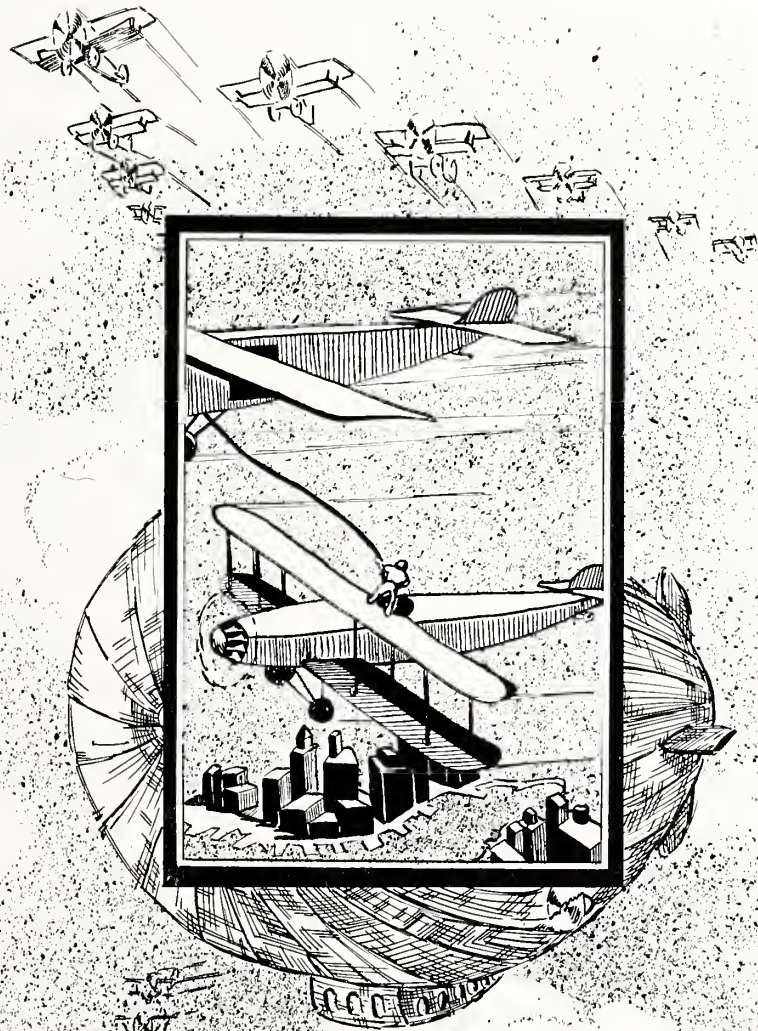

The class of nineteen thirty-three, two hundred with one mind,
To learn through aviation what new worlds they could find;
All gathered at the hangar, very eager to begin,
The work that pluck, and power, and thought, an ace's wings would win.

So bound for graduation port, the pilot set his course,
The best of mechanics skilled, composed the steering force;
Although the lesser practice planes were sometimes hard to steer,
With faith in master pilots bold, there was no thought of fear.

The air with pockets deep was filled, the flight deterred by storms;
But safely through each danger zone, they went escaping harms;
Attention to directions clear, initiative, and grit
Brought all in sight of landing here with everybody fit.

As low the engine purrs above the goal of many years,
The voices ring in unison and drown the roar in cheers.
With Captain Upchurch at controls, all dangers notwithstanding,
The plane of thirty-three is still—it's made a three-point landing.

—HAZEL GANTT, '33.

POSTGRADUATE

Post Graduates

Flight Commander: Miss Ethel Solloway

Having such capable officers as the two presidents, Elizabeth Hooper and Murphy Boyd, the Endurance Flyers had little doubt as to the outcome of the flight which they began the first of this school year. Hard work, concentration, and coöperation enabled the Post Graduates to finish the flight with a creditable record.

After such intensive work, these flyers will be ready to face life and all its hardships with the faith and undaunted courage that has marked their progress throughout the year.

For the faithful leadership and guidance of Miss Solloway, Mrs. Holloway, Miss Holland, and Mr. Stone, the entire group is sincerely grateful.

There were outstanding points of interest along the way, one being the very pleasant trip made by the class to Camp Hollow Rock. Another was the lovely Christmas party into which all entered with the real Christmas Spirit. Lively interest was shown in the selling of jewelry to finance the buying of several beautiful pictures which now adorn the walls of study halls and home rooms.

Before taking off on a longer flight, we wish to present the officers of the Post Graduate Class:

First Semester	OFFICERS	Second Semester
ELIZABETH HOOPER	President	MURPHY BOYD
CECIL YATES	Vice-President	ELIZABETH LIVINGTON
ELIZABETH MORRIS	Secretary	PEARL HARRIS

COOPERATIVE

The Coöperative Class

As contact crew it is the Coöps' job to see that the "planes of industry" are brought into contact with the school dirigible. Since it is into industry that we find our way when leaving the dirigible, this job of contact has become a most important one. Were it not for such a method of contact, many "student fliers" who find their way back into the dirigible, would have to make forced landings elsewhere.

Having brought about this contact, the pilots of these "planes of industry" are given the proper attention: food (studies), water (extra activities), and rest (social contacts). Such activities as the Coroso Play, the fall and spring socials, auditorium periods, class meetings, and the opportunity of attending interesting programs and of hearing good speakers have served to refresh and invigorate us for further flights into the everyday world of affairs.

The chance to return to the dirigible, and there to fit ourselves for more helpful service, gives us courage and a steady nerve to meet the buffeting winds and currents of life. Higher attitudes and better records are our aim, and day by day we strive for a fuller recognition and conception of our duties.

Our crew managers and instructors show us the most efficient methods of making contacts, and by instructing us in the rules of safe flying, prevent many serious air calamities.

Such influencing winds as the Parent-Teacher Association, the City and State Governments, the School Board, civic organizations, and many more friends of education help us to make contacts easier and landings safer.

Such leaders and crew managers as the following are responsible for our efficiency: Adviser, Miss Maude Rogers; President, Earl Poole; Vice-President, Tom McGlothlin, Secretary, C. B. Jackson; Chaplain, James Brown; Treasurer, Elbert Taylor; and Marshal, Harold Rogers.

Contact! We're off again to another year of high altitudes.

COÖPERATIVE CLASS

JUNIOR

Junior Class

As pilots of the dirigible D. H. S. the members of the Junior Class have, during the school year 1932-1933, filled their trust-worthy positions most admirably. The pilots made a most successful "take-off" in their first important act: namely, the election of officers. These positions have been most capably filled by Romeo Germino, President; Victor Bowling, Vice-President; Mary Toms Newsom, Secretary; and Hugh White, Treasurer.

The boys displaying most interest and ability in the air races, or athletics were Romeo Germino, Willie Mize, Henry Miller, Elmo Hackney, Arthur Knight, Ben Brogden, Norman Pope, Edwin Johnson, and Ted Collins.

The girls also have shown amazing ability in this art and those to be most highly commended were Rhoda Widgery, Doris Couch, and Mary McGlothlin. One of the outstanding features of the girls' Junior basket-ball team was their championship over the Sophomore and Senior Classes.

However, the year spent by the Pilots has not been all play and no work, for many of these players have proved themselves worthy of first place among the honor-roll students. Particularly have the efforts of Frances Bond, Bill Brogden, Annie Whitty Daniel, Geraldine Matthews, Mary Toms Newsom, Gertrude Sawilowsky, Claude Widgery, Dorothy Wilkerson, and Mary Wolf brought outstanding results.

It may be added here that George Young and Frances Bond made the Aycock Debating Team, thus adding great honor to the Junior Class.

The Pilots further brought credit to themselves by the program given before the Parent Teacher Association in which the different home room presidents were presented and the work of this particular group explained.

Now that the school year has drawn to a close and the Juniors have traversed the last mile before taking the place of their fellow workers, the Seniors, the Pilots have only to say that they have done their best, have encountered no serious disasters, and, through the leadership of the parents and teachers, have been prepared for their future positions as Aces of the dirigible D. H. S.

SOPHOMORE

History of the Sophomore Class

The members of the Sophomore class, although mere fledglings, have proved to the more experienced aviators aboard the dirigible D. H. S., that they are not to be outdone because of their lack of experience. At the beginning of the year they were slightly dubious and, naturally, were slow to join the Juniors and Seniors in various undertakings. It took only a few weeks, however, for them to become accustomed to their new environment and, under the leadership of Ben Horack, Ben Thaxton, Homer Montsinger, and Fred Rippey, to enter whole-heartedly into the various happenings aboard the craft.

Our several athletic teams would not have made their praiseworthy records without the valuable aid of the Sophomore athletes, among whom Don Bright, Beverly Ferrell, Edmund Swindell, James Thomas, Reubin Wheeler, and many others are outstanding. By entering enthusiastically into all the girls' athletics from volley ball to track, our girls have proved that they are something more than delicate and sweet.

On both the Messenger and Hi-Rocket staffs many Sophomores are to be found, all of whom have furnished invaluable aid, and many of whom seem destined to make these already splendid publications even better during their Junior and Senior years.

The fledglings are making an excellent record in the chief pastime aboard the dirigible—scholarship. Frances Briggs, Ray Brooks, Pride Brown, David Bond, Mary Buchanan, Virginia Evans, Lottie Lewis, Mary Louise McLendon, Homer Montsinger, Fred Rippey, Alice Rowe, and Clarkson Worth have made nearly perfect records, and many others have only one or two marks which are less than "excellent."

When their time came to entertain the Parent-Teachers' Association, the Sophomores, following the example of the Juniors and Seniors, treated them royally, presenting a clever and interesting program, and proving that they know how to shoulder responsibility.

The fledglings have been flying for only a year, but they have accomplished much. In the next two years they will miss you, Seniors and Juniors, but they will fill your places well and soon.

The Messenger Dirigible D. H. S.

Launches

THE ACTIVITY FLIGHTS

The sky is filled with aircraft. Each patrol is a different type. Stationary balloons dot the sky here and there. Take your choice! High ceilings and many beacons!

The Stunt Flights

NOW as the vast squadron of stunt planes is poised aloft in a beautiful formation among the clouds, the flyers from the dirigible D. H. S. are ready and eager to perform their record-breaking stunt flights for your entertainment. The unique presentations reveal the diversified activities that provide the passengers recreation and training in the many fields of aviation. In their struggles with books, the flyers learn to become the scholars of the world; in their participation in the stunt flights, they develop into the versatile leaders that the country demands. From this experience come the public speakers, of eloquence, the voices for Grand Opera, the dramatic ability for the stage, and the genius that will enrich the literary world of tomorrow. Varying from student publications and literary societies to dramatic and musical organizations, the stunt planes are directed by skilled aviators to perform greater feats in the air. Before the flyers take-off for the stellar performance, the individual planes participating in the exhibition will be introduced to you.

Leading the squadron is the plane piloted by the Student Council. This body is a representative organization striving for the betterment and progress of the annual flight. The planes of the two publications, the Hi-Rocket and the Messenger, are closely following. The former represents the semi-monthly newspaper, while the latter is the year book of the dirigible. Their skill in stunt flying has been adequately proved by high awards received from the Columbia National Press Association. The next nine planes include the flyers of the literary societies. As a result of successful instruction in public speaking, parliamentary procedure, and dramatics, they are among the record-breakers. Developing from this experience, the Aycock Debating Team holds a coveted place. The best debaters of the dirigible are selected to seek state-wide honors in the Triangular Debate.

Dramatic enthusiasts, forming the Dramatic Class, occupy the following plane. The members play an important rôle in presenting the dirigible's two annual plays. At the Dramatic Festival at Chapel Hill, this plane has also won honors.

Then comes the lively Current Events Club that encourages the practice of being well-informed on the current topics of the world of today. The girls on the plane of The Needlework Guild carry on a great, charitable work. The ship of the Nature Study Club holds a band of enterprising scientists. The French Club, flying in the next plane, is composed of the brilliant French students, pilots and aces, who wish to promote further study in this field.

The dirigible's Musical standards are upheld by the rhythmic flyers of the following plane. There is a mixed chorus, a band, and an orchestra. Many outstanding talents harbor here. In the final plane is the Library Council. These are our helpful friends, who are always willing to aid in the accomplishments of the other stunt planes.

This completes the entire squadron of airships that represent the clubs and organizations of Durham High School. Since the on-lookers have become acquainted with the stunt flyers, they are now anxious to see them perform. When the signal is given, the exhibition will begin. Look to the sky, the stunt flights are on!

Hi-Rocket

Flight Commanders: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR
MR. B. L. DE BRUYNE

If anyone ever desires to know what, how, and when, not to mention why, a thing happened, be it stunt flight or routine, he should consult the Hi-Rocket. For this publication, adhering to its aim "to be the mirror of all the flights," has kept an accurate record of all flying excursions since it was first started in 1920-21. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, recognizing this proficiency, awarded the Hi-Rocket first place in Class C in 1932 and third place in Class B in 1933. The state of North Carolina also has a high opinion of the merits of the publication, for in the state contest of 1932 it gave the Hume Cup to the paper to be held for a year. This was the second time the state has awarded it first place.

The Hi-Rocket is put out entirely by students, with little help from the flight commanders. There are seventy members of the staff, some of whom report news; others write stories or poems. The editor-in-chief, Peter Moody, assisted by the news editors, Frances Childs and Katherine Upchurch, and the Literary Editor, Anne Izard, goes over these compositions and puts the finishing touches on them before sending them to be printed.

Receiving no financial aid from anyone, the Hi-Rocket is entirely supported by subscriptions and the advertisements solicited by zealous members of the business staff, headed by the efficient business manager, Tom Borland.

HI-ROCKET STAFF

The Student Council

The plane of the Student Council now mounts into the clouds to present its annual stunt flight. The officers of the Student Body with the president of each home room compose this organization. With Tom Fuller Southgate, Jr., as leader, the members have been guided through many interesting features.

During this session the Council has presented to the Student Body a number of interesting programs. Many of Durham High's talented students took part in the "Little Broadcast" which was given by the Student Council for the purpose of raising funds for our Athletic Campaign.

Through the courtesy of Duke University two of the most inspiring speakers of the year were Dr. Henry Crane, a distinguished Presbyterian Minister of Scranton, Pennsylvania, and Dr. Samuel Grafflin, noted editor and lecturer of New York City.

The Lion's Club, an outstanding civic organization of the city, was entertained at a luncheon by this group.

The members have made it their duty to offer suggestions and advice that the High School may improve and progress to the highest altitudes.

COUNCIL FOR FIRST TERM

COUNCIL FOR SECOND TERM

Blackwell Literary Society

Flight Commander: MR. QUINTON HOLTON

The oldest of the stunt planes, the Blackwell, became connected with the hanger, D. H. S. in 1905. Its stunt pilots have distinguished themselves not only in the society itself but also out of it. They have carried out their regular routine of stunts so efficiently that every member can perform them perfectly. This organization began the year with a large number of inexperienced recruits who, with a year's seasoning, have learned to take their parts almost as well as the veterans. Under the guidance of its Commander, Mr. Holton, himself a charter member, the society has produced many public speakers. For the past two years, the Blackwell has furnished three members of the debating team. However, George Young, a junior, was our only representative this year. The declaimers who have represented the school in the outside contest during the past few years have been Blackwell boys. Watch these young stunt flyers and you will be watching the future veterans.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society

Flight Commander: MISS LELIA HAMPTON

As the 1932-33 school year ends, the Cornelia Spencer Society terminates another very successful and happy flight on the dirigible D. H. S. Members of the society feel that they have spent a most profitable and pleasant year together. We are deeply grateful for the splendid leadership of our officers and of our adviser, Miss Lelia Hampton.

It is the purpose of our society organization to uphold the highest standards in scholarship, public speaking, and fellowship. This year as before we return from our flight with laurels in public speaking. Virginia White, Peggy Silver, and Bess McGlothlin did excellent work in the contest which is sponsored annually by the Woman's Club.

The Cornelia Spencer Medal for greatest achievement was awarded this year to Bess McGlothlin.

The James H. Southgate Literary Society

Flight Commander: MISS BELLE HAMPTON

The James H. Southgate Literary Society, one of the corporations of stunt fliers, has a crew of twenty-six members. The pilots, Marion Dunn and Virginia Roberson, with the help of the flight commander, Miss Belle Hampton, have made this year an inspirational one for the entire crew. Interesting expeditions, composed of stories, readings, debates, poems, and lives of famous authors, have been enjoyed.

A gold star is awarded each year to the member of the crew who receives the highest number of points for excellence in work done. Last year Frances Moore received this award for progress in flight.

Besides the regular business meetings the society has social meetings each year. These gatherings add pleasure and afford a means of the flyers' knowing each other better.

This crew was first organized October 6, 1926. It was named for Mr. James H. Southgate, who backed all movements toward making Durham a bigger and better city.

The Carmichael Literary Society

Flight Commanders: MESSRS J. L. WOODWARD, AND R. G. CARTER

The Carmichael Literary Society has been doing much constructive work in the past few months. Most of its aviators have possessed athletic ability. Due to this fact the programs presented have been centered around athletics.

This year's crew of about fifty famous aviators has achieved higher altitudes in the athletic and literary world than ever before. Although athletic topics have played a big part on the programs, debating has been greatly emphasized throughout the year. The Carmichael Glee Club composed of the whole Squadron has helped to develop the musical maneuvers among the flyers as a whole. In addition this squadron has organized an Orchestra which has been a constant source of entertainment to the flyers. The Carmichael Society has furnished a large number of the football regulars, including Captain Howard Spain. Many valuable basketball, tennis, boxing, wrestling, track, and baseball stars are products of this organization. Under the able direction of Messrs. Woodward and Carter the Carmichael has prospered.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society

Flight Commander: MISS LOUISE WATKINS

The next stunt flight of the exhibition presented while aboard the dirigible D. H. S. is by the Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society. Having been organized in 1926, this club has rapidly gained literary recognition in its flights. It was named for a former commander of D. H. S., Mrs. Lila Markham Brogden, who has since attained great prominence in club work throughout North Carolina.

As the society offers training in public speaking, recitation, dramatics, and parliamentary procedure, each individual of the large enrollment has an opportunity to develop and display her talents.

Eleanora Patterson, Doris Couch, and Eloise Chappel, as outstanding members, have accomplished much in dramatic recitations. They have taken an active part in the annual Woman's Club Recitation Contest, and ranked high in competition with other societies.

In the annual presentation of stunts, the group is divided according to classes, and a prize is offered for the best stunt. When the clever productions were given this year, the prize went to the Junior Class. Last year, the club won third place with their "Mock May Day" stunt in the biennial "Stunt Night" of the School.

Walter Hines Page Literay Society

Flight Commanders: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR
MR. ROBERT F. FREEMAN

In September "The Page" plane with its fifty stunt pilots took position for action on the landing field. Bi-weekly exhibitions of debates, declamations and parliamentary drills with musical and dramatic flights interspersed gave every pilot a chance to test his power. The climax of the year's work was a banquet, an annual exhibition.

Among the most able stunt pilots are Peter R. Moody and C. C. Mulholland who made the Aycock Debating Team, and Landon Corbin and Louis Jennings who made an enviable race for positions. Wilson Hopkins and Gene Whitaker won places in the cast of the Senior Play. Malcolm Mann, Billy Bagwell, Ray Brooks, and Edmund Swindell have demonstrated outstanding musical ability, while John Glasson, Ben Horack, Louis Jennings, C. C. Mulholland, Landon Corbin, Peter R. Moody, and Fred Rippy have held the declamation spotlight.

The highest award, the Page Cup, presented to the stunt flyer who earns most points in stunt flying in the society's field of work, will be presented on award day.

WALTER HINES PAGE LITERARY SOCIETY

Flight Commander: MRS. GRAHAM B. EGERTON

Passengers in this stunt plane have enjoyed thrills in each of the short semi-monthly flights that they have taken. The group organized itself splendidly and quickly. After the new members had been duly installed at a special initiation party in the gym, where both old and new members participated in rollicking games, every member found her place and filled it with efficiency. Thus the members became a united body striving together towards a higher literary goal.

Under the capable leadership of the newly elected officers, the society set out at the beginning of the second semester with renewed vigor. According to custom, the club divided itself into three groups, which rivaled each other in rendering the best programs for the remainder of the year.

Among the efficient flyers enrolled in our midst are debaters, talented readers, and singers. From last year's membership, Marcia Anderson and Mildred Apperson attained high honors. Marcia Anderson was selected as the girl exerting the greatest Christian influence in the school. By popular vote of the society, Mildred Apperson was named its most outstanding member.

ATHENA LITERARY SOCIETY

O. Henry Literary Society

Flight Commander: MRS. E. S. SWINDELL

The O. Henry Literary Society is one of the youngest societies that participates in the stunt flights. The new stunt flyers having been initiated, they immediately showed their spirit of good sportsmanship as well as their willingness to coöperate in all programs. It was the object of the old members to learn whether the new passengers were fitted for their journey over the airways of public speaking, reading of good literature, and parliamentary procedure.

The O. Henry has for its colors red, purple, and black. Its flower is the pansy. The motto is: "We go to seek on many roads."

This was the first society to introduce into the stunt programs the idea of exchanging exhibition flights with the other societies in the dirigible. By doing this new society ideas were received. These stunt flyers have reached their termination, but they are soaring upward to higher and better things.

Flight Commander: MR. H. L. FOSTER

Perhaps one of the most popular stunt flights is that of the Carr Literary Society.

This organization aims to train its crew in public speaking and to acquaint them with parliamentary procedure. The plane is always ready to take an active part in any project which would make the sailing of D. H. S. smoother and faster.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Foster, the flight commander, the crew has completed many successful flights. Each member of the crew takes a great interest in the exhibitions and shows a fine cooperative spirit in all lines of stunt flying.

A few of the most outstanding flyers are Gilbert Katz and James Morgan who have shown outstanding debating ability. John Nichols and Gilbert Katz have shown much dramatic talent by virtue of the fact that both won rôles in the senior play, "The Thirteenth Chair."

The flyers also believe in developing the physical capabilities of the crew.

The fact that Henry Miller and Louis Silver are stellar members of the wrestling team proves that this group emphasizes physical training.

Commercial Club

Flight Commander: MISS ETHEL SOLLOWAY

Under the efficient leadership of their pilot, William Pollard, and their faculty adviser, Miss Solloway, the Commercial Club took off on its tenth flight.

The first big undertaking of the plane was the Coroso play, entitled "Skinner's Dress Suit." Praise goes to the work of the director, Mrs. Cecil Gilliatt, the players, the faculty advisers, the Dramatic Club, and the Commercial Club members who so willingly did their part to bring about the success. Members of the club included in the cast were: Margaret Higgs, Ruth O'Briant, Frances Long, Charlotte Kueffner, and Elizabeth Hooper. The Coöperative Class furnished the other players.

In February, the group, being in a very playful mood, gave a very delightful Valentine Party, under the supervision of Mrs. Holloway and Miss Holland.

Later, the Commercial Club was fortunate in being able to present to the student body Dr. George Matthis of the Trinity Avenue Presbyterian Church and Congressman William B. Umstead. Both speakers made helpful and inspiring talks.

Ending a decade of success, the Commercial Club made a perfect landing.

The 1933 Debating Season

Flight Commander: MR. QUINTON HOLTON

On February 18, after a lengthy preliminary of about four hours, the following flights were plotted by the Oratorical Board of Strategy to represent the Dirigible D. H. S. in the Triangular Debate maneuvers for the year 1933:

Affirmative Flight

TOM SOUTHGATE, Ace
PETER MOODY, Ace

Negative Flight

GEORGE YOUNG, Pilot
C. C. MULHOLLAND, JR., Ace

Then ensued six weeks of deep and varied tasks in preparing for the debate which was to be held on March 31. The flight squadrons secured aid from the University of North Carolina and Duke University Libraries. Having stored up vast technical knowledge and having prepared weather-worthy crafts, the squadron was ready on March 31. On that day the Dirigible D. H. S. dispatched the affirmative flight to Fayetteville for the purpose of contending with Raleigh's negative and the negative flight to Raleigh for the purpose of contending with Fayetteville's affirmative. The affirmative plane came into such a position as to be a target for the Raleigh craft. When the Raleigh ship had punctured the gas tanks, our affirmative was forced to land with a two to one defeat. The Negative craft fared better. After thrusting aside the attack of the Fayetteville crew, it returned home with a two to one victory. As a result the Dirigible D. H. S. has for the season discontinued its debating activities. Much good experience and useful information for future maneuvers has been obtained, notably the availability next season of a rising young pilot, George Young. In addition are such splendid reserves as Frances Bond, Landon Corbin, Earl Wilson, Lewis Jennings, and Mary Frances Copley.

Le Cercle Français

Les Généraux En Chef: MADAME LLEWELLYN, MADAME GILLIATT, M^{lle}. BISHOP

Le Cercle Français, avec Mesdames Llewellyn et Gilliatt et Mademoiselle Bishop, les directrices, et Monsieur Peter Moody, le Président, a eu de grand succès cette année. Ce cercle est un organization actif depuis quatre ans, et il est composé de tous les élèves qui font un grade de "A" dans l'étude de la langue française et qui trouvent cette étude profitable. Les conversations en français et tous les programmes, que Mademoiselle Izard, le vice-Président, a présentés aux séances étaient très intéressants.

Les programmes contenaient les discours, les artistes, les auteurs, les chanteurs, les hommes d'affaires, et les autres personnages d'importance en France. On a quelquefois les chansons françaises, les poèmes, les devinettes, les bons mots—toutes les choses qui aident à apprendre le français de conversation, et les membres y ont appris à mieux comprendre le français et à bien parler en cette langue en présence de bien des gens.

On le trouverai intéressant savoir qu'une élève, Mademoiselle Wilsie Bussell, a pris la mention honorable dans une contestation française que l'université de North Carolina a préparée pour les élèves qui ont eu deux ans de la langue française.

Current Events Club

Flight Commander: MRS. BELLE C. GHOLSON

The Current Events Club takes off with a zoom! This society celebrated its second anniversary in the fall of 1932. Although it is only a baby as compared to some of its companion planes, it is a paradise for news hunters. The aims carried out have been to gain in the interpretation of the printed page, to keep in touch with the happenings of the day, and to develop a sense of toleration and a better understanding of the people of the world.

Its serious, thoughtful members do not endorse the alleged enmity arising between newspapers and the radio of today, but regard it only as friendly rivalry between them in the great problem of news distribution. The fliers thus enjoy the prompt and efficient service of both. Aspiring to become "socially efficient" by being "Today-minded," they vie with one another, on a basis of analyzing facts, as authoritative news distributors and interpreters.

As our plane nears old D. H. S. amid the bustle of unloading and saying good-bye, we hope that you'll fly with us again next year.

The Dramatic Class

Flight Commander: MRS. CECIL L. GILLIATT

Some of the most interesting stunt flights of the year have been those of the Dramatic Class. Their flyers have become skilled in the art of make-up, acting, playwriting, and directing. Much originality has been shown in the making of notebooks and stages. The members of this class have shown much improvement in voice and posture. A one-act play, "Farewell Cruel World," was presented at a directors' meeting in Chapel Hill early in the year, and later for the entertainment of the Kiwanians. An original skit was given at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association and also in a chapel program. Committees from this class have been responsible for the make-up, costuming, properties, and staging of the plays presented in the dirigible this year. They have done all the mechanical and backstage work for the plays. This class has helped other schools with their entertainments. The dramatists made a special flight to Chapel Hill where they gave make-up, poster, and notebook stunts at the Dramatic Festival. The flyers made a creditable showing by winning first place in the make-up contest, and second place in the poster contest.

The Library Council

Flight Commander: MISS FLORINE LEWTER

For three years the Library Council has been making semi-monthly stunt-flights.

Under the direction of Miss Florine Lewter, the librarian of the dirigible, the staff has done some spectacular work. The first part of each meeting was devoted to the study of the use of the library and the last part to reviews of recently published books. It was the duty of each member to assist in holding the library at a regular period during the day. The members gained experience in library work by helping their fellow-passengers find the desired library material. They also issued books, kept the shelves in order, and rebound books which were in bad condition.

The staff crew of 1932-1933 were: Ida Mae Berry, Wilsie Bussell, Fannie Carden, Rhea Dana, Anne Izard, Margaret Jones, John Llewellyn, Kathryn Montague, Elizabeth Riley, Alice Rowe, Edythe Slayton, Edith Strother, Greta Tyren, Elizabeth Vickers, Miriam Weckesser, Eugene Whitaker, Virginia White.

Art Club

Flight Commander: MRS. C. R. STRUDWICK

In 1931 Mrs. Strudwick introduced a stunt flight, sponsored by the art department and organized for the purpose of stimulating interest and advancing art aboard the dirigible. It also affords an opportunity to work out individual projects and to undertake types of work which cannot be attempted in regular art courses.

This year the art club undertook the building of a marionette stage and puppets. The work was largely experimental, but the members, working enthusiastically, met with surprising results. Each member of the organization, was responsible for one marionette, to be a character in the play written by Eleanor Reubin and enacted on the stage built by Harold Stallings.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature during the year, was the Art Club social, which was held in the Strudwick studio in Hillsboro. Work done by both Mr. Clem Strudwick and Mr. Shepherd Strudwick was exhibited. Dr. Ralph Adams Cram, from Boston, Mass., world-renowned architect and authority on Gothic art, addressed the group.

The Music Clubs

Flight Commander: PROF. W. P. TWADDELL

Under the masterful direction of Professor W. P. Twaddell, the music clubs have added many laurels to their previous achievements, and have contributed much to the entertainment of the High School students.

The cantata, "Ruth," rendered several times in our city by the mixed chorus, brought enthusiastic comment from all listeners.

Since Christmas, our attention has been focused on the annual state high school music contest held in Greensboro, in which the leading high school glee clubs in the state will compete. Every year the participants have made an excellent showing and have brought back cherished awards.

Many competent critics have prophesied great futures for our soloists, Clara Cockman and Louise Boney, sopranos; Grace Carrington, alto; Malcolm Mann, tenor; Euticus Renn, bass; Irving Peed and Ben Thaxton, baritones. Worthy recognition has been given M. T. Cousins, Jr., trumpeter, as well as Mary Hooper and Kathryn Mangum, accompanists.

A great many of our members have been singing in local church choirs, thus gaining experience and making valuable contributions to the church life of the city.

The Needlework Guild

Flight Commander: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR

The needlework Guild of Durham organized in 1931 a division for local work under the leadership of Mrs. John Sprunt Hill who, as Regional Flight Commander, sent an S. O. S. call to the dirigible, D. H. S. for a relief crew. The purpose of the organization was to gather garments and household linen for the needy, especially among those of school age. Immediately a squadron of five planes was marshalled under Miss Marguerite M. Herr, Junior Commander, with Ethel Lipscomb as captain. Each plane had one pilot and at least ten garment passengers and one money passenger. Those at controls were Ethel Lipscomb, Marion Reade, Mern Plyler, and Elizabeth Lee. At the ingathering one hundred twenty-five garments and six dollars were carried to the hangar from which distribution was made.

In 1932 the call again met a gallant response. Captain Marion Reade set off with a fleet of eight planes, carrying two hundred and fifteen passengers assisted by lieutenants. They deposited at headquarters two hundred two garments and thirteen dollars.

Through the Junior Commander, Miss Herr, a plane carrying fourteen adults interested in the work of the junior guild pilots joined the fleet with relief cargo.

The Science Club

Flight Commander: MR. PAUL E. FULENWIDER

The aeroplanes of yesterday were merely death traps; the aeroplanes of today are dominant factors in travel and transportation. Why? Science has taken a hand! Aeronautical engineers and technicians are expert scientists who have developed and perfected this mode of travel.

The Science Club expects to influence the Dirigible D. H. S. as beneficially as science has aviation. The study of science, since "Science is Man," will enable the members to gain a more thorough understanding of humanity. This knowledge, coupled with the excellent education offered in the school, should prepare these pupils for a peaceful, profitable life.

The programs of this society embody the study of bird, animal, plant, insect, and marine life. Rare plants, peculiar fish and birds, as well as insects are particularly interesting to the club. Insect life has been found by this group to form an enormous field of instructive information.

Every branch of science contains fascinating research material for the club members who study science for the love of it alone.

May this embryo organization be an excellent spark plug in our motor of School Spirit.

HONOR ROLL GIRLS

SPORTS

The Messenger Dirigible D.H.S.

Inspects

The racing and stunt pilots who compete in The Races for the honor of their ship. An excellent spirit of good sportsmanship in victory and defeat has been their guiding beacon.

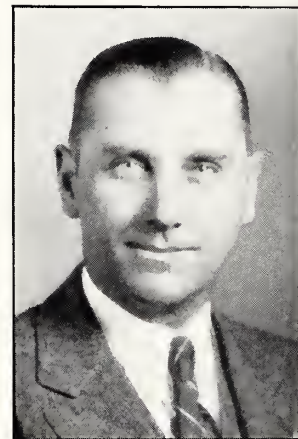

Sports

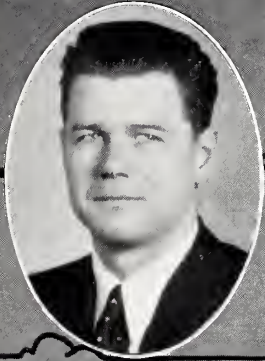

IT is now with eager eyes that we view our air races of D. H. S. which include the various phases of sport life on the dirigible. These races are held annually between the interested passengers of our ship and those of others in the same class. They constitute a vital part of the recreation of the passengers. However, these are not emphasized to the extent that they interfere with the scholastic duties and requirements.

We have a balanced program. Hard and intelligent study is combined with hard and intelligent play. All our forms of recreation are true examples of fair and wholesome play. By participating in race with other planes our contestants have learned the reward of hard and incessant practice, the laws of good sportsmanship, and the way to play a "good square game." The same spirit of coöperation and fellowship that prevails in the scholastic field also displays itself bountifully on the athletic field. In many cases the sport life of our school is the training that "makes the man," for it tends ever toward developing strong, healthy bodies, both physically and mentally, with the best characteristics, of young manhood and womanhood. We carry this training into the class room where we wrestle with mathematics, box Caesar and Cicero, run the track of history, throw the javelin with the ancient Greeks and Romans, and try to make a touchdown on Science and French. On the dirigible we are often thrown for a loss by alert instructors and instructresses; moreover, alas too often, we come to the bat like mighty Casey to strike out on teasing geometric curves or on fast English breaks over the corner of the plate.

Through participation in numerous air races, our spirited athletes have reached high altitudes in state competition. During the early stages of the flight they exhibited their skill in the great sport of football. By excellent coaching and hearty support of the student Armada, they won the Eastern Championship and the opportunity of playing for the state title. Only after a hard struggle was Charlotte able to down the fighting Bulldogs. When basketball season arrived, the Durham quint again won Eastern Championship. In baseball our prospects were bright and promising. Wrestling and boxing squads representing the dirigible participated in the state meet at Chapel Hill. The track work has continued to improve. With such records, speaking athletically, Central High will be "renowned the world around."

CAPTAIN SPAIN

“HAPPY Landings!” was the cheer that greeted the sports squadron as it descended upon the 1932 Gridiron. Soon after the opening of the airport early in September, the call for football was answered by a large and promising group of pig skin enthusiasts. After a few weeks of hard and intensive work, a very efficient football machine was rounded into playing form under the watchful eye of Coach Stuessey assisted by Coaches Burke and Richman.

From the beginning of the season the team showed unusual ability, enthusiasm, and capacity for team work. By amassing the largest total score of any football team in the history of the school Durham won the Eastern Championship with a very impressive record.

Having won the Eastern Conference Championship without a defeat Durham met Charlotte, winner of the Western Conference, in Kenan Stadium at Chapel Hill. After a very hard fought and thrilling battle the Bulldogs suffered the first and only defeat of the last two seasons.

Such Capable players as Andrews, Baldwin, Bryan, Cheek, Ferrell, Germino, Hackney, and Captain Spain will long be remembered by ardent supporters of Durham High as the Main Cogs in the great football machine of 1933.

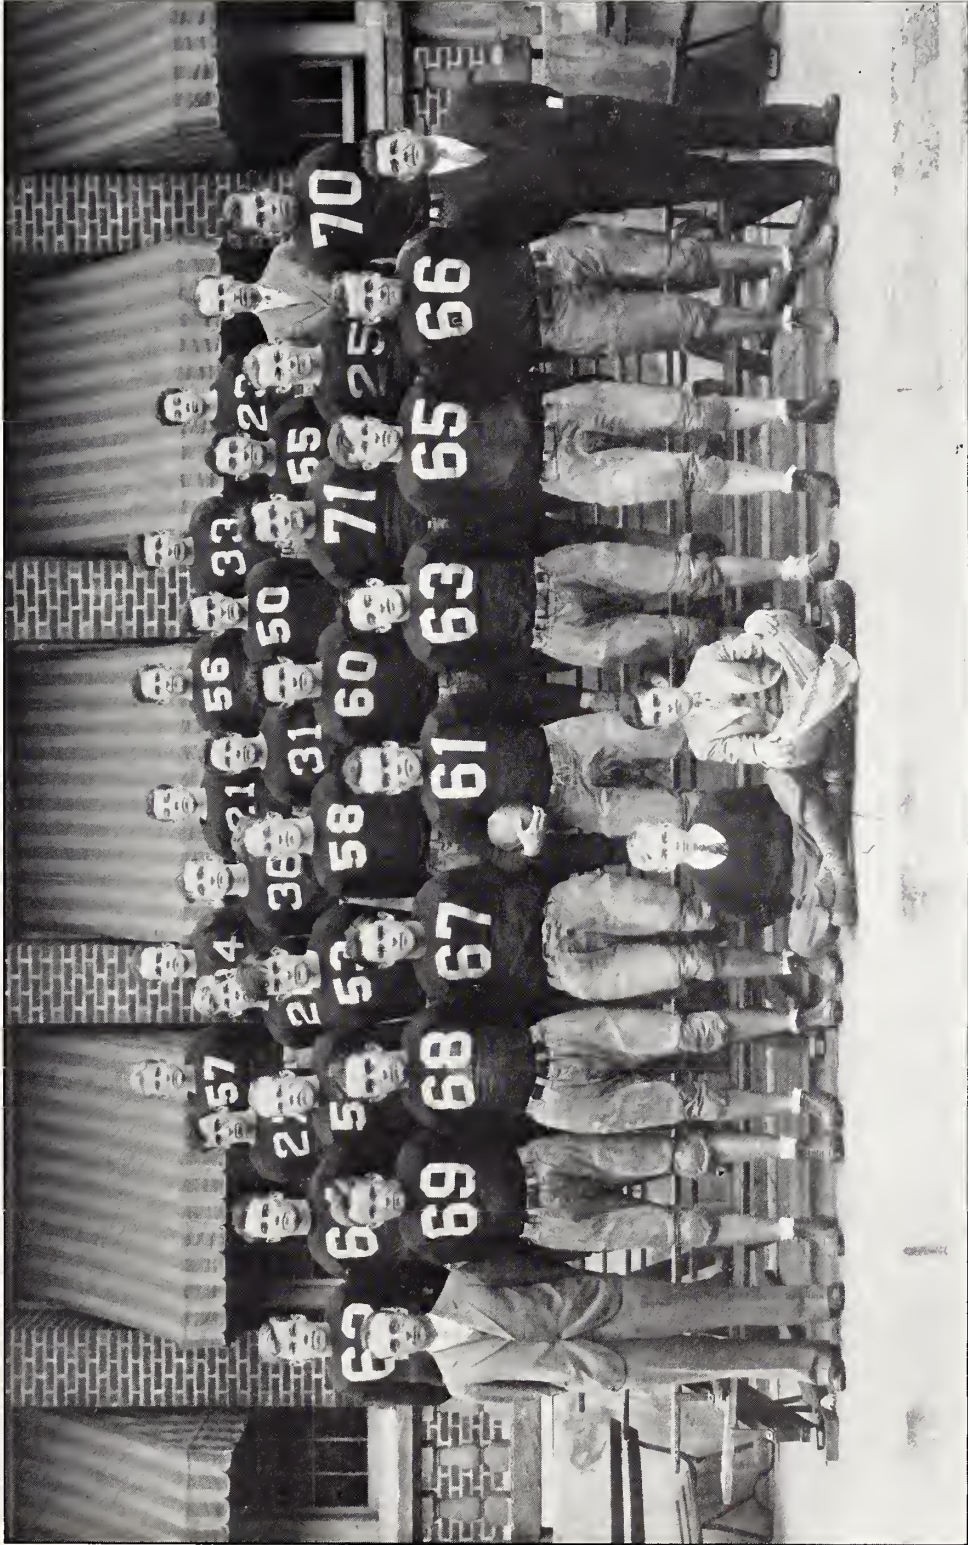

The season in revue:

MODELING and patterning his raw recruits after the seasoned veterans of conflict, Hackney, Cheek, King and Ferrell, Coach Stuessey produced a Bulldog team that shattered the forces of Eastern Carolina and almost wrested the state championship from the Charlotte quintet.

The season opened with a tilt against Chapel Hill on the local court, in which Durham easily defeated her opponents with a score of 45-14. Lynchburg and High Point followed in defeat to the tune of 17-14, and 19-17 respectively. The Bulldogs literally trampled the Rocky Mount basketeers on their first venture away from home, the score being 50-10; and in the same stride defeated Wilmington 31-11. En route to the Home port, Durham trounced Fayetteville in a 25-5 defeat. Because of this success away from home Stuessey led his boys to the second thrilling victory over High Point. The score was 18-11.

The fact that Lynchburg overcame Durham with a 20-14 score, served to prevent the team from becoming overconfident.

A large crowd witnessed Durham's defeat over Raleigh. Wilmington, in a futile siege against our stronghold, went scurrying home with a 35-22 chalked against their good name. But when Fayetteville caught up the torch and essayed to settle an old score against us, the staunch foundations trembled with the impact and nearly collapsed, Durham barely coming through with twenty-four points against the visitor's twenty-three. Raleigh remembering the close score of the first engagement again flung herself viciously against our fort. Meanwhile, the Bulldogs under Coach Stuessey's curt commands had taken decisive steps to strengthen themselves, and they easily withstood the shock of Raleigh's eleven points against their twenty-four. The way was now clear for the Eastern Championship, and State Honors were not so far away. Greensboro was defeated in two successive games: first at home by a score of 35-18, then in Greensboro with a 21-9. The Eastern Championship was ours and now for Charlotte.

On March 1, 1933, in the "Tin Can" at Chapel Hill we met the 1932 champions, played them fairly, and lost to them in the same fine spirit with which we had won our previous games. Charlotte had to fight to make the 25-21 score.

The Home Court regrets the loss of its faithful leaders King, Cheek and Borland, but their places will be filled and another great Bulldog team is scheduled for '34.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

WRESTLING SQUAD

LED by Captain John Llewellyn, Coach John Moran's glove-tossers inaugurated their first scheduled season with great success. With five veterans: namely, Llewellyn, Brogden, Spencer, Johnson, Farthing, and with such additions as Berini, Mize, and Clothier, the Bulldog aggregation proved to be one of the strongest outfits in the state.

After completing a most successful season of dual meets, the Durham Mittmen entered the State meet at Chapel Hill. Four representatives survived the eliminations and three went to the finals. Considering several unfortunate injuries near the end of the season, this record gives proof of the Crimson Punchers' ability. Dropping only one decision out of eight matches, Brogden probably offered the most remarkable performance of the season.

Since the organization of the team three years ago, interest in boxing has grown greatly. Not fewer than forty aspirants answered the coach's initial call. Under the direction of Mr. Gibson, the faculty adviser, even wider interest is expected next year.

Baseball

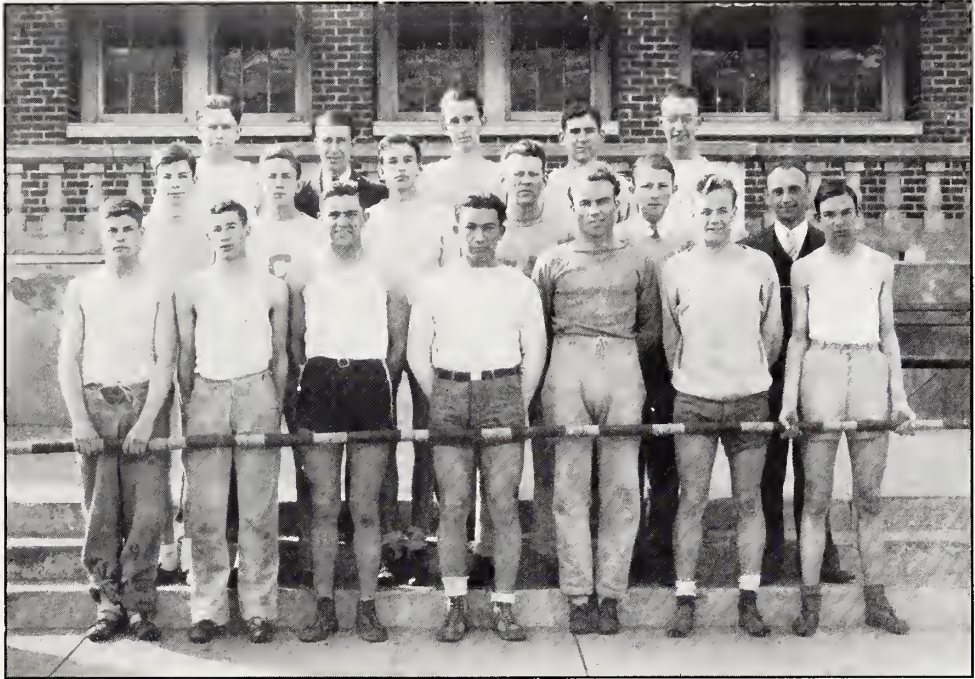

THE initial call for baseball was answered by a large and promising group of enthusiastic performers. After a few days of light exercise the squad got down to business and things began to pop around the old ball diamond. The following weeks were ones of intensive training and instruction with plenty of sprained fingers and sore muscles. Soon a very smooth and efficient team was rounded into shape under the watchful tutelage of Coach Burke.

The team started the season with grim determination which resulted in a very successful season.

The team selected "Beb" Ferrell captain and under such capable leadership proved a dreaded foe to all the teams which it met.

The Track Team

THE Track Race of the Dirigible, D. H. S., reached its peak this year. Heretofore this great race has been more or less dormant, but this year, under the leadership of Flight Commanders, Stuessey and Woodward, the race has noticeably progressed.

The two Commanders started the race with about twenty-five participants among whom were such veterans as Howard Spain, and Elmo Hackney, dashmen, Rupert Bryan, field events man, and LaRue Cribbs, quarter mile run man. The fresh recruits were S. C. Southerland, dashman; Clark Worth, half miler; Abraham Wilson, and Edmund Swindell, hurdlers; Robert Brame and Jack Leighton, high jumpers; and Lee O'Briant, mile runner. In their first two meets the squadron displayed a skill which accompanied them in all their remaining encounters.

The Tennis Team

Flight Commander: MR. R. G. CARTER

THE 1933 tennis squadron, ably led by Captain Francis Beard, is ranked as the best group of stunt flyers that have ever represented the D. H. S. Dirigible. The five seeded flyers: Francis Beard, Ted Collins, Nick Ashby, Jo Levin, and Perry Sloan, are approximately equal in ability. The outstanding meet of this year's schedule was the state championship tourney, which was held at Chapel Hill on April 13-14. Francis Beard was entered in the singles championship, while Ted Collins and Nick Ashby were engaged in the doubles.

The schedule included dual meets with: Burlington here and there, Carolina Freshmen there, Chapel Hill High School here and there, Danville here and there, Duke Freshmen here, Raleigh here and there, and Winston-Salem here and there.

This year's squadron was coached by Mr. R. G. Carter, a recent asset, who came to us from Greenville, South Carolina.

Golf

ALTHOUGH golf has been a recent addition to the races of the dirigible, it has already won rightly its place near the top of the list.

A number of boys answered the first summons for candidates for the golf team. At the end of a few weeks of hard work, Coach Burke had evolved an "A-1" group of golfers from what, at first, promised to be mere link-walkers. The first and second positions on the team were held down by Henry Poe and Arlin Stone, veterans of last year's contests. Bill Franck as number three man, and Troy McKinney as number four capably rounded out an efficient team.

The team, which made steadily improvements from the first match, made a powerful bid to bring the state title home to the Bulldogs.

MONOGRAM CLUB

A Tribute

FOR more than ten years Dr. Merle T. Adkins has willingly served Durham High School as medical adviser of all athletic teams. Despite the fact that he is a prominent practitioner, he has time to devote to the civic and spiritual forces of the city, has time to respond to the needs of the young people of the high school community who are learning to become responsible citizens.

This deep and active interest dates from the entrance of his own boys in the high school. When they became identified with the athletic program, Dr. Adkins volunteered to examine all of the boys for physical fitness, a requirement for participation in sports.

Though his sons, famed in state athletic records, finished their academic training several years ago, his interest in the welfare of those who have followed has never wavered.

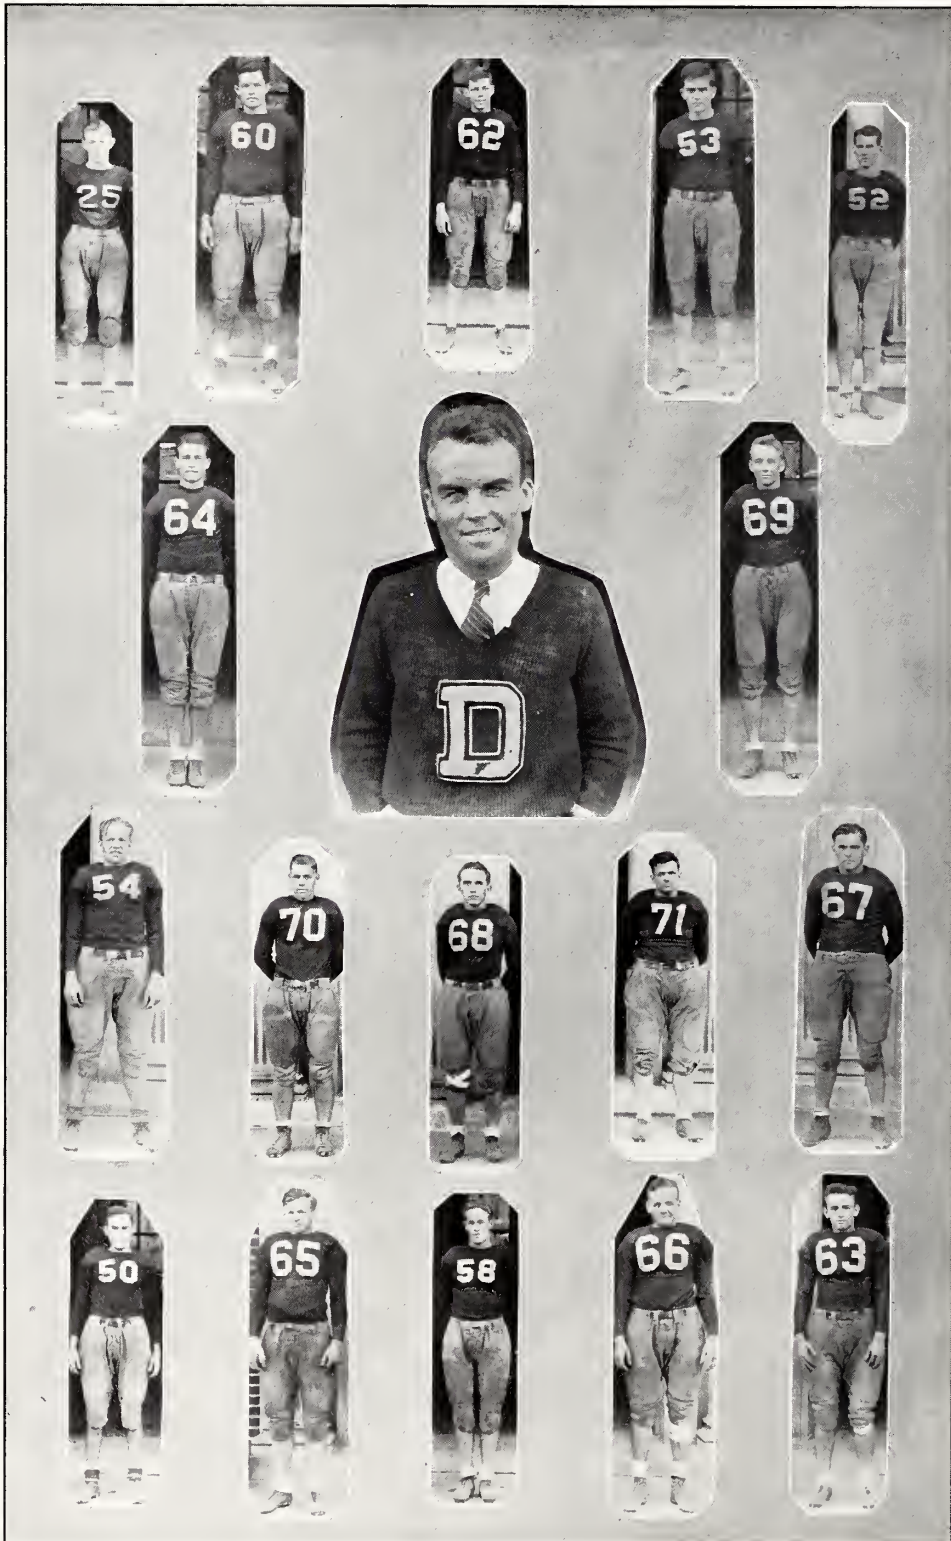

This is truly a labor of love on the part of Dr. Adkins, for he receives no remuneration save the joy of worthy service.

Between the genial doctor and the school there has been forged a bond of friendship that has strengthened with the years. In fact, no gridiron or court side line seems quite complete unless this familiar figure is on the bench to watch the boys and give them a word of encouragement. All athletes have learned to depend on his inspiration and interest.

Believing that nothing can surpass a clean mind in a clean body, Dr. Adkins has carried his civic pride into the spiritual realm. Modestly and unselfishly he lends his aid in Sunday School and Y. M. C. A. work. Each Sabbath finds him surrounded by a group of young men who are inspired to nobler living by his high ideals and principles.

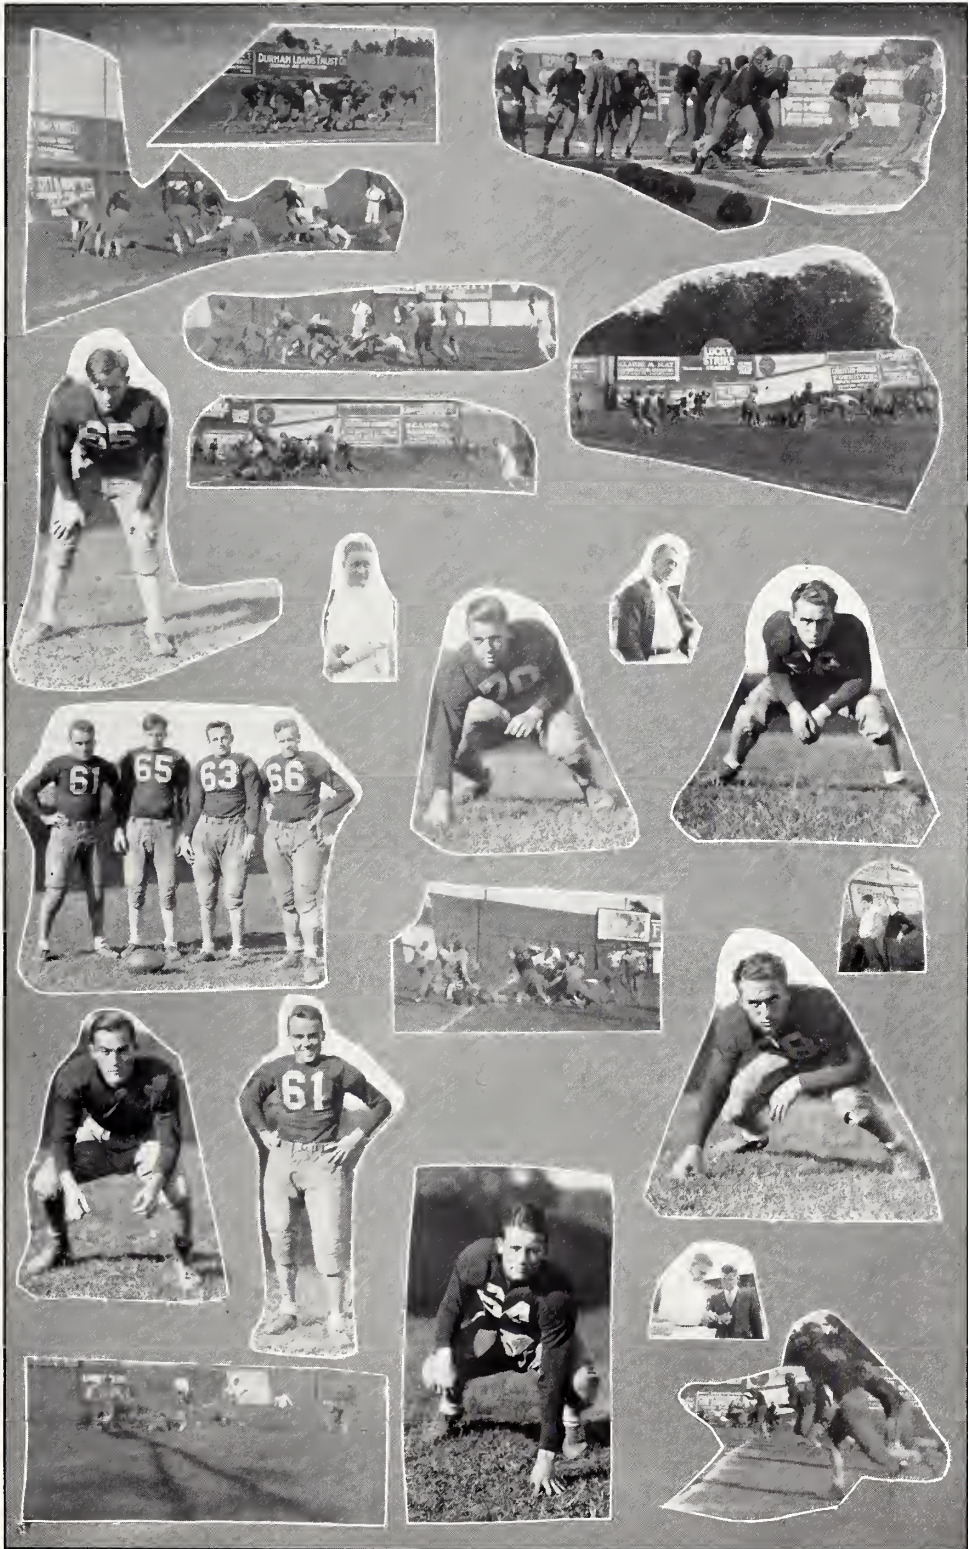

Underlying his jovial personality there is a deeper vein of seriousness which follows the boys after they leave school and enter the business world. It can be truly said that the students and faculty of Durham High School find in him a permanent friend and helper.

Girls' Athletics

DURING the annual flight the aviatrixes have coöperated with every activity that has been sponsored by the dirigible D. H. S. They filled their places so admirably in the races that they won the approval of all on-lookers and supporters. Descending from their lofty heights, they paused for a while in their daily routine for the purpose of organizing various ground drills. These drills have succeeded not only in promoting physical and mental health, but also in arousing to an even higher degree the school spirit for which the dirigible D. H. S. is already so noted.

R. WIDGERY
An Outstanding Athlete

Under Mrs. Hostettler's careful instruction, the girls of the student body have promoted several outstanding and worthwhile races. The participants were offered a variety of sports for the year. Field hockey and swimming played an important part in the first athletic program, basketball and volley ball predominate during the winter; and, during the spring, time and effort were spent on track, tennis, swimming, and archery.

Perhaps the most outstanding event in the year's program was the track meet. Two afternoons were given over to the meet, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of spectators present. Many girls took part, those starring most noticeably were Fledgling Frances Briggs, and Pilot Rhoda Widgery.

The Junior Class attained double honors through winning championships in both volley ball and basketball. For the latter accomplishment they received the silver trophy which is given by the school each year to the victorious class. However, the Senior "blue" was the champion "Color team."

For basketball the following girls were selected because of their outstanding ability to be members of the honorary varsity team: Billings, Christmas, Cipter, Couch, Cutts, Captain Gantt, Hudson, McGlothlin, Upchurch, Widgery, Woodall.

On Award Day, these girls will receive letters as a symbol of their unflinching spirits and well-won victories.

For the captains of the class basketball teams: Frances Briggs, Fledgling; Rhoda Widgery, Pilot; and Katherine Upchurch, Ace were chosen.

Although the "fairer sex" aboard the dirigible D. H. S., has competed with no outsiders, and though no contests were held within the school, their efforts for higher attainments in this line have not been lessened in the least. Each day's work has proved a success within itself, and each athletic event a worthwhile undertaking.

There now remains only the future, for which many plans have been made, and many resolutions drawn up for making the girls' athletics during 1934 as successful as those of the past year have been in their high endeavors, ambitions, and achievements.

Dear Author:

You are the forty-seventh person to send us this identical fiction story this year. Please keep this slip. We are raffling off a set of colored crayons at the end of the year to the one holding the lucky number.

We just heard you are writing a new book called the "DICTIONARY:" Why don't you let us see it when you have finished?

Cordially yours,
THE EDITOR.

Mr. Holton says that Nell Cheek is so lazy she can't decide whether to stay in bed all morning or to get up early so she will have a longer day to loaf.

Mr. Freeman: "I'll wait until that fellow stops making a fool of himself and then I'll begin."

Athletics

Athletes may come, athletes may go,
And fade as in a dream.
The horsefly is the best of all,
He's always on the team.

Tom Borland: Wipe off your chin.
Herb Cheek: Can't. It's fastened on.

How to Test the Temperature of a Baby's Bath

Fill the tub with water. Put baby in the tub. If the baby turns red, it's too hot; if the baby turns purple, it's too cold; and if the baby turns white, it needed a bath.

Elmo Hackney: I'm a four letter man, dont-cha know.
Annie B. Satterwhite: Sure, d-u-m-b.

Louise Leigh: I just adore dark men.
Wilson Hopkins: What a time you'd have in Africa!

Ned McAllister: Four weeks ago I couldn't play a single note.
Duck Baldwin: Well?
Ned McAllister: . . . And now I can.

Tom Southgate: Yes sir, I'm a self made man!
Marion Reade: Are you boasting or apologizing?

Said the barber to Toad Spain: I'll bet you had ketchup for dinner today. No? You're sure? Heh, then I must have cut your neck.

Punch Brogden (on Sunday morning): Got change for a dime?
John Rogers: Sure, I hope you enjoy the sermon.

Dentist: Could you please open your mouth a little wider?

Malcolm Mann: Sure, if you'll move the ceiling up a few feet.

Mr. Whitaker: Remember, son, curiosity killed the cat.

Eugene: How, father?

Wade Carlton: Now there is a house without a flaw.

Bob McCoy: My gosh, what do you walk on?

Peter Moody: Now, I am in a fix.

Charlotte Markham: What's wrong now?

Peter Moody: I've spelled professor with two "f's" and I don't know which one to cross out.

James Dodson: Smitty, I bet you came from a burg where all the hicks gather at the post office for their mail!

Junior Smith: What post office?

Hugh White: It's to be a battle of wits.

Bob Clement: How brave of you to go unarmed!

Doctor: If you want to get thin you must eat only fruit, toast, and lean meat; and drink orange juice.

Clara Roberson: Before or after meals?

John Llewellyn: My shirt is just like yours.

John Spencer: Nope. Mine's clean.

Then there was the young lady who had water on the knee, so the doctor told her to wear pumps.

A skunk sat on a stump. The skunk thunk the stump stunk, and the stump thunk the skunk stunk.

Hints to the Seniors Concerning the Uses of Their Diploma

- I. Use for a (backing) sheet on your typewriter.
- II. Have it made into a lampshade—more fun watching people try to read it.
- III. Cut it into little irregular pieces. Makes a swell Jig-saw puzzle for the kiddies around home.
- IV. Put it under the tablecloth, at the place where your hot cocoa usually stands.
- V. Crease it down the middle; fold each front corner over to the center; do this a second time; then, double it together; fold back each wing;—and you have a wonderful glider.
- VI. If you ever go abroad, draw a picture of George Washington in one corner, and pass it off as a hundred dollar bill.
- VII. Frame it and lay it carefully face downward in the bottom of your trunk.

Of course it is generally understood that a high school diploma and a dime will buy two ice cream cones.

BILL KING IN DEEP THOUGHT

WINNAH

Keyhole Kolumn

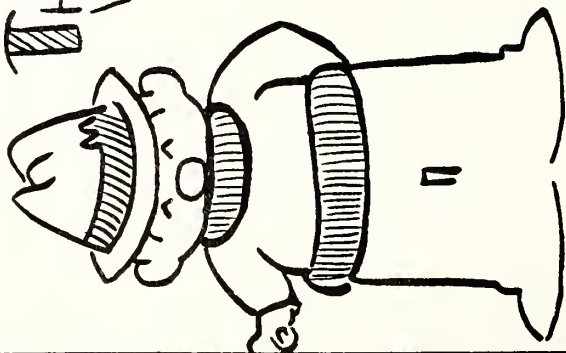

It may be true (but we doubt it) that Betty Pollard is outspoken, but I've yet to see anyone who can out speak her. . . . Burning a steak doesn't unnerve Loula Southgate even one little bit (in fact two bits, and I don't mean government currency). She just puts Ungentine on it. (Not an advertisement). We are told, as only we can be told, that John Rogers refuses to write his name in his text books for fear of killing the resale value. . . . And this reminds us of the dear old proverb that goes something like this, "A rolling stone keeps the doctor away where the flying fishes play on the stern and rockbound coasts." . . . "So you can't take it," said pugilist Willie Mize as he tried to pass a lead nickle off on Mrs. Swindell. What is the manly art of self defense coming to? Nice weather, isn't it, were having? . . .

When Mrs. Gilliatt reprimanded Bill King for beating his feet on the floor with those gunboats of his (you should see mine) Bill explained that he had a very active case of athlete's foot. . . . Mr. Holton (History of America by Fish) told Charlie Noell his paper reminded him of the founding of Quebec, and he explained, "built on a bluff." "I'm from Missouri," mumbles Charlie. Time marches on! . . . Was it Ned McAllister that handed his new girl a box of candy shyly saying, "Sweets for the sweet," and immediately received a bag of nuts in return? Was you dere Sharlie? . . . Tom Borland says that the old saying "Love is blind" is all right but what bothers him is that the chaperone isn't. Oh well! A bird in the hand gathers no moss. . . . When Marvin Culbreth was asked if he wanted a close shave he came out of the daze (school daze) long enough to reply, "No, stand off as far as possible." . . . After much search and research, I found that Clara Roberson has been trying her best to lose weight; but she has finally given it up after concluding that she was just another "Poor loser." . . . I asked "Dinky" Young to lend me his pen and he wanted to know what securities I had. Don't make the social mistake of laughing at that. It wasn't funny. Aren't we all? (Except me). . . . I merely asked Lynwood Baldwin how to avoid falling hair and he told me just to step out of the way. Tsk! Tsk! . . . All the freshmen who want to hide for any reason or none will find that no one will notice them if they lie down in the grass . . . provided the grass is also green. . . .

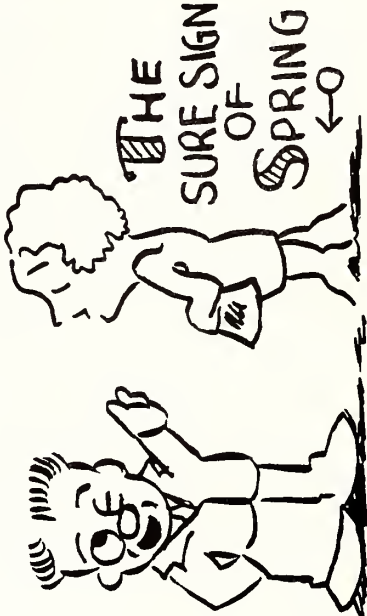

I reckon you are thinking as the man whose car rolled off the cliff said, "That will be enough from you!" . . . Period
